

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

To break up a cold over night or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza or sore throat, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the nausealess Calomet tablet, that is purified from dangerous and sickening effects. Those who have tried it say that it acts like magic, by far more effective and certain than the old style calomet, heretofore recommended by physicians.

One or two Calotabs at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with eating, work or pleasures. Next morning your cold has vanished and your system feels refreshed and purified. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price ten cents for the vest-pocket size; thirty-five cents for the large family package. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists. Your money back if you are not delighted.—adv.

There is so much chewing gum made nowadays that there is no use for some folks trying to chew it all at once.

THERE'S MORE IN THE MAN THAN IN THE LAND

Raleigh, Nov. 11.—That oft sounded doctrine of good farming. "There is more in the man than there is in the land," preached by Dean B. W. Kilgore of the North Carolina Experiment Station, is again amply confirmed by the experience of E. T. Brawley, a farmer of Barringer township in Iredell county who is now convinced that regardless of how badly a field has been abused it may be brought back to a productive state without great expense if legume crops are planted.

"In 1919," reports District Agent E. S. Millsaps, "Mr. Brawley had a badly washed, gullied hillside on his farm. The field was in plain view of the highway and was an eyesore to every one who passed. Mr. Brawley decided to make the field green to the extent that it would not be so oppressive. He filled the gullies, terraced the field and prepared it for seeding to rye. He also made a light application of limestone. In the spring of 1920, he sowed red clover and secured only a scattering stand. This was allowed to fall on the land and make seed for another crop. In the fall of 1921, the field was again sowed in grain followed by clover the next spring. This time he secured a better stand. He has continued this rotation until today he is securing a perfect stand of clover over the entire field and those who pass that way remark on the beauty of his farm.

"With this experience as a demonstration Mr. Brawley is now renovating the last of his gullied fields and is putting his farm in excellent shape. He expects in a few years to have one of the best kept farms in his community with no gullies or naked land and he is doing this by the proper use of legumes in his crop rotations."

CLUB CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

On Tuesday evening the Woman's Club of Louisburg celebrated its second anniversary with a banquet given to a number of the members of the Kiwanis Club and the Business Men's Association, in the dining room of Louisburg College. The decorations of Armistice Day were carried out in a color scheme of red, white and blue.

Mrs. Ben T. Holden presided as toastmistress and extended a most gracious welcome, to which Mr. J. S. Massenburg responded.

Mrs. J. L. Palmer, for the Woman's Club, told of its policies and its plans for the future. Supt. W. R. Mills of the Louisburg Graded School, spoke of the policies and plans for the Kiwanis Club, and Mr. M. S. Davis gave an illustrated talk of the future aspirations of the Business Men's Association.

Co-operation being the object of the banquet, Mrs. Earnest Ferguson presented a very comprehensive outline of how the three clubs of Louisburg might best co-operate to the mutual benefit of each and with much resultant profit to the town.

Miss Glenn Dunevent then gave a very delightful reading, after which Miss Susie Crowell delightfully rendered several piano selections and Miss Katie Richardson sang.

Covers were laid for seventy and a five-course dinner was served as follows: Fruit cocktail; capon oyster dressing; rice a-la-New Orleans; creamed English peas, Saratoga chips, hot rolls, cranberries, celery, luncheon salad, tutti frutti ice cream, sunshine cake, cheese, creme de ments, and coffee.

EDWARD D. OAKLEY

Whereas the Supreme Architect of the Universe in infinite wisdom on November 8th, 1924, did take to His eternal home our beloved friend and brother, Edward D. Oakley; and where as we, the members of the Youngsville Council No. 273 Jr. O. U. A. M., feel most profoundly this separation from one who has ever proved his loyalty to the ideals of duty and service to friends and community and whereas his death is a personal grief to us and causes a sense of loss which it is difficult to express and our most sincere sympathy goes out to the devoted wife and children and friends who have met their loss in so beautiful a spirit of christian fortitude, therefore be it

Resolved that this expression of appreciation of our deceased friend and brother's character and personality be transmitted to his family; that a copy be spread upon our minutes and a copy be sent to The Franklin Times and Jr. O. U. A. M. for publication.

Fraternally submitted,
S. E. WINSTON,
J. W. WOODLIEF,

The menu will include oysters, both stewed and fried, soups, chicken salad sandwiches, ham sandwiches, and other things which will be temptingly served by the ladies of the W. M. S.

That is a good place to get a good feed every Saturday night instead of serving supper at home.
