A poor colored woman had been robbed and when she came into court the judge asked her to explain all the circumstances attending the bold hold up.
 "Well, Judge," she said, "it was jest like dis. On dat perticklar day, they was a parade on de street. I was leanin' out my winder watchin' 'em goin' by, when dis buck sneaks up behin' me, an' slams de winder down on my neck an' robs me."
 "Do you mean to tell this court that with a big parade going by your window and all the people on the street watching it, you let this man rob you without yelling?"
 The colored woman said:
 "Shure I could a-hollered, Judge, dat's de helluvut—but did you think I wanted a Ku Klux Klan parade to think I was cheerin' 'em?"

THEY GENERALLY LEAVE WIDOWS WHO BECOME STRONG

Husbands who neglect their health generally leave widows who become strong from hard work. Health can be maintained without a break by keeping the spine in alignment through regular visits to the chiropractor. Health isn't something to be cared for only when it disappears. It should be given care that it may not disappear at all.
 The spine is the foundation of health. To keep it in alignment prevents disease. When spinal joints become displaced from bad habits of sitting, standing, walking or from any habit of posture than is abnormal, the displacement causes pressure on spinal nerves. The organs and tissues thus robbed of normal mental impulses that would otherwise travel nerve lines, become weakened and diseased.
