TAR DROPS

Cotton sold for 29 3/4 cents a pound in Louisburg yesterday.

Constable J. E. Thomas requests us to state that he has a lot of garden and flower seed for distribution.

We wish to say that everybody here greatly enjoyed the concert by the Oxford Orphanage Singing Class and feel that Thomasville will never let a year go by without having them with us.—Charity & Children.

Friends of Mr. J. Cade Hayes, of High Point, a former townsman, who were distressed to learn that he had suffered a rather serious accident in falling down an elevator shaft, will be glad to hear that his injuries proved to be nothing more serious than a severe strain of the ankle ligaments, and that he is now able to get about on crutches.

In Memory of Mrs. Joe Phelps

On February 8, 1923 the death angel visited the home of Mr. Joe Phelps and took from him his beloved wife. She was 75 years of age and was a faithful member of the Methodist church at Trinity.

She was loved by all who knew her, and was a kind and loving wife, and mother. She will be greatly missed in her home and by many friends and loved ones. She is gone but not forgotten, sleeping only sleeping with Jesus. She was ill for several days and bore her sickness faithfully until God saw fit to take her home to live with him. All was done for her that loving hands could do, but God knew best and called her from this world of toil into a land of rest.

She had made her home with her son, Nick Phelps just a few months before her death. She leaves to mourn their loss a husband, six sons and one daughter, Mrs. J. D. Winfree, of Louisburg, Tommie of Virginia, Sillus of Mapleville, Nick and Junnie of Louisburg, Bennie of Clayton, Ollie of Atlanta, Ga. Thirty-three grand children, seven great grand-children.

Friends gathered at the family burying place to pay their last respects to her. Services were conducted by Rev. Mack Stamps. The pallbearers were the grand children.

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Church

On Monday afternoon of last week the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Paul's church met with Mrs. Malcolm McKline, with a large attendance.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. M. S. Clifton, the Devotional service was led by Mrs. L. E. Scoggin.

Business discussion and completion of plans for the orphan box followed. Mrs. Yarborough then read the Minutes of the last meeting and opened the lesson by relating the Causes of the Decline of the English church in the 13th century, naming chiefly, Secularism, which had become the fashion at that time.

Mrs. W. H. Yarborough took up the interesting period of John Wesley's Mission, called the Methodist Revival. She dwelt, too, upon the earnestness of George Whitefield's preaching at that time.

Mrs. Adams then told very interestingly the result of the preaching of these two consecrated men.

The Auxiliary adjourned to meet again the following Monday afternoon.
