INSURANCE A NECESSITY

INSURANCE ACTUALLY DEALS WITH EVERY HONEST BUSINESS UNDER THE SUN

Fire insurance has come to be not only a householder's security, but a national necessity. The home owner must protect his family and provide shelter; the renter must guard his household goods. Business concerns, factories, churches, schools, colleges and corporations must protect their property investments. The man who can thus provide the security of a community against financial loss from fire is its insurance agent, through his companies.

PREACHER CALLS ON K. K. K. TO SAVE IMMORAL-RALEIGH

Rev. Charles Hudson, Pastor of Southside Memorial Baptist Church, Challenges the Ku Klux Klan to Take Definite Action—Says Lay is Important—Cites Instances.

Raleigh, May 25.—Calling upon the Ku Klux Klan to take definite action on the immorality which he declared was going on in Raleigh and of which he gave alleged instances, the Rev. Charles Hudson, of Southside Memorial Baptist church, tonight declared that he would not blame the Ku Klux Klan for "taking a man out of an automobile and beating the hound out of him," and challenged the members of the order to get into automobiles, ride out toward Lassiter's Mill (a local swimming pool) and see for themselves what is going on.

The sermon which was announced as "Automobile, Women, and the Ku Klux Klan," followed the singing of "Let the Lower Lights be Burning," with the words changed to "Let the fiery cross be burning," as an offering by the choir.

"I am not a member of the K. K. K.," the preacher declared in opening his sermon. "I do not know anything about the K. K. K., and therefore I can talk about it. But if the Ku Klux Klan is what it says it is, they can and must save the citizenship of this community. They must see to it that every scoundrel is brought to the law and punished for his crime.

"I believe that the law is willing and ready to do its part, but it is not able," he declared after he had cited several alleged instances of men committing and getting away with crime in Raleigh. "The organization of which I have spoken, the Ku Klux Klan, if properly utilized, can save the day, where the preacher, the church, and the law cannot save it. I invite you, if there are any of you here, to go to Lassiter's mill and you will see how many cars are parked by the side of the road. The roads around here are no longer decent places for men to take their families to ride.

"I do call on the Ku Klux Klan, if they can help us, and I would not blame you if you should take a man out of a nautomobile and beat the hound out of him.

"The Ku Klux Klan can remedy this thing, and I call on them to do it."

DON'T PULL FODDER PLANT HAY CROPS NOW

Raleigh, May 23.—"Many sermons, articles, letters and other speeches both written and spoken have been directed at the practices of pulling fodder and cutting corn tops; but, it is useless to preach on this subject in the late summer or fall," says E. C. Blair, extension agronomist for the State College of Agriculture. "It's too late then. At that time the farmer generally has his last chance to provide sufficient feed for the coming winter and rather than do without, he saves it from his corn crop. For that year, therefore, he is compelled to take the tops and fodder or else hire a shredding outfit and in most cases this is out of the question. This then, is why provision for hay and roughage should be made at this season of the year."

Mr. Blair states that by August or September it is easy to realize the advantage of a moving machine over the bare hands as a gatherer of roughage. The proper time to give the matter consideration is while there is yet time to plant hay crops. If enough hay is grown for livestock, then the fodder and tops will not be needed. Soybeans and cowpeas may be planted now and will make from one to two tons of nutritious hay per acre. Sudan grass, sorghum and the millets all yield heavily on good land. Some farmers may find it convenient to plant a hay crop after wheat, oats or rye and still others may replace part of the corn crop with planting for hay.

At other times of the year red clover, alsike clover, Japan clover, sweet clover, alfalfa, vetch, oats, rye, barley, wheat, grasses and many other crops might be used for hay.

A tenant farmer of Union County at the age of fifty years bought his own farm last year paying $4,100 for it. The first thing he did was to find the county agent and get his help and advice in terracing and planning his work. County Agent T. J. W. Broom went out and spent two days with him. Before the agent left, the farmer pointed to a terraced field and said, "some day, if you live, and I do, I am going to show you one hundred bushels of corn per acre growing on that land." Such was his confidence in the help of his agent.

Many other counties now want to begin the cooperative carlot shipment of poultry. The success attending the efforts of County Agent John V. Arrendale in Macon County is attracting attention in the other mountain counties.

The wool crop of Halifax County is turning out better than expected. County Agent C. E. Littlejohn reports about 200 pounds of one-fourth blood and 800 pounds of Delain fleece. The farmers have been offered 45 cents per pound for their one-fourth blood wool.

Interesting Figures

(Compiled from government statistics)

There are 17,000,000 motor vehicles in the world today. Of this number 14,500,000 or 85 per cent are registered in the United States.

The 4,000,000 cars produced in 1923 showed a 50 per cent increase in production over 1922 and represented a wholesale value of $2,510,885,000

Thirty-seven per cent of the automobiles in Canada are reported owned by farmers, with only sixteen per cent operated by business people.

Seven hundred and fifty thousand carloads of parts and accessories were shipped last year—a train of cars 6,390 miles long.

The average retail price per car was $811.00. That of a truck $1,080.00.

Government budget experts have estimated the cost of operation of an automobile on a mileage basis to be seven cents per mile.

Only 15 per cent of automobiles are free of encumbrances.

The total amount spent for maintenance and operation of cars last year averaged $60 for every man, woman and child in the United States.

Last year approximately $3,000,000,000 was spent in the United States for clothing as compared with $7,000,000,000 for the maintenance and operation of automobiles. Two and one-half times as much money was spent for automobile operation as for clothing.

The effect of this unusually large expenditure of money for automobiles no doubt has effected some other lines of business.
