

This is the first of a series of heart-to-heart talks. Come in and talk over with us the question of Boll Weevil Control.

YOUR DUTY AS A CITIZEN

Throughout the entire South men and women have banded together to fight the Boll Weevil. Business men of every type are just as much interested as cotton planters. All of our wealth may be betrayed to the soil and we all know that when crops are successful business flourishes.

It is your personal duty to work for the best interest of the Boll Weevil Control Movement, for the reward of a unity of effort will be prosperity for everybody—especially ourselves in the South!

This bank is distributing a series of leaflets that tell how we can control the boll weevil. They are based upon actual experience. We will gladly give them to you free of charge. We want you to receive each leaflet as it is distributed.

Leaflet No. 1—"The Boll Weevil Can Be Controlled."

This deals with the several stages and processes of control. It is so simply written a child can understand it. It shows the necessity of controlling the weevil in its early stages. Come in today—whether you are a customer of this bank or not—your leaflet is waiting for you.

CHEAPER than 30 years ago

One reason concrete is used so generally today in all types of construction from sidewalks to highways, from garages to enormous industrial plants, is the fact that Portland Cement actually costs less than it did thirty years ago.

The Atlas rotary kiln, daily producing as much as the old-time kiln did in one month, was the greatest single factor in assuring this cheapness.

And your building material dealer, the only distributing channel between Atlas and you, assures distribution economy. He knows building and building materials. He can help you.

WILL PUSH LIVE-AT-HOME MOVEMENT.

Raleigh, March 24.—According to an announcement made by Gilbert Stephenson, Vice-President in charge of the Wachovia Bank and Trust Company branch at this city, his bank will donate $500 in prizes to further the purpose of the "Live-at-Home" campaign in the twenty counties in which his bank operates. The bank offers a prize of $25 to the farmer in each of the following twenty counties who shows the most progress towards living at home during 1924, as told in an article of not over 500 words in length. The counties in which the farmers may enter the contest for this prize are Buncombe, Madison, Haywood, Forsyth, Yadkin, Surry, Stokes, Rockingham, Guilford, Davidson, Randolph, Rowan, Iredell, Cabarrus, Wake, Durham, Johnston, Franklin, Granville and Hertford.

Mr. Stephenson states that the prize is not necessarily awarded to the farmer who makes the highest grade in the ten things which he is asked to do by the Agricultural Extension Service of the State College and Department of Agriculture, but is to the one who makes the most progress towards "living at home." The story may be written by the farmer or by some one else for him. It will be submitted to three judges on or before December 1st, 1924. The winning story will be given to the local county paper for publication. Following this the twenty best stories (one from each county) will be submitted to a committee composed of Dr. Clarence Poe of the Progressive Farmer, Dean B. W. Kilgore of the State College, and Hon. W. A. Graham, Commissioner of Agriculture. The best story selected by this committee will be published by the Progressive Farmer. The twenty prizes of $25 each will be mailed to the winners on or before December 20 and will make a nice little Christmas present.

The purpose of this is to help promote the work done by the extension workers of the State College in making North Carolina a happier and more prosperous State.

Thinning and culling trees to be used for firewood and for curing tobacco instead of taking the trees as they come is a new plan of handling the farm woodlot in Iredell County.

SCHLOSS NEWS

We were very glad to get the news from Schloss in the TIMES last week. Schloss has at last come out of its winter sleep.

There has not been very much plowing done around the town as so much rain and snow has kept us indoors.

Our school will have its closing exercises Friday night, March 28th. The public is cordially invited.

We have heard of corn shuckings, and log rolling and cotton picking, and quilting parties, but Schloss has a new one to introduce and that is the wood sawing which is proving to be very beneficial to Mr. J. E. Tharrington.

Rev. E. C. Sexton filled his regular appointment at Mt. Grove the 3rd Sunday. Bro. Sexton is a very able preacher and a man of God.

Those who attended the wood sawing Saturday night at Mr. J. E. Tharrington's were Messrs. J. W. Smith, St. Peller Collier, Capt. Jack Collier, and Buddie Collier.

If this escapes the waste basket I will assure you that Jack Sparrow and Brown Eyes will keep you posted as to the news around Schloss town. Brown Eyes.

THE OLD HOME PAPER.

Sometimes the resident of a community does not value the home paper as highly as does the man or woman who has moved away. There is a short poem which though anonymous has been going the rounds of papers in other sections of the country for several years and explains the feeling of the reader who has moved away from home. We would like for every reader of the FRANKLIN TIMES to read this little message of appreciation. It follows:

It's printed old-fashioned and homely, Bearing name of a small country town With an unfeigned sneer at its wrapper queer,

The postman, in scorn, throws it down. But I scan every line that it offers. Each item brings something to view, Through the vista of years, through youth's pleasure and fears,

It serves their keen touch to renew. The death of the girl I once courted, The growth of a firm I once jeered, The rise of a friend I love to commend, The fall of a man I revered.

As I read I drift dreamily backward To the days when to live was a joy, I think and I pore, till the city's dull roar

Grows faint and again I'm a boy. Rare perfume of green country byways Fair music of flowers and bees, And the quaint little town with the streets leading down

To the creek and the low-bending trees. Around me the forms of my comrades, About us earth's glories unfurled, Each heart undefiled, with the faith of a child,

Looking forth to a place in the world, And the paper tells how all have prospered. I follow their lives as they flow, Applauding each gain and regretting each pain

For the sake of the days long ago. Above all the huge city dailies With ponderous utterance wise, This scant page hath power to spread for an hour

A fairyland sweet to my eyes!

When Miss Florence Jeffress, Home Agent of New Hanover County, returned to her work after an absence of several weeks due to an operation, she was presented with a new coupe by the county commissioners.
