MEREDITH GLEE CLUB

One of the finest performances of the season was given in the Graded School auditorium Tuesday evening, March 25th, by Meredith College Glee Club. Seventeen young ladies sang during the evening and the numbers given were of the choicest selection.
They brought splendid talent with them and showed the result of the most careful training. It was indeed a rare treat for those who love good music. The ease of manner and simplicity of dress showed the club to a decided advantage and Meredith College is to be commended upon the high tone of this excellent program. It was greeted by a crowd of enthusias-tic hearers, who received them with much applause. Misses Holoman, Patton, Harville and White's solos were especially attractive and they were enchored for a second and third num.

Miss Ruth Goldsmith, a member of the Music faculty of the College, ac-companied them and proved a skilled musician, she being a recent graduate of Meredith and showing such ability as to be selected an instructor there. The Graded School and Jouisburg were very fortunate to have this company of young ladies in their midst, and we hope they'll return another season. Among those singles was Miss Annie Harris, a Louisburg High School graduate, who is continuing at Meredith, the splendid record made here and whom Louisburg was groud to welcome as a member of the Glee Club returning to her Alma Mater.

After the concert the Glee Club was delightfully banqueted by Miss Annie Harris, at the home of her aunt, Mrs. S. T. Wilder.

OPERETTA BY THE LOUISBURG COLLEGE GLEE CLUB

The Louisburg College Glee Club scored a great triumph when on Tuesday evening, March 18th, under the direction of Mrs. A. W. Mohn they gave their operetta, "The Gypsy Rover,"

The oventure was played while a large group of gypsies lay asleep on beds of leaves in a camp. A tripod under which fagots were afiame added greatly to the reality of the scene, while the brilliant costumes, spangles tambourines and castarets lent gypsy flavor to the decorative scheme.

Ora Holden as Sinfo and Belvin dred—
Finch as Marto brought much merri erton.

Ment to the Hobbers song and skit.

Lois Craviley as Meg, the old Gypsy mother, gave us a rivid characterization. Eleanor Edwards, as Zara the Relle of the camp in her love affers.

Belle of the camp, in her love affairs with Sinfo was most bewitching. The little scene between Nina and Capt. Jerome was delicatery handled by Frances Carter and Anna Shaw. Lord Craven, the comedy character of the Gyper Royer, was thoroughly enjoyable as sustained by Mildred Waters, with his characteristic, "Donche Know!"

Mary Lee Starling in the character of Sir George Martendale, an English country gentleman, was father of Lady Constance, the heroine.

Lady Constance was delightfully handled by Katie Richardson, whose platform presence and inherent naturalness lent themselves to a grace of movement in addition to a voice, mellow and clear even under the difficulty of alling the large systems.

ficulty of filling the large auditorium.

Bettie Holden in the title role of Rob, the Gypsy Rover, dashing and gay in the gypsies camp was none the less polished gentleman of English Society. Her strong, full voice linked with a self posession and spirit of pep made possible a most delightful

Together with Rob, Ora Holden as Sinfo gave us several duets of fine quality, each voice complementing the other most favorably.

The enseble work of the opera was dmirable, and the s ited song proved the enthusiastic ef. fort and training of student and direc-
