A. F. JOHNSON, Editor and Manager

TAR DROPS

—Don't forget that Tuesday is election day.

—Cotton receipts in Louisburg yesterday were quite heavy.

—Cotton sold for 23 1-8 cents a pound in Louisburg yesterday.

—See the advertisement of Mr. C. H. Holmes in another column.

—The merchant that advertises is the one you shouldn't be afraid to trade with.

—Mr. C. H. Holmes has purchased the K. A. Perry residence on Kenmore avenue, and informs us he will occupy same about January 1st.

—Misses Virginia Jones of Youngsville, Bettie McIver of Louisburg and Annie Bell Smith of Oxford were the week end guests of Miss Josephine Fuller of near town.

—Mr. A. J. Jarman is moving his stock of groceries to the store room next to Beck's Garage, the store he is vacating so we learn, will be occupied by Mr. M. C. Murphy.

BIG RECEIPTS OF COTTON

Raleigh, Oct. 27.—Cotton is being delivered to the warehouses of the North Carolina Cotton Growers' Co-operative Association at a very satisfactory rate, according to a statement issued from the Raleigh office Thursday night. The week started off with 3,500 bales on Monday and every day has been equally as satisfactory. The deliveries indicate the confidence felt in orderly marketing by the cotton growers of the state.

Cotton was received at the warehouse up to the time of the excessive rains at a satisfactory rate, but during the rainy season the deliveries were slow. Since the sunshine came, the farmers have been able to pick and gin their cotton and they are rushing it to the Association warehouses. Last year the Association handled twelve and one half per cent of the crop in North Carolina and this year the indications are that the Association will handle at least 15 per cent. The crop this year is very late and very short, but the association is receiving a larger proportion than it did last season.

Prior to the rainy season the cotton received was of the better grades, very little grading below middling and very much of it good middling and strict middling. The cotton received immediately after the rains was of a lower grade but the cotton coming in now is showing much improvement as to grade.

Notwithstanding the low market price of cotton the Association is still making an advance of $70 on every 500 pound bale with a proportionate advance on bales weighing less than 500 pounds.

North Carolina farmers are getting away from long staple cotton, and according to General Manager Banlock this is good. The first season, approximately nine per cent of the cotton delivered was long staple. Last year this was reduced to less than three per cent and the present season less than one per cent. Much of this year's cotton is running full one inch, a staple that is much in demand.

Hundreds of new members have been added to the Association during the past six weeks and new applications are being received every day. Since October 15 the Association has received seventy-eight members, an average of more than ten a day.

TIDEWATER GIRL WINS PRIZE TRIP TO NATIONAL CLUB CONGRESS

Three district club contests were held in the Tidewater section during October; New Bern, Halifax and Hertford being hostesses. The teams from each county were credits to themselves and the agents who trained them, the teams of Halifax and Craven deserving special mention, the judges decided on the Pasquotank Jelly Team, Perquimans county Bread Team, Hertford County Clothing Team, Washington County Conservation of Foods Team and Beaufort County Poultry Team as District Representatives to go to Raleigh to contest for State honors. These teams were trained by Misses Marcell Albertson, Pasquotank, Helen Gaither, Perquimans, Myrtle Swindell, Hertford, Delano Wilson, Washington county, and the Beaufort Poultry Team by Miss Violet Alexander and F. W. Risher. The Craven county Poultry Team scored high but on account of this being an overlapping district county, the score of its poultry team had to be compared with the Eastern District Poultry scores, this leaving the Beaufort county team to represent the Tidewater District. At the State Fair, these teams with twenty others held the attention of the crowd who were leaning over the railing of the Demonstration Booths, with mouths wide open in utter astonishment at hearing children from twelve to sixteen give technical advice on home making.

As a fitting close the seven hundred club boys and girls and vocational high school students were entertained at a banquet at State College where the prize winners were announced. Miss Maude Rogerson of Perquimans county was one of the two who made the highest score in the state, thus being chosen to represent North Carolina at the third Club Congress to be held in Chicago in November. Maude is a 14 year old club girl trained by Miss Helen Gaither, Home Demonstration Agent of Perquimans county.

Superintendent Joyner of the Hertford High School on being told that the Perquimans Bread Team had won in the District Contest and would have to leave the high school for a week in Raleigh, replied, "I am always glad to exchange them for such work as this. Wish I could send the entire high school." Miss Gaither, Home Demonstration Agent, and Miss Smith, District Agent, are proud of the Tidewater District Teams, and feel that Maude Rogerson will make an excellent representative for Perquimans, the Tidewater District and North Carolina, at the Chicago convention.

The downtrodden masses, about whom some of the candidates speak, are never in that condition except when they get in front of a speeder.

SALE OF VALUABLE FARM LANDS

By virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain deed of trust made by J. J. Barrow, and wife to S. A. Newell, Trustee, dated January 17, 1923, and recorded in Book 244, at page 472, and by virtue also of an order of the Superior Court of Franklin County made in the Matter of J. J.
