Gov. Walton, of Oklahoma, was impeached Monday by a unanimous vote of the Senate.

Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, has entered the ring for the nomination for President against Coolidge.

Report from Paris show that France and England have settled their differences and the entente has been saved.

Attorney General Manning has ruled that Dr. McBrayer's appeal stays his dismissal until it can be heard by the Supreme Court.

James Hannibal Clancy, an attorney of Detroit, among other things stated recently that the present legal system in use in the United States is responsible for lynchings. In this particular we believe he is very nearly right.

Dr. Cook, the former arctic explorer has been sentenced to fourteen years in prison and a fine of $12,000.00 for the use of the United States mail to defraud in the promotion of oil stock schemes, according to dispatches. Its good that there is some way to stop fraudulent practices.

Judge N. A. Sinclair directed that Dr. McBrayer pay a fine of $50.00 and immediately vacate himself from the office of Superintendent of the State Sanatorium, for having traded with himself. Gov. Morrison informs the Board of Trustees that they would be openly violating the law if they did not meet and relieve Dr. McBrayer of his duties and a meeting has been called for Wednesday. Dr. McBrayer took an appeal from the judgment of the Court.

MRS. S. C. VANN OF FRANKLINTON GONE TO HER REWARD

After three weeks' illness Mrs. S. C. Vann died at her home in Franklinton, N. C., last Saturday, November 10. She was 65 years of age. The funeral services were held Monday afternoon at four o'clock in the Methodist church of which Mrs. Vann was a devoted member. Three of her former pastors, Rev. R. F. Bumpas of Raleigh, Rev. N. H. D. Wilson of Elizabeth City, Rev. J. H. Shore of Rockingham, and her friend, Rev. W. W. Staley, pastor of the Christian church, came to the funeral. Her pastor, Rev. O. W. Dowd, had direction of the simple service, which was in accordance with her taste and desire. Only one song, "How Firm a Foundation," was sung. Rev. N. H. D. Wilson offered prayer and Rev. J. H. Shore read a scripture lesson, after which the interment was in the family burying ground in the cemetery.

Mrs. Vann was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Henley of Franklinton. She leaves her husband, Mr. S. C. Vann, one son, Mr. A. H. Vann, and two daughters, Mrs. J. A. Moore, of Rosemary and Miss Eleanor Vann of Franklinton.

Mrs. Vann was a quiet, unpretentious woman whose life was filled with good deeds. It is said that for more than 25 years she had been superintendent of the primary department of the Sunday school, kept a record of birth, baptism and reception into the church of all the children of her department. Whenever any of her Sunday school children joined the church she presented them with a Bible. This is mentioned as an instance of her interest and care in all the affairs of the church.

"When her husband became rich," says one, "the only difference it made in her life was that it enabled her to be more generous in her ministry and gifts to those who were sick or in need. She did not wait for calls upon her heart and purse. She sought out those to whom she could minister. In her last days she left requests to her husband and children to carry on help to certain of her former friends to whom she had been almoner. In life she gave her gentle sympathy with her gifts and the love of all was because of grace and loving spirit rather than because of her abundant generosity."

Tobacco Growers Association Adds Many New Names—Legal Department Active

(S. D. Frisell)
 More than two thousand new members have joined the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association since the markets opened in South Carolina last August, according to the latest figures from Raleigh headquarters. South Carolina leads in total of new members with 828 for this period, compared with 719 new members in North Carolina and 697 in Virginia. Reports from counties sending in new contracts indicate that these new members come from among those growers who last year were advised to "wait and see" have finally had enough of the old "dumping" system. Last week the growers association received 7,791,155 pounds of bright tobacco and deliveries are expected to jump this week with the opening of all the dark and sun-cured receiving stations in Virginia.

The legal department of the association reports favorable decisions in 40 out of 43 cases in three North Carolina courts last week, and states that the three cases lost are being appealed to the North Carolina Supreme Court.

What is considered by association attorneys as an important case was heard before Judge W. A. Devin at Oxford on November 19, where, in the proceedings against W. R. Crumpton, the mortgage holder George E. Harris of Person county was restrained by injunction from taking tobacco under claim and delivery. This case was handled by Cooper A. Hall of Roxboro, North Carolina.

STORAGE BATTERY EXPERT GIVES COURSE ON SUBJECT

C. J. Strickland of Norfolk, With Local Concerns, To Instruct 30-Day Class.

C. J. Strickland, of Norfolk, Va., storage battery expert who has recently taken charge of the battery department of the Queen City Storage Battery Company, 35 West First Street, is conducting a class in this branch of the work in the new lecture room of the establishment with which he is connected. He gave his first lecture last Thursday night, telling of the history of the storage battery, the part it played in the world war and of the work it does in the world today.

The course of instruction being given by Mr. Strickland is to last 30 days, with three lectures each week, occurring on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights.

Mr. Strickland is a graduate of the Sweeney Automotive school of Kansas City, Mo., and has been connected with many of the large manufacturers of storage batteries in the United States. He is the author of a book on the care and operation of the storage battery.—Charlotte Observer.

MISS TAYLOR ENTERTAINS

On Wednesday evening, November 14th, Miss Sallie Taylor entertained the members of the Wednesday Evening Bridge Club.

The three tables were arranged in the living room which was decorated with a profusion of potted plants and cut flowers. Auction Bridge was played until ten o'clock when Miss Taylor assisted by Mrs. Henry, served her guests a delicious salad course and chocolate fudge. Mrs. Frank Rose held top score for the evening.

Fall planting of trees and shrubs is preferred to spring planting because the wounds heal over and a few new roots are produced so that the plants are ready to grow in the spring say horticultural workers of the State College and Department.

Grain and grass must precede dairy ink.

In September a total of 3,761 herds comprised of 9,361 head of cattle were tested for tuberculosis in North Carolina by workers of the State College and Department of Agriculture. Seventy reactors and six suspects were located.

THE NATIONAL ANTHEM

The following stanzas, composed by the poet-laureate of the Boston Transcript, are to be sung to the tune of "The Star Spangled Banner."
 Oh say, don't you wish that some one would write
 A singable tune to our national anthem.
 For the sentiment's good and the words are all right.
 But merely the tune is sufficient to can them.

For it sinks in the bass
 And it soars into space
 And no-one can ever keep up with its pace.
 'Tis "The Star-Spangled Banner" that wonderful thing
 That everyone loves, but that no-one can sing.

Oh, it sounds well enough when its played by a band,
 To make all Americans love and revere it,
 And to make all the loyal ones instantly stand
 Whenever it happens to play and they hear it.

But my voice is so weak,
 When I try for the peak
 I quaver and tremble and end in a squeak.
 'Tis "The Star-Spangled Banner" that wonderful thing
 That everyone loves, but that no-one can sing.

"A hen in the hen house is worth two in the tree top."

Club members of Catawba County won over $1,800 this fall with poultry shown at four fairs under the supervision of County Agent J. W. Hendricks. About 80 club members showed 43 varieties of poultry.

Fertilizer manufacturers will offer standard mixtures of materials approved by experiment station agronomists this next season. The workers of the State College and Department hope to eliminate the great number of useless brands now being offered. This will reduce the expense of manufacture and the resulting cost to the farmer.

Tom Tarheel says: The farmers of this State have caught the spirit of the new North Carolina. Henceforth, they will be torch bearers in the pageant of progress.
