TUESDAY, SEPT. 23RD

75 PER CENT THIS YEAR

Every member can get 75 per cent of bankers' valuation if he wants it. Our Association makes first advance of 50 per cent of bankers' valuation, and the N. C. Agricultural Credit Corporation will loan through local banks one-half the first advance (or 25 per cent of bankers' valuation), making 75 per cent right after delivery.

DON'T BE FOOLED

Don't be fooled by rumors about recent court decisions. Any good lawyer will tell you that there is nothing to the idea that members are not required to deliver because final settlement has not yet been made on 1922 crop.

LAST CHANCE FOR "OUTSIDERS"

The Association will accept no new members after opening day in Central North Carolina. Outsiders in the Old Belt markets, which are listed above, have until September 17 to sign up, because of previous announcement that these Old Belt markets would not open until September 16. The closing of the membership books applies only to the 1924 crop.

THE HIGHEST CASH ADVANCES EVER PAID BY THE ASSOCIATION ARE BEING RECEIVED BY ITS MEMBERS THIS YEAR. BRING A LOAD OF YOUR TOBACCO NEXT TUESDAY AND REALIZE THE GOOD NEWS YOURSELF.

Your Boy and His Clothes

You know as well as we do, what a problem it is to get clothes that will withstand the hard wear of a boy's everyday life. But in our line of clothes we believe we have come close to solving the problem. They are strongly tailored from sturdy, close-woven fabrics, and such a combination should give a good measure of service.

We have a full line of furnishings both for men and women also.

"Bucky" Looks Like Winner

Stanley Harris, more popularly known as "Bucky," has had wonderful success with the Washington Americans this year and it would not be surprising if he landed his team a winner. Harris is the youngest manager in the major leagues.

AS THE EDITOR SEES IT

North Dakota's flour mill and elevator project lost $627,362.82 during the eleven months it had been in operation up to July 1.

The loss for June alone was $60,711.12 and the mill has actually lost 87 cents on every barrel of flour produced.

This condition exists in spite of the fact that the mill is being operated at capacity in order to create a greater output and in an effort to put it on a paying basis.

It is the old story repeated. Public ownership has been proved a failure, yet there are still men who advocate that it is an improvement over privately owned industries.

Efficiency is sacrificed for the sake of lower operating costs and the fine hand of politics works its way in to the detriment of the business.

The true test of any business is efficiency in management and when that is lost through politics controlling the jobs. There is no hope of earning a legitimate profit.

In some states where the Government ownership forces are seeking to gain the upper hand, executives of large corporations have been assailed because of the large salaries they receive.

This is nothing more than an appeal to prejudice, which is the chief stock and trade of the demagogue. Executives of big business enterprises are employed because of their capability and usually there is considerable competition for their services, resulting in large salaries.

Privately owned business looks for the best, not the cheapest and public ownership proponents seek the cheapest regardless of fitness for the position, because that is the only argument they have.

States that have tried public ownership of utilities should be a lesson for every state that contemplates such an experiment.

Mid Western Crops

One fourth of the wealth of the whole United States is situated in five mid-western states—Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin.

Middle-west crops are above the average. Prices are still high. The world grain crop is reported to be short.

Here is a combination of circumstances that can mean nothing but prosperity.

The wealth of the middle-west is largely confined to products of the soil. The weather started the growing season poorly, but made amends later and the soil has produced lavishly.

The American farmer should be looking into the future with optimism.

And he should be joined by all other business men, because just as the depression in agriculture has made itself felt in every line, so will the improvement be reflected in every field of business enterprise.

The great trouble with these radio marriages is the danger of not having the same wave length.

Make plans at once for exhibiting at the community, county and state fairs. Large specialists of the State College extension division. The most successful fairs are those which have exhibits from every community and with products, not freakish, but which are carefully selected according to quality and are the kind desired by a prospective purchaser.

A county agent and two farmers from Tyler, Texas, visited Richmond county recently to study the results of soil building with legumes in this sandhill section, reports county agent W. H. Barton.
