Mr. R. C. Beck is moving his garage to the O. Y. Yarboro stable building on Nash Street.

The fire alarm Friday was evidently a misunderstood message as no fire could be found.

Cranford's Garage has leased the building formerly occupied by R. C. Beck and will open his garage as soon as Mr. Beck moves to his new location on Nash Street.

Junior-Senior Reception

The Juniors of Justice High School delightfully entertained the Seniors, faculty and a few friends on Saturday evening, April the seventh. On entering the school auditorium one was enchanted by the beautiful sight that met his gaze. Festoons of blue and white crepe paper hung from the ceiling and a booth on one side of the room was artistically decorated in blue and white. A large figure '24 was placed on a white screen at one side while the piano on another side enclosed a space wherein the guests were entertained. Miss Florine Hayman of the Freshmen class served punch to each arrival, after which we were entertained by games which the Juniors had planned for. Miss Sadie Stallings, as president of the Junior class, welcomed us in a very charming way. Her musical abilities were displayed to advantage at intervals during the evening.

Nabiscoes and ice cream, decorated with little white rabbits, were served. Those present declared it had been one of the most enjoyable occasions of the season.

Those enjoying the Junior's hospitality were: Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Sexton, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Lamm, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Wheless, Messrs. Zack Perry, Elijah Wheless, Ernest Hall, Arch W. H. Son, J. C. Bowden, Claude Moore, Clayton Edwards, and Misses Vera Burnette, Emma Hayes, Elizabeth Moore, Bettie Moore, Enola Carmean, Sadie Stallings, Florine Hayman, Gladys Wilder and Glennie Wilder.

CEDAR ROCK HIGH SCHOOLNews Of Interest To Teachers, Pupils and The Public Generally*By School Correspondent

The Junior B. Y. P. U. had its regular quarterly social last Saturday night in the High School auditorium. The dreary weather on the outside was quite a contrast to the high glee and laughter on the inside.

Miss Beulah Stallings spent last week-end with her parents at Bunn.

Miss Alma Pernell spent last week end with Miss Mattie Dement at her home in Centerville.

Miss Elizabeth Long spent the week end with Miss Bertha Dement, and the two young ladies accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Inscott Jr. motored to Raleigh to visit Miss Dement's parents.

Miss Anna Bliss Lewis, one of the High School teachers, spent the week end at Moulton with one of her pupils, Willie Bledsoe.

The Justice High School pupils gave an operetta at Cedar Rock on Monday night the sixteenth. The entire program was enjoyed immensely by those present but the special music before the operetta and the solo by Miss Meade made especial hits with the audience.

The Eighth grade, with Mr. T. H. Sledge as chaperone, went to Raleigh Tuesday on the school truck. Under the guiding hand of Col. Fred A. Olds they saw and enjoyed all the wonders of the capital of our state.

One of our teachers popularity seems to be increasing day by day, in every way, for on Monday afternoon

Miss Elna L. Lewter was out riding with the "woman-catcher", Mr. Joe Bachelor, of Castalia.

The annual sermon before the graduating class of Castalia High School was given on last Sunday night by Dr. Bryan of Wake Forest College. A large number of the Cedar Rock faculty and pupils were present. It reminded us of the few short days that we still have to work together.

On last Tuesday night Miss Lewis and Mr. W. L. Harris, two of the High School teachers, gave the pupils and teachers of the dormitory a delightful wine-and-roeast down on the big flat rock about one mile from the school building. After feasting and drinking for about two hours, they all sat around the camp fire, gypsy fashion and told jokes. About ten o'clock the camp fire was extinguished and party motored back to the dormitory.

Student Editorial—Politeness At Home

By Josie Boone, 11th grade
Politeness is a habit. He who is polite in society must render politeness at home. Why is not politeness as good for home as for other society?

