WE THANK THEM

We acknowledge receipt of the following letter with thanks:
Louisburg, N. C.
May 17, 1924.

Mr. A. F. Johnson, Editor
The Franklin Times,
Louisburg, N. C.

Dear Sir:
We note that you cut the vital elements of the last article that we submitted to you for publication under the "Column Right" issued by the American Legion.

In doing this you killed the force of the article.

We judge from your action that you are a bit afraid of the political forces that now exist. We wish to inform you that we are well aware of the fact that some day in the near future the ex-service men of this community will be the leaders of it. We are the natural inheritors of the reins. This fact you cannot deny.

We did not request that you publish these articles under your own name. We requested that you publish them under the name of the "American Legion." If you objected to, or contemplated changing our articles, in any respect, we think that as a matter of courtesy, if nothing more, you should have consulted the chairman of our Publicity Committee. We are perfectly willing that you publish any replies that our articles might have generated. We do not appreciate your action in this matter.

You may not give a rap, but the future will prove to you that we mean BUSINESS, when we say that we are going to FIGHT for a SQUARE DEAL, as long as we are able. We will be able to fight when you are too old. If you are not willing to publish our articles, we believe that your competitors will be.

Thanking you for your past co-operation in a just cause, and regretting the fact that you chose to play second fiddle to "Pussy Foot" in refusing to support us in our present fight, we are,

Respectfully yours,
James Post,
The American Legion,
C. K. Cooke, Jr., Commander,
T. K. Stockard, Chairman Publicity Committee.

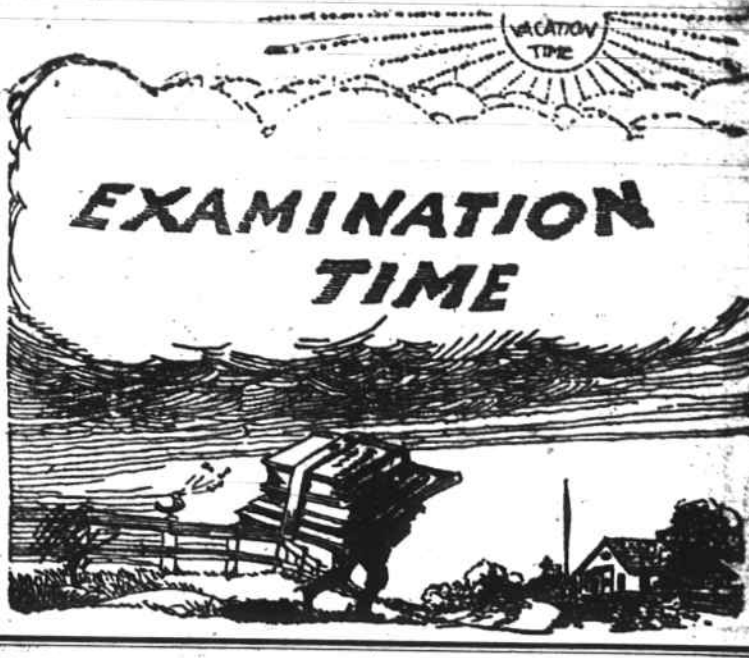

It has always been our pleasure to do everything that we could for the interest of the ex-service men. We promised ourselves in good faith to do this when the boys were called into service. We still consider this position equally binding now. It has been our pleasure to support them in any laudible undertaking. We have given liberally to them and their organizations of our means and time. We expect to continue to do so when we can do it justly and in fairness to others. They have done a great work and are entitled to every consideration possible, consistent with the feelings and privileges of others. However there are limits to any undertaking or any privileges.

The part that was omitted from the article referred to was personal attacks against the Board of Commissioners of Franklin County and Mr. S. A. Newell, County Attorney, because they had seen it in the discharge of their public duty to deny to the American Legion the privilege of erecting a hut on the jail property. We had furnished them space and allowed them to give expression to their feelings in several former issues, only one of which did they do the editor the courtesy of submitting their article to him or to ask for space. In the instance referred to in the letter the copy was turned in to the printer without the editor having knowledge of it, and it was only by chance and in confidence that the editor learned the name of the author. Such actions and such articles are contrary to newspaper rules. The editor is wholly liable for articles not signed, or those signed other than by the real name of the writer, and jointly for those that are signed. For this reason as well as common fairness he is supposed to and should pass on all articles before they are published. The submission of any article to a newspaper for publication automatically carries with it the consent to have it censored to correspond to recognized principles of publication, by the editor, and it would be absurd to expect an editor to run out and look up the author of an article and seek his consent for a change, and more especially so when he is not supposed to know who the author is.

