Mr. E. H. Malone Speaks On Kiwanis Spirit

Miss Katie Richardson Renders Two Excellent Musical Selections at Kiwanis Luncheon Friday Night.

The regular Friday evening luncheon of the Kiwanis Club the past week proved to be one of the most interesting yet held. The program was in charge of William D. Jackson and was both amusing and instructive.

Miss Katie Richardson, a student of Lousburg College, rendered beautifully two vocal solos "O Calina" and "When Apples Grow on the Lilac Trees." She was accompanied by Mrs. Mohn on the piano.

Edwin H. Malone was called on for the speech of the evening and responded in a beautiful illustration of the real Kiwanis Spirit. He illustrated his subject by a selection from Edward Bok in the life of a man who built over an island, transforming an heretofore barren and forsaken desert, into a place of beauty, and gave to his hearers the same entreaty of the characters of his picture to try to make the world more beautiful and a better place in which to live.

TOO BIG INCREASE IN TOBACCO COMING

(Washington Special) While demands for cigarette tobacco is increasing in this country and abroad the department of Agriculture has learned that thirty new counties in Georgia and a large area in other sections never before planted in tobacco will make it hazardous for the old producing states to plant a normal crop this year. Uncertainty of sustained prices is stressed by the department. A combined acreage of principle cigarette types, the department reports 4,169,000 acres last year and increased planting is indicated this year.

We wish to thank all the people for their kindness shown us since our house was burned. On last Saturday in Lousburg the Women's Clubs of the county gave a bounteous shower and were joined by many others. We will always remember this kindness but can never express our appreciations in words, however we sincerely thank you all. Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tharrington.

MR. RANSON TO VISIT LOUISBURG

The vocational rehabilitation of the crippled residents of this county, which has been carried on for some time with considerable success, will be given further advancement by the visit of Mr. Paul J. Ranson, Asst. Supervisor Vocational Rehabilitation on Tuesday, May 6th.

The fellow who is down and almost out because of his crippled condition is being offered a splendid opportunity to come back and once again take his place in the busy work-a-day world along side of his able bodied brother. The department of rehabilitation is maintained by matched federal and state funds to aid the handicapped residents of the state in fitting themselves for suitable remunerative employment in order that they may become useful, productive citizens.

The work of the department is illustrated by the case of Hattie Blackhall, a crippled woman who lives but a few miles from this city. When a baby, at the age of two years, she suffered from a severe illness which left her crippled in both of her lower limbs for life.

Unable to walk except with crutches or to do any work other than that of a sedentary nature, she was almost entirely dependent until assisted by the Department of Vocational Rehabilitation.

On November 24th she was sent to Wilson where she has been receiving training in dressmaking under Ada Winstead, Modiste. Just recently she completed her training in dressmaking and returned home, well qualified to earn a good living as a dressmaker.

Notwithstanding the present extent of the work here, there is still opportunity for the men, women, and children of wage earning age who are physically incapacitated by accident, disease, or congenital deformity to receive the assistance of this department. Vocational training, aid in securing prosthetic appliances and in finding suitable employment are among the services offered.

At 10:00 o'clock Tuesday morning, May 6th, Mr. Corpening will meet at the office of Mr. E. C. Perry, County Supt. of public welfare, in Lousburg, persons interested in securing the assistance of the department and also persons who have knowledge of others who may be benefited through the rehabilitation service.

ANNUAL COUNTY COMMENCEMENT

Franklin County Schools Held in Lousburg Friday—Mr. N. C. Newbold, of the State Education Department Principal Speaker.

The annual County Commencement of the colored schools of Franklin County was held in Lousburg on Friday, with quite a large crowd present and taking part in the exercises. Prof. Geo. C. Pollard, principal of the Lousburg Graded Schools reports the occasion as follows:

The parade began promptly at 10:30 a. m. headed by a brass band. With a large number of boys and girls in line. The exercises began with the welcome address by the President. In this address the President said many good things and complimented Supt. E. L. Best for his kindness toward the teachers and for his interest in the county school work. Response to the president's address was made by Dr. J. A. Savage in a few well chosen words. Next the remarks by Supt. E. L. Best concerning the colored teachers and their work was very encouraging.