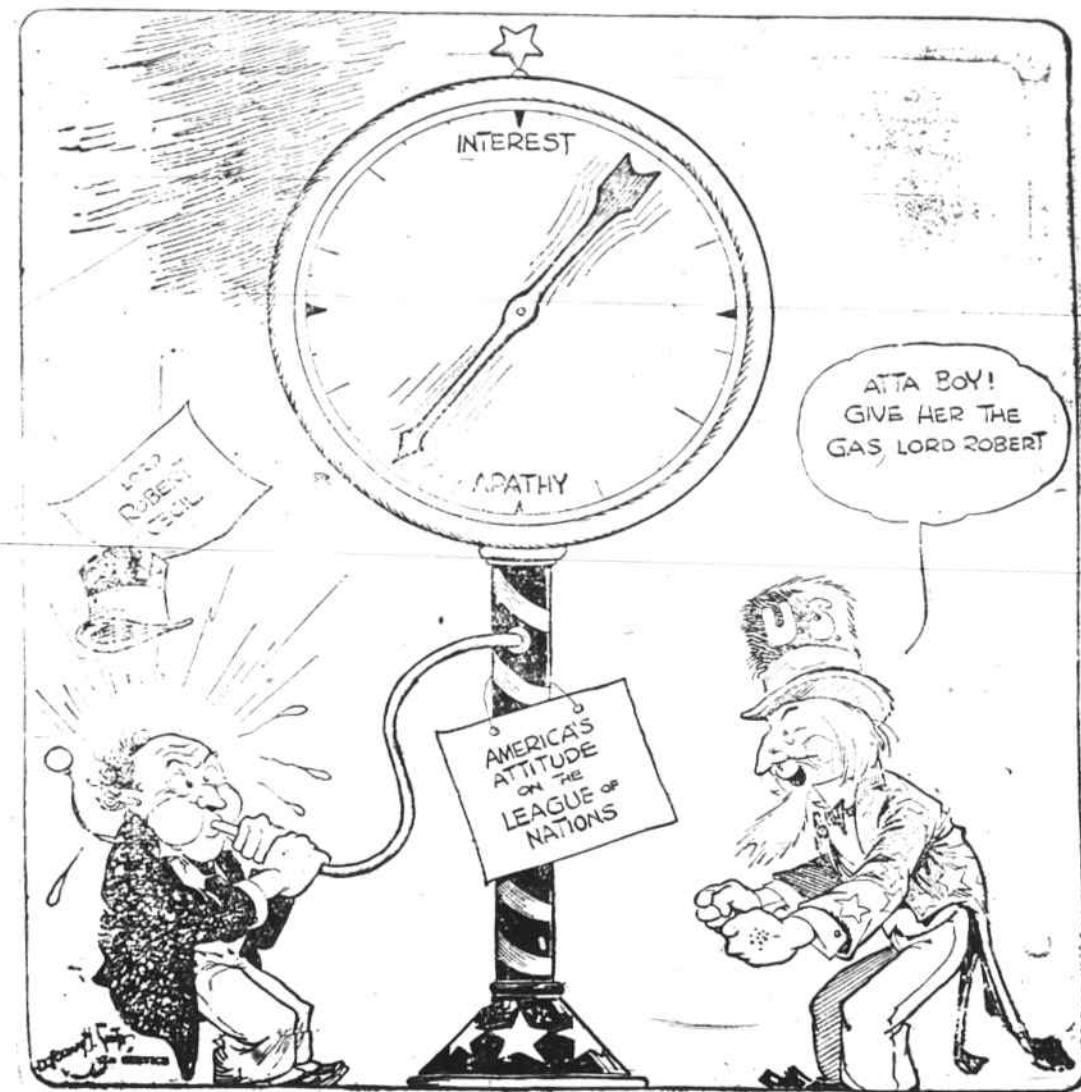

Many seem to think that gentleness and civility are only necessary in society more than the family. They take extra pains to be polite in company because it contributes to the enjoyments of all. Why will it not do the same at home? How pleasant is that home where rudeness is unknown and all is civic and polite!

One should be governed by the laws of politeness toward all members of one's family no less than in general society. First of all the Father should receive a degree of deference which is given no other. His opinions should be received with great respect and his advice with gratitude and attention.

The mother may be treated with more freedom, but certainly with more tenderness. Happy is the mother to whom her children render love, and be affectionate towards her.

In conversation at the fireside and at the table such subjects should be chosen as have some interest to mother and children. Never engage in finding fault of your neighbors and their character's before the children of your home. Some children are raised to hear other people talk about until they think there is nobody virtuous or honest. Now hold up the virtues of others and not the evil things they do.
