North Carolina mourns the death of the widow of the late Gov. Zebulon Baird Vance.

Samuel Gompers, head of the American Federation of Labor, wants beer sold again. Don't guess he is by himself.

New York's bobbed hair bandit has been captured at Jacksonville, Fla., and returned to New York to answer a multiplicity of charges.

Again we call the attention of the Town Commissioners to the necessity of keeping the streets clear of parked cars in front of the post office.

Hon. W. M. Person informs the TIMES that he filed for the race for Congress against Hon. E. W. Pou. Mr. Person will no doubt make a pretty good run.

The jury in Philadelphia on Tuesday declared Harry K. Thaw sane and fully capable of looking after his estate after seven hours deliberation. Another miscarriage of Justice.

LOUISBURG VICTORY CLUB

Two years ago Judge Cordell Hull, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, had a wonderful vision of what must be done to bring Democratic victory in 1924. He knew we could carry the Nation in November of we made the right kind of fight, but to win on election day an effective organization would be necessary.

One day, when things looked darkest, a letter came from an old friend in the mountains of Tennessee which read as follows: "Dear Cordell: All of us down here are mighty proud to know you are Chairman of the National Committee, and we feel that we will elect a Democrat for President in 1924. I want you to take the enclosed $5 and use every cent of it if necessary. There are a lot more down here who will give $5 too if you need it."

Chairman Hull wired his old mountain friend: "Organize your neighbors into a Democratic Victory Club." In two weeks' time he received $95 from 19 other Democrats who contributed $5 each. That is how the "National Democratic Victory Club" idea originated.

Today there are Victory Clubs in thirty states. Each member pays $5 dues. The money is being used for a comprehensive campaign of education and organization throughout the country. It is the intention of the national headquarters to keep in touch with the Victory Club members, supplying them individually with up-to-date political facts and literature. Chairman Hull has other plans, not yet thoroughly worked out, by which he expects to cooperate with and use the organization. He believes that a Democrat can do his party no greater service than to join a Victory Club and make it possible for us to say truthfully that the party of the people is sustained by the people and not by privileged interests.

Major S. P. Boddie is President of the Victory Club in Louisburg and he invites all good Democrats who want to have a part in and invest as much as $5 in national Democratic victory to communicate with him. A partial membership list is given below. Later on the full roster of the organization will be given.

IN MEMORIAL ELLA COOKE INSCOE

Mrs. Ella Cooke Inscoe, the subject of this sketch, was born September 9, 1872. On that beautiful Sunday morning of March 30th, 1924, her pure spirit went up to mingle with the angels. Full of womanly graces and virtues, her life has been a benediction upon her community, and her influence for good will know no limits or boundaries until the Master shall have rolled away the mists of time, and eternally unfolds her secrets.

Mrs. Inscoe was the youngest of the three children of Mr. J. J. Cooke and Mrs. Leah Collins Cooke, the heads of a prominent family that lived near Castalia in the old days. She was the wife of Joseph T. Inscoe to whom she was happily married on November 15, 1893.

She was the mother of six children all of whom survive her. They are L. S. Inscoe, Co. Supt. of Schools, Nashville, N. C., E. E. Inscoe, with the G. E. Co., of Schenectady, New York, Miss Josie Lucile Inscoe, of the faculty of Middlesex High School, P. R. Inscoe, a young farmer of near Castalia, G. M. Inscoe, student of the Naval Academy of Annapolis, Md., and Joseph W. Inscoe, a high school pupil of Cedar Rock High School.

During her married life of 31 years, and from the time her first born first saw the light on a beautiful September morn of 1894, it was her ambition and prayer that her children should receive an education that they might become useful. With this end ever in view she labored many a weary day and made many a personal sacrifice that she might see this thing accomplished. She lived to see three of them graduate at college, two graduate at high school (and one of the two part of the way through college), and the youngest in high school. Besides this she lived to see three of her relatives' children (all of whom became orphans when small and made their home with her) finish their junior year in college.

Mrs. Inscoe's life was full of devotion, service, struggles and achievements—an inspiration to those who knew her.

The Master, when upon earth, once said, "I came to minister unto others, not to be ministered unto." This seemed to be the spirit of Mrs. Inscoe.

At an early age she professed religion and united with Cedar Rock Baptist church, and was active in the work of the Master.

In the walk of life she scattered seeds of sunshine and broke the alabaster vase of love upon the living, wearing in sunshine and in storm, a happy smile upon her face, and on her lips a cheery word of greeting for every one. Her heart was ever filled with pity for the suffering. To sum up her virtues, she lived for others.

As she lay in state, cold in the embrace of death, her friends and relatives came to gaze for the last time upon one they loved—the warm friend—the devoted mother—the loving and affectionate wife. Notwithstanding the Gethsemane of physical pain through which she must have passed during the two weeks in the grip of pneumonia, her smile, as she lay in her casket was like that of one who had caught a vision of that angelic throng which surrounds the throne of God. In the old family cemetery—that "City of the Dead"—her body rests. Flowers in rich profusion, jeweled with the tears of loved ones, lie upon her grave; but her soul lives amidst the prophetic splendor of an eternal dawn.

