Broadway Has a Virginia Rappe Case

Two bankers and other suitors figure in the death mystery of Mrs. Frances "Bobby" Beckwith (above) who died after a New York "gin-party" from injuries similar to those which caused the death of Virginia Rappe (inset) of Arbuckle case notoriety.

ABOUT SIGNBOARD ON STATE HIGHWAY

Chairman Frank Page Explains the Status Quo

Regarding the article appearing in the public Ledger and other papers of the State recently referring to the along the state highways by the state highway commission, and the reported order for their immediate removal, Chairman Frank Page, of the State Highway Commission, writes:

"A recent law permits the state highway commission to regulate the use of signboards upon the right-of-way and adjacent to the right-of-way of the public highways.

"There has not as yet been any rules made governing the use of the public highways for advertising purposes. We feel confident, however, that no advertising signs will be allowed to be placed on the right-of-way of the highways, within twenty-five feet on either side of the center of the road; nor will any signs be allowed to remain even outside of this distance that obstruct the vision of the traveler, so that it will make it dangerous at the intersection of curves, thereby preventing one traveler from seeing another traveler approach."—Public Ledger.

Orphans at Bunn

The Singing Class of Oxford Orphanage will give a concert in Bunn School Auditorium on April 7th at 8 o'clock. This Class has won an enviable reputation for giving concerts of a high character—concerts that are both entertaining and uplifting. We are publishing below some comments on the concerts given by this Class from which it appears that it is quite up to the high standard heretofore established and we believe that all who can attend can be assured of a pleasant and profitable evening.
