

SAVE 13 1/2% on coal

TESTS have shown that over-coating an old frame house with Portland Cement stucco effects a saving of 13 1/2% on coal. Add to this the saving on painting expense and the continual little repairs that permanence eliminates.

Many old homes cannot be improved on for general appearance, general comfort. But permanence and upkeep saving can be added at small cost. Ask your building material dealer how.

Bloused Nightie

The newest night gown is bloused without sleeves and is open down the sides very nearly to the waist. At the waist it is bloused and tied with long narrow ribbons. Long pleats are another fashionable feature—and only lace, real lace if possible, should be used for the bodice band.

Kill Weevil Prospects, Recommendations and Cautions

Raleigh, N. C. April 10.—The report of the U. S. Department Agriculture on hibernation of boll weevil indicates that the spring emergence of weevils will be lighter than a year ago says Franklin Sherman, Chief in Entomology, North Carolina Extension Service, this he says suggests a good chance for those who use the cultural method to get a fair crop "set" before infestation reaches its height in late July and August. In the territory where this will be the second year or longer after first invasion, that is from the line through Salisbury, Raleigh, Wilson, Washington southward, the normal expectation is that the infestation will be decidedly heavier than in the territory to the north of this line which was invaded a year later. In the region north of the line the injury will more severe to the extent that those who estimate as to what will occur in future are to be taken with allowances.

The general recommendations made by Mr. Sherman is; that all cotton growers in the state should use good cultural methods to the utmost, and that in the region of expected heavy injury those who can should prepare to use the dust-method. If not possible to use it on all the cotton then it should be used on at least enough to gain experience on future years.

Those who cannot do this should at least attempt to gather and burn fallen squares until the middle or end of July. Publications on the dust-method can be had through county agents or by applying to Agricultural Extension Service at Raleigh. Mr. Sherman states that care and study should go with the dust method.

At Memphis in February Mr. Sherman states that an experienced committee of southern agricultural workers, in condensing advice as to poison recommendations:—(1) the dust method for reasonably productive lands, (2) "Florida Method" where proven applicable, but cautioned that work is necessary before general recommendation of it. They recommend further tests by State and Federal workers of the poisoned-molasses, but said it had not yet sufficient proof to warrant recommending for general use. Mr. Sherman is now planning such tests for 1923. A recent news item from the U. S. Department Agriculture repeated the same outline of advice. Dr. A. M. Soule, President, Georgia Agricultural College, in a recent address at Wilson took the same stand. Mr. Sherman's suggestions on exactly the same line, is thus amply supported.
