PRESERVE EGGS NOW FOR USE NEXT WINTER

Raleigh, N. C., April 28.—Now while eggs are cheap and plentiful is the time to eat more at home and to preserve them in water glass for use next winter when they are scarce and high in price. Directions for preserving the eggs are given by A. G. Oliver, poultry extension specialist for the State College of Agriculture.

"Use only fresh clean, unwashed eggs that are sound of shell," says Mr. Oliver. "Look through them by use of a good strong light. This will show up the cracks, blood spots or the beginning of germination. Eggs put down in March, April and May are the best and cheapest, and it is well to remember that one spoiled egg in the water glass solution will likely ruin the whole lot, so it pays to be careful.

"Water glass may be obtained at any drug store and should be used at the rate of one quart of water glass to nine quarts of water. The water should be boiled thoroughly and cooled before mixing the solution. Pour the solution into a clean stone jar. Two six-gallon or three four-gallon jars will hold thirty dozen eggs. The eggs at the top should be covered by at least one and one half inches of the liquid.

"Now keep the jars covered to prevent evaporation and store in a cool place where they will not be disturbed. When preserved in this way the eggs will keep fresh and wholesome until the spring eggs come again. Nor is it necessary to fill the jar at once. Only a few need be placed in the jar each day until it is properly filled and it furnishes a good supply of excellent food and saves money for the average household.

For those who might wish to preserve eggs during the next few weeks, Mr. Oliver has a supply of bulletins dealing with the matter and will be glad to send them to any resident of the State who requests one. Just write a card to A. G. Oliver, Extension Poultry Specialist, State College of Agriculture, Raleigh, and receive your copy.

Sick Headache

"I have used Black-Draught when needed for the past 25 years," says Mrs. Emma Grimes, of Forbes, Mo. "I began taking it for a bad case of constipation. I would get constipated and feel just miserable—sluggish, tired, a bad taste in my mouth, . . . and soon my head would begin hurting and I would have a severe sick headache. I don't know just who started me to taking but it did the work. It just seemed to cleanse the liver. Very soon I felt like new. When I found Black-Draught so easy to take and so effective, I began to use it in case I would not have sick headache. Constipation causes the eyes to be sore, the head to ache, the stomach to be full and the blood to be impure. It is the cause of all these troubles. Black-Draught is the only medicine that cleanses the liver and helps to drive out the poison. It is sold by all druggists. Costs only one cent a dose. 12-104