We want to heartily thank these gentlemen for having been privileged to publish a paper in Louisburg these years. It has been a real pleasure to mingle with, work for and with them and the other citizens of Franklin County. And we can assure them when they want the field, we will not give them any trouble. If it becomes necessary we will retire to other endeavors. There will be no "competitors" so far as we are concerned.

We thank them again for their generosity and hope that circumstances may continue to allow us to show our appreciation for the great work they did during the great world war. However, with all our good feelings toward them we cannot allow the use of the columns of The Franklin Times for the promotion or defeat of any candidate in the primary, and it will still be necessary that we require them to show us the courtesy and to use the same mark as others in the submission of articles, such as is referred to, in The Franklin Times.

SEN. DILL DELIVERS GRADUATING ADDRESS

somewhat marred at the close by the sudden wind storm which broke upon the scene. However, the restraint and self-control of the actresses in this trying time only served to show more clearly the thorough training which they had received.

The graduation exercises at the College were held in the City High School auditorium and were witnessed by the largest audience that had ever assembled in Louisburg on a similar occasion. The academic procession was formed at the College and was led by the Seniors followed by the other classes in order. The classes were followed by Trustees, visitors and faculty. All together, making a procession which reached more than the length of the campus. As the procession slowly marched down the central aisle they presented a most imposing and an inspiring sight. Students were massed in front of the auditorium while on the platform were seated, faculty, visitors and speakers.

The exercises were opened with prayer by Dr. Thomas Carter of Vanderbilt University. Music was furnished by members of the Senior Class and added much to the program. The commencement address was delivered by the Honorable C. C. Dill. United States Senator, from Washington. The speaker was most happy in his remarks and presented his subject in a most eloquent manner. His address was most kindly and met the needs of the occasion in an admirable manner. We congratulate Louisburg College on having secured Senator Dill on this occasion for it was a rare treat to our people to have such a live progressive Senator in their midst. No man in the United States Senate has made a more enviable record considering the length of time in office, than Senator Dill.

The diplomas were then presented to the graduating class by Pres. A. W. Mohr. Bibles were presented to each of the graduates by the College Chaplain, Rev. O. W. Dowd. Rev. A. D. Wilcox, Vice-President of the Board of Trustees made the announcement for the Trustees, and among other things stated that the much talked of campaign for Louisburg College, the objective of which is the raising of $500,000 for buildings, equipment and endowment, would be launched in June. He stated further that the quota of Louisburg and Franklin County is $150,000 and that if the Campaign throughout the state is to succeed Louisburg must set the pace. We believe that Louisburg is not only ready but anxious to show her appreciation of the College by meeting her quota at once. While Louisburg is not a town of wealth its citizens are by no means poor and the above amount should be subscribed in very short order when the opportunity is presented, especially as we understand the building program will cover three years and all subscriptions can be paid in like manner. We believe the glorious day has dawned for Louisburg College, for Louisburg and for Franklin County, and knowing our people as we do we have no hesitancy in saying that they will measure up to all expectations.

The benediction was pronounced by Dr. John Gore, of Rockingham, one of the Trustees of the College.

Those receiving diplomas are as follows:

BUNN DEFEATS SPRING HOPE

Bunn, May 16.—Bunn defeated Spring Hope here today 16 to 6 in a hard hitting contest.

Bunn drove Spring Hope's pitching ace from the mound in the lucky seventh.

Seymore's homer in the first with two men on started the heavy hitting. Seymore, Alford and Denton were credited with three hits each. Mullen featured for Bunn in the field with a hard catch over his head running from third, and two doubles out of four trips.

The score by innings. Bunn 4 0 5 1 0 5 0 1 x Spring Hope 2 0 2 0 0 0 2 0 Batteries for Bunn, Hagwood and Richardson. For Spring Hope, Flew and Sykes.

A farmer of New Hanover County is growing an acre of Dill Weed for a pickle company. This is still another new crop for the Old Tar Heel State.
