TRUSTEES SALE OF LAND

By virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain deed of trust made on Dec. 1, 1914, by Charles C. Ayscue and wife, Ida Ayscue to Wm. H. Ruffin, Trustee, and recorded in Book 199 page 462, Registry of Franklin County, N. C., default having been made in the payment of the debt thereby secured, and demand for foreclosure having been made on said trustee, by the holder of said indebtedness, the undersigned will on MONDAY, JULY 23, 1923 at or about the hour of noon at the Courthouse door in Louisburg, N. C., offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder for cash the following described land: a certain tract of land, lying and being in Franklinton Township, Franklin County, North Carolina, and more particularly described as follows: Bounded on the West by the lands of T. J. Evans, on the North by the lands of J. K. Wright on the East by the lands of the Estate of Norman Long, dec., and on the South by the lands of Murray and Grissom, containing 150 acres, more or less, and being the land conveyed by Lucy C. Ball and Susan W. Ball to Charles C. Ayscue by deed recorded in the Registry of Franklin County in Book 158 page 592, reference to which is hereby made for fuller description of the same. But there is excepted, from this sale 38 3-10 acres sold to Mrs. Lottie Morton by deed duly recorded in the Registry of Franklin County in Book 199 page 490, reference to which is hereby made for full description of the land excepted. This June 19, 1923.

Don't forget that your copy of extension circular 137 telling how to dust cotton for control of the boll weevil is waiting for you to write to the Editor, Extension Service, Raleigh and ask for it.

In the absence of skim milk or buttermilk, either fish meal or tankage is as necessary to the growth of the pig as nitrogen is to corn or cotton, says W. W. Shay, swine extension worker.

Permanent pastures need to be clipped to induce new growth and to prevent weeds from maturing seeds, say extension workers of the State College.