In his remarks he said he always found the teachers ready and willing to carry out his wishes. We all feel that in Prof. Best we have one of the best and most loyal Superintendents in the State of North Carolina.

Next Mr. A. F. Johnson, who is chairman of the Board of Education, made a few remarks letting us know and feel his interest in us. We all feel proud of Mr. Johnson and the wonderful work he has accomplished. He really deserves every honor that his friends have given him. He introduced Mr. N. C. Newbold of the State department of education. Mr. Newbold has direct charge of the colored educational work in North Carolina. All were proud of the very fine address made by him. He said the State of North Carolina was spending over four million dollars a year on educating its colored people. We are proud of our State and its good white people. He also advised us to be neighborly and friendly to each other. We are teaching our boys and girls to take advantage of every opportunity before them. We want the colored boys and girls in Franklin County to realize and know that the white people are their friends. If they will behave, be honest, industrious and remain in their places. The conduct throughout the entire day was something to be proud of, which shows that the teachers are trying hard to do their duty along this line. We have a hard working loyal set of teachers in this county. The reading and spelling classes conducted by Mrs. Lillian Debnam and Dr. Savage proved to be very helpful to the boys and girls. Through the kindness of our good Supt. W. R. Mills the colored graded school took a very active part in trying to make the programme a success. We as (colored) teachers are proud to serve under such men as Supt. Best and Supt. Mills. We wish to thank all who took any part in trying to make the day just what it should be.

General Julian S. Carr Dies in Chicago

Chicago, April 29.—General Julian S. Carr, former Commander-in-Chief of the United Confederate Veterans, died at the home of his daughter about 10:15 o'clock tonight.

Julian S. Carr, while holding the rank of General in the Confederate Veterans organization, never was an officer in the Confederate army. He left his studies at the University of North Carolina when 16 years old to join the army of Northern Virginia and served throughout the war as a private in Hampton's Corps.

General Carr returned to North Carolina after the war and purchased for $4,000 a one-third interest in the Blackwell Durham Tobacco Company, manufacturers of smoking tobacco. He became financial manager of the business which finally was sold to the American Tobacco Company for several million dollars. His business interests were varied. He was president of the First National Bank of Durham and had part in the management of scores of other industries.

Although he never held political office, General Carr was a delegate-at-large to 14 Democratic National conventions. He declined the nomination for Governor in 1896 and received 14 votes for the vice presidential nomination at the Democratic National Convention in 1900. During the same year he was a candidate for United States Senator but withdrew in favor of Senator Furnifold M. Simmons.

General Carr gave freely of his time and money to educational and philanthropic causes, particularly to schools and colleges of his own State. Trinity College at Durham owes much of its growth to his influence.

It is said of General Carr that during the War with Spain he paid the bills for families of every Durham soldier who needed assistance. During the World War he was an assistant in the office of Herbert Hoover in administering the food conservation program.

General Carr was a conspicuous figure at Confederate reunions. He was made Major-General of the North Carolina division when the United Confederate Veterans Association was organized and held that office until the reunion of 1921 when he was elected commander-in-chief of the veterans, and served in that position for two terms.

General Carr was a son of John Wesley and Elizabeth Pannill Carr and was born at Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 12, 1845. He was married to Miss Nannie Graham Parrish, of Orange County, N. C., in 1873. Six children were born. Eliza Morehead, Lalla Rookh, Julian E. Carr, Jr., Albert Marvin, Claiborne McDowell and Austin Heaton Carr.

GRADUATING RECITAL AT LOUISBURG COLLEGE

One of the most enjoyable recitals given during the entire year at Lousburg College was that of Miss Hattie Mae Parker, graduate in expression, assisted by Miss Bettie Holden of the Voice Department, on the evening of April sixteenth.

In the two episodes from the modern morality play, "Experience," by George Hobert, Miss Parker showed a simplicity and ease of characterization that was quite notable. To those of her audience not so appreciative of the deeper theme "Experience," the story, "Possessing Prudence" by Amy Wentworth Stone, was delightfully entertaining as Miss Parker cleverly proved her skill in handling humorous subjects. A number of Edgar Guest's favorite poems concluded the very interesting program.

Making the recital still more pleasing, Miss Bettie Holden, an ever popular voice student, rendered a number of well chosen selections.
