From the number of names suggested as Trustees for Louisburg Graded School it looks as if the people of the district ought to be able to select a satisfactory Board.

A citizen suggests the following as a Board of Trustees for Louisburg Graded School: J. P. Timberlake, A. W. Alston, F. H. Allen, J. M. Allen, D. F. McKinne, J. R. Williams, W. M. Person. Another list has been suggested as follows: M. S. Clifton, R. P. Taylor, W. H. Yarborough, W. H. Ruffin, Mrs. D. G. Pearce, Mrs. W. E. White, Mrs. Ben T. Holden.

If the business men of Louisburg will put the same co-operation behind some manufacturing enterprise for Louisburg, that they have for the tobacco market, they can be an equal success.

The people of Oklahoma put their seal of disapproval of Governor Walton in his efforts to control by force, in an election Tuesday when they instructed their Legislature to meet and review the Governor's acts by a vote of practically 6 to 1.

It is high time that the people of Louisburg Graded School District are looking around for people who will make satisfactory Trustees to them. The old system of a self-perpetuating board has been done away with and the responsibility of selecting good business men for the place has been placed upon you. Don't let personalities influence you, but select the ones that in your best judgment will give the best opportunities to your children.

The church at Wood is to be congratulated upon the progressive spirit in which its Baptist Sunday school is being conducted under the leadership of Dr. Beam and his efficient corps of assistants. They are giving us an example of what a people may do when they join hands and hearts in a united effort to give their community their best service. It was a privilege to be with these good people last Sunday. After the special program, Supt. of Public Instruction Best presented to Dr. Beam in appropriate words a handsome gold watch and chain as an expression of appreciation and esteem on the part of the Sunday school. Excerpts of Sermon Preached at Wood Baptist Church, Sept. 30, by Elder C. L. Dowell

Morning subject: Cooperation or Ways of Helping the Church; text, Neh. 4, "So we built the wall, . . . for the people had a mind to work." God has a plan and a place for each one in the work of the Kingdom. Happy is the man who finds his place and does his part in building its walls. First, is the part of parents. They handle plastic material. They are responsible for child training. They cannot ignore, avoid, evade or shift this responsibility upon other shoulders. Next, the S. S. teacher and the public school teachers have their part. Chosen for their literary attainments, for their integrity and for their ability to impart instruction and guide the young, they may stimulate noble ambitions, set the standard for ideals and keep worthy aims before the young. Then the children have a share in the work of churches. They may attend all services. They can encourage their teachers and preachers by giving attention and showing appreciation. They may brighten by their presence and cheer us by songs. So every one may help by keeping before us the mission of the church: To serve God, to serve men, to keep them from drifting back into the world—this is mission. We may be loyal: attend its services, pray for its prosperity, bear our part of its expenses and add to its numbers by leading souls to the Master. We build fences to keep things in or out. So we must build walls about Zion. Who would not have a part in this great work?

Evening sermon: 1 Cor. 16:22, "If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be Anathema Maranatha." The text probably alludes to Jewish excommunications. There were three degrees. First, the offender was turned out of the synagogue. In the second, he was excommunicated and anathematized. In the last degree he was turned out, cursed and consigned to the judgment of the great day as incorrigible. Now the Apostle says: "If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ let him be Anathema Maranatha." The justice of the sentence will appear if we consider:

1. That the Lord Jesus Christ is infinitely worthy the love of all men in character, spirit and service he is pre-eminent. "He is before all."
2. If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ he is an enemy of God. Jesus is God's friend. All authority has been committed to him: "He must reign till he hath put all enemies under his feet."
3. If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ, he is an enemy of the race

Jesus is the best friend of this race and every race. He is the friend of humanity. He who honors not the Son does not honor God or his creatures. Such a character does not appreciate the character, authority or mercy of God's redemption.

4. Finally, if any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ he is an enemy to himself. We sometimes say of a man, "He is his worst enemy." He who loves not the Lord Jesus Christ is a spiritual suicide. Heaven, earth and hell will approve the sentence as just: "If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be Anathema Maranatha."
