TAR DROPS

Cotton sold for 29 cents a pound in Louisburg yesterday.

Let everybody take a day off next Friday and come in and enjoy County Commencement.

Quite a large number of our people went over to Wake Forest Saturday to witness the game of ball between Wake Forest College and A. & E. College. Jim Allen pitched A. & E. to victory by the score of 5-0.

The cold snap Monday was a very unwelcome guest.

The contractor has completed the concrete floor in the O. Y. Yarboro stables, that will be used by Beck's Garage.

Born Saturday, April 8th to Rev. and Mrs. M. G. McFarland, a son, Daniel Miles McFarland. Mrs. McFarland is at the home of her parents Dr. and Mrs. D. T. Simthwick.

Y. W. A. Meeting

The Young Woman's Auxiliary of the Louisburg Baptist church met with Miss Eleanor Collie, Tuesday night, April 10th. The roll was called, and the minutes of the previous meeting read and approved, after which the following program was rendered:

Hymn—Let the Lower Lights Be Burning.
Prayer—by Mrs. J. A. McIver.
Scripture lesson, Matthew 5—by Mrs. Upchurch.

Prayer—by Mrs. J. S. Howell.
Following came the study hour for our home mission study "Old Trails and New." The study and quiz on lesson was conducted by Mrs. J. O. Newell.

Report of North Carolina Annual W. M. U. Convention—by Virginia Perry.
Closing prayer—by Mrs. J. O. Newell.

After the meeting delicious refreshments were served.

The following were present: Mesdames J. O. Newell, F. B. Leonard, J. S. Howell, Fred Frazier, Upchurch, J. A. McIver, Misses Jewel Clark, Victoria Adcock, Eleanor Collie, Virginia Perry, May Cooper, Lily Edwards, Emma Bartholomew, Nannie Hall Hale, Elizabeth Matthews, Vivian Jones, Bessie Lancaster, Mrs. L. L. Whitaker.

If allowed to roam at will, chickens soon learn that a good garden is a regular pie counter. Fence them out and save the pie for yourself suggests C. R. Hudson, State Farm Demonstration Agent.

SO ON, FOREVER

THE ancient Egyptians 7000 years ago wove linen that was practically the same as the finest cambric handkerchief of today. The same Egyptians had mastered the art of furniture making, combining the maximum of slenderness with the maximum of strength. They were wonderful jewelers and workers in glass. They had instruments for measuring time and temperature.

So says Prof. Flinders Petrie, famous English archaeologist. After all, life is about the same in one generation as another. We do much the same things over and over, merely changing the equipment.

Flour is flour, whether it is made in an electric or modern mill or ground by hand between two stones. Destinations are the same, whether travel is by airplane, boat, steam railroad, ships or by foot.

Admittedly, we do things faster than the ancients. But in the long run, actual accomplishments are unchangeable. Century after century, men and women pursue the same fundamental tasks—getting enough to eat, providing clothing, gathering fuel for warmth, building shelter and raising children.

The play goes on forever. The scenery changes, also the costumes of the actors, but the plot never changes.

It is a good thing to place emphasis on all this, because the intricacies of our civilization are apt to be confusing, apt to bewilder us so that we forget the basic purposes of life.

Perhaps, bringing a rib roast of beef from the butcher shop, is merely duplicating the cave man dragging home a beast he killed with bow-and-arrow or stone ax.

The same old plot goes on forever, a new generation of actors coming on the stage as the older generation makes the final exit.

American Legion Auxiliary To Meet

The American Legion Auxiliary will meet Tuesday evening, April 17, at eight o'clock, in the Woman's Club Rooms.

MRS. J. W. MANN, Sec'y.

Spring time means home beautification time—a few vines and flowers planted now will make a vast difference this summer in the appearance of the house and yard, says home demonstration workers of the agricultural extension service.

CEAR ROCK HIGH SCHOOL

News Of Interest To Teachers, Pupils and The Public Generally

By School Correspondent

We regret to say that, owing to inefficient service in the postoffice department, our news has been getting in too late for press for the week that it was written, even when it was sent in by special delivery. We hope that this may be fortunate enough to be delivered in time.

Professor Rouse of the English department of Wake Forest College, gave a very interesting and forceful lecture on "Macbeth" one of Shakespeare's plays, in the high school auditorium Saturday evening. Sunday morning he preached a very interesting and helpful sermon on the subject "When a man comes to himself."

Misses Pauline Matthews and Sallie Hoggard, of Middlesex, were guests of Miss Lucille Insoce last week-end.

Misses Oma Bliss Lewis and Elma Lewter and Messrs. W. L. Harris and Boone Sykes motored to the Wake Forest-N. C. State baseball game at Wake Forest Saturday afternoon.

Several members of the Cedar Rock community attended the concert rendered by the Oxford Orphanage singing class at Castalia last Friday night.

Miss Lucy Tharrington spent the week-end visiting relatives in Henderson.

Miss Beulah Stallings spent last week-end with her mother in Bunn.

The commencement exercises of the school will begin on Thursday night, April 26, and extend through Tuesday night, May 1. Dr. W. L. Potent, President of Wake Forest College, will deliver the commencement address.

SOMEONE IS DUE FOR AN AWAKENING

There will be an operetta presented at the Cedar Rock High School building by members of Justice High School on next Friday evening, April 13, 8 p. m. Admission 15 and 25 cents.

Student Editorial—REGRET By Cornelia Boone, 11th Grade

There is not a word in the English tongue which signifies more than the word regret. It expresses every degree of pain in the sorrow from childish regret for a lost plaything to the remorse which, when the sands of life are almost run, contemplates a wasted life.

The most profound sorrow is not brought upon us by the word by its bitterness, its injustice or its persecution. These indeed affect us and make us wiser, weaker or braver.

Regret is the hearts sorrow for past offenses. Let us be tender to our friends while they are with us not wait until they are gone to find out their good qualities. Let us be kind and gentle now, not wait for regret to tell us of duty undone.

The way of life is so full of occasions that call forth real regret that it would seem that there was little danger of manifesting regret where it was uncalled for and useless. But yet they are our daily occurrence. The person that has done the best he could, should not let that fact console him. And not give away to causeless regret and wish that he had done differently.

It is very easy to discover the mistakes of the past and it would be still easier to change if we could only go back over the past. But what we regret for what we have done in the should do is to learn by the lesson of the past. Regret is deep and hopeless with a crushing weight. There are so many today whose lives are shadowed by some great sorrow which is caused by regret.

To escape regret it is necessary to form the habit of doing your whole duty and avoiding impulsive actions. Think before you say a hasty or a cruel thing, for human life is so uncertain you never know when you will be taken from this earth and you will not have time to repent after it is too late. When life is nearly ended you will think of the past, wonder at your actions and sigh for the days of youth. They will not come to you again, therefore make the most of them now. Will you spare yourself many vain regrets? Then your closing days will be days of peace.
