Cloche Continues to Be Fashion's Favorite

That Madam Fashion is not fickle, is evidenced in this little cloche, for this bonnet-like type continues to be her favorite. The advent this season of gay silk print into the millinery field, such as covers the brim and bands the crown of this model, adds to the charm of many a chapeau. Note also the hand-dyed and hemstitched silken scarf about the neck. Everybody's wearing them!

Lace and Ostrich Compete in the Millinery Field

Competing with ostrich in the millinery field is lace. The two combine in this charming model. Covering the crown with lace as the picture shows, is one way of emphasizing its vogue. That a shoulder-trim of ostrich converts a small-brimmed shape into a truly picture hat is demonstrated in this pretty midsummer chapeau.

SOME FACTS OF STRIKING INTEREST

In 1922 the South, with a population of 37,500,000, expended on public school education $223,067,000, which was $107,000,000 more than the United States expended for similar purposes in 1909.

The expenditure of the South for public school work in 1922 was only about 15 per cent less than the total spent for the same purpose by the entire country as late as 1908.

The deposits in all national, state and private banks in the South jumped from $639,000,000 in 1900 to $6,500,000,000 in 1923, or nearly as much as the total deposits in all financial institutions in the United States in 1900.

The value of manufactured products of the South in 1921, the latest available census figures, was $6,777,000,000, which was more than four times the value of 1900 and twice as great as 1910.

The cotton mill capital of the South exceeds $1,000,000,000, as compared with $361,000,000 in 1910, and is greater than the total capital thus invested in the United States in 1910.

The value of the mineral products of the South rose from $369,000,000 in 1910 to $1,489,000,000 in 1923.

In 1922 the South mined 138,900,000 tons of coal, which is more than three times its coal output in 1900.

The South produced in 1923, 362,000,000 barrels of petroleum, which is 150,000,000 barrels more than the United States produced as late as 1910.

The value of the farm crops of the South in 1923 amounted to $6,127,400,000, or $1,400,000,000 more than the total value of farm products in the United States in 1900.

The foregoing facts and others in this summary, are gathered from "The Blue Book of Southern Progress," 1924 edition, which has just been issued by the Manufacturers Record. In that publication a thousand and one facts of vital interest to the South and to the nation are to be found. Here, for instance, is the showing in regard to the foreign stock population in the South in contrast with the rest of the country:

The lowest proportion of foreign stock in any section of the country is in the East-South-Central States of Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, and Mississippi, with only 3 per cent foreign stock and only 5 per cent of this foreign born. The South Atlantic States have 6 per cent foreign stock and 2.1 per cent foreign born, while the West South-Central States of Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas and Missouri have 13.5 per cent foreign stock and only 4.7 per cent foreign born.

In New-England, on the contrary, over 60 per cent of the population is of foreign stock and 25.3 per cent is foreign born. In the Middle Atlantic States over 53 per cent is of foreign stock and over one-fifth is foreign born. In the East North-Central States over 43 per cent is foreign stock, and in the West-Central States and on the Pacific Coast about 44 per cent is foreign stock.

Only about one-fifth of the population of New York city and Chicago is of native white ancestry; that is, descendants of native white American father and mother. Rhode Island leads in foreign stock with 69 per cent, followed by Massachusetts with 66 per cent, while North Carolina has only .7 of 1 per cent, or the lowest in the Union of foreign stock to total population. South Carolina has 1 per cent; Georgia, 1.6 per cent; Mississippi, 1.5 per cent; Alabama, 2.2 per cent; and Virginia, 3 per cent.—Manufacturers Record.