TOBACCO CO-OPS BENEFIT TRADE Cooperative Marketing Shows Gains For Both Producers and Manufacturers.

(S. D. Frissell)

The Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association has sold more than twenty-three million pounds of its re-dried tobacco of the 1922 and 1923 crops within the past thirty days according to the latest statement of Richard R. Patterson, manager of its leaf department. This demand for the association's tobaccos, according to Mr. Patterson, marks the increasing success of the organized farmers in selling their product to manufacturers and dealers and the satisfaction of the latter securing wholesale quantities of high grade products of guaranteed quality for uniform prices.

Proof that cooperative marketing of tobacco is beneficial to the manufacturers and dealers as well as the producers was contained in the recent report of nine leading American tobacco companies. This showed that after interest and depreciation charges and taxes were deducted, the aggregate net income of these companies was $70,321,423 compared with $69,085,187 in 1922. This showing is an increase of less than two per cent over aggregate profits in 1922 but represents an increase of fifteen per cent over 1921 and forty per cent over 1920.

Approximately fifty per cent of the total receipts of the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association from the 1923 crop have now been sold at satisfactory prices, but no immediate announcement of payments to association members is looked for until considerably more than half of the 1923 receipts have been sold. Only 3 1-2 million pounds of bright tobacco from the 1922 crop is now held by the association and the sale of this will later be followed by final statements to members of the association in the old belt and Eastern North Carolina which according to association's officials will be similar to those which are now being issued to the organized farmers of the South Carolina belt.

As shown by the individual statements now being handed out and mailed from the 42 receiving stations of the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association in the South Carolina belt, many individual averages for deliveries to the cooperative floors ran over forty dollars and in some cases beyond fifty dollars a hundred pounds. C. A. Singletary of Coward, S. C., made the highest average, including scrap and low grades. Mr. Singletary put into the association 2,102 pounds for which he received $1,111.33, an average of $52.87 per hundred pounds. A few of the other high averages made by members of the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association in the South Carolina belt are as follows:

W. W. Coleman, Pamlico, S. C., 438 pounds, average $52.64; A. B. Parker, Conway, S. C., 3,620 pounds, average $47.31; J. A. Carter, Leo, S. C., 4,908

RECEPTION OF MRS. GEO. V. TILLEY.

On Sunday morning, April 13, 1924, Mrs. Geo. V. Tilley presented her letter for membership in the Baptist Church at Hertford, N. C. and on motion she was unanimously received. At this juncture Dr. and Mrs. Tilley requested Mr. L. W. Norman to extend to the Church and Congregation their sincere thanks and express their high appreciation for the check of $100.00 and the many kindnesses and courtesies received on the occasion of their marriage from the good people of Hertford, especially since their arrival in the city. Mr. Norman stated that Mrs. Tilley was anxious to make this acknowledgement and present her church letter at the same time and on an earlier date, but for some cause she only received the letter very recently, notwithstanding the fact she requested her letter from the Louisburg church early after her arrival in Hertford. Perhaps the Louisburg church was loath to give up such a valuable member, and thus delayed the matter. If this surmise be correct, while rejoicing ourselves, we sympathize with the sister church of our faith.

From the viewpoint of the church Mr. Norman said Mrs. Tilley's idea was very reciprocal. She did not want to receive presents and courtesies without offering something in return, and in consideration of her splendid services, and the joy we now experience in having her as one of us, our gifts fade into insignificance. I therefore move that her acknowledgement be received with entire satisfaction and that we endeavor to show our appreciation and accord Mrs. Tilley a hearty welcome by a rising vote, whereupon the congregation arose en masse. Mr. Norman further writes that he could not resist temptation to pen the fact that Mrs. Tilley's conservation and talent have been recognized by the entire community. On Sunday evening, April 20, a musical program, in keeping with the season, was rendered by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Tilley to the largest congregation ever seen at the Church. We rejoice and congratulate the Hertford church in having such an excellent combination in Dr. and Mrs. Tilley. They have easily won the love and esteem of the good people of this community. Our congregation has gradually increased since Dr. Tilley came to Hertford about one year ago, especially since Dec. 29, 1923.

Mrs. Tilley's qualifications as an expert musician, both vocal and instrumental, adds very much to the attractiveness of our services and large crowds are eager to hear the strong

Gospel messages of Dr. Tilley as well as the splendid music rendered by Mrs. Tilley and her choir. Twenty-five or thirty members have been added to the church during the past year, and plans are now being made to remodel our church, adding about twenty commodious and modern Sunday School rooms. A handsome pipe organ and Baptistry will be installed. When completed our church property will be worth approximately one hundred thousand dollars.
