There was entertainment and in-struction for every one present. The address was unique in that Mr. Pittman stood hear the students to talk; he stimulated their interest and held their attertion by occasional ques-tions with replies from then.. So vividly did he portray the value of higher education and the importance of Ru-ral High Schools that not a discord-ant opinion was heard after the splen-did address was over.

After a most fitting tribute to our pioneer ancestors and their education. crude, as most of it was, Mr. Pittman stated in parallel that the child of to-day must be educated in order to take the proper place in the commercial and religious sphere that he is entitled to fill. The age demands universal education, it must come.

After the address diplomas were given to the pupils who had passed the county examinations. Those receiving Diplomas were, Miss Alice Hayes, Messrs. Clarence, Roy and Reubin Qupton, Claud Hayes, Clement Harper, Harold Garbee. These were presented by their teacher, Mrs. M. E. Williams

Next came the awarding of prizes and medals. Miss Lucy Brendlove being the fortunate contestant for the scholarship medal, while Miss Irma Gupton won the fountain pen for the most marked improvement in writing. These were presented by Rev. Charife Howard, pastor of Mt. Zion church, in a most appropriate manner.

Pupils receiving rewards in the dif-ferent grades for the largest number of head marks are as follows: Eu-gene Harper, sixth grade; Rachel Garbee, Blount Egerton, Ruffin Harper, fifth grade; Helen Parrish and Lucy Breedlove in the fourth grade; Thomas Speed in the fourth grade, Indianas Speed in the third; Maude Hayes in the second; Ellott Breedlove and Bruce Gupton in the first grade. # How To Stock The Farm Fish Pond

Raleigh, May 22—Indications are that many farmers in North Carolina are interesting themselves in having a farm fish pond from which they may secure a plentiful supply of this food for home use. Just recently A. Graves Thompson, who lives at Molver in Caswell County, wrote the Agricultural Extension service that he had a pond of about an acre in size that he wished to stock with food fish.

H. H. Brimley, Curator of the State Museum, answering the letter for the extension folks suggested that such a pond might well have two or three varieties of the best kind of perch which would be better than using black bass and perch. While many farmers will prefer bass as well as perch, the bass will clean out the smaller fish in a few years.

The best kind of perch as recommended by Mr. Brimley would be blue

THE FRANKLIN TIMES by im and crapple, both of which reach MISS McMILLAN'S a weight of one or two pounds. The crappie is generally known as white perch and in eastern Carolina as speckled perch.

Since the State Department of Agriculture does not supply fish for stock ing, Mr. Brimley suggested that small fry could be obtained from the United States Fisheries Commission at Washington, D. C. It is thought though that an easier and quicker way to tock a new pond would be to catch adult fish of the species mentioned in the ponds and streams nearby, using a small hook or a sein, handling the figh carefully and transporting them in large containers to the new pond.

Mr. Brimley suggests also that some of the common sunfish or chub robin ty of bushes allowed to grow around the edge of the pond so that insects upon which the small fish feed would be attracted to the place. All eels, catfish and terrapin should be excluded from the pond and flood water from land would supply plenty of fish for family use.

Co-operatives Win Virginia Decision

A complete victory before a Virginia jury gained new legal ground for the Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association Thursday, in its case against W. T. Martin, of Campbell county, when Judge Barksdale, pre-siding at Rustburg, ruled that the taking of defendant's tobacco by a sheriff on levy was no defense against his obligation to deliver to the association. Judge Barksdale also ruled that the defendant was liable to pay damages on such tobacco as was grown by his wife and minor children and delivered outside of the Co-operative Association in violation of his contract. The Jury rendered verdict for the association of $70, in liquidated damages, and $75 in counsels fees. Major W. T. Joyner, of Raleigh, N. C., represented the association.

Thursday's case was an important gain for the association in that it cstablished for the second time by a jury trial that the Tobacco Co-operahas prior claim to all the tobacco grown upon the lands of its mem-bers. This principle is further em-phasized incourt by the ruling of Judge Barksdale that not even the levy of a sheriff upon a member's tobacco can relieve him of the re-sponsibility of delivery to his associa tion according to contract.

come on now, its planting time, O. don't the earth smell good, When you open up her dorman lands, And this in her mellow mood.

There's enough of beauty in this scene To make a Nation shout; The glories of a world in tune, Should cancel fear and doubt.

Just there in sight across the fields, The verdant pastures lie, While o'er their sheath, the sunbeams dance, And seem to trail the sky.

BOSTON WOMAN RECOM-MENDING IT TO HER FRIENDS

Popular Boston Lady Says Prunitone Has Proven A Godsend to Her

is always interesting to listen to the statements of our friends, and especially when you know they are sincere and honest in what they say. Added interest is created in a state-ment coming mfrom one, who has spent a lifetime in Boston, where she well known socially.

Such a person is Annie Stewart. who resides in Boston and is posses-sed of the respect and confidence of her associates, and is willing for anyone to call on her to verify the following signed testimontal.

"I have suffered with stomach-trouble for the past seven years. It took the form of indigestion and dys-pepsia. I had dizzy spells and headaches, and after I ate a little food it would ferment and cause gas to form in my stomach. I had pains all over my body and was chronically consti-pated. My liver was torpid and I felt miserable. I had doctored and had been in the hospital, but received no permanent relief. I was so nervous and restless that at night I could scarce ly sleep. The gas, pressing under my heart, caused palpitation, and when I arose in the morning I was just as tired as when I retired. About two weeks ago I began to take Prunitone, and I can truthfully state that It has done wonders in my case. I am feeling like a new woman, and can eat any kind of food. I sleep the night through and have no more aches or pains; in fact, it has cured me, and I am recom-mending it to all my friends, as it has been a Godsend to me."
