XMAS MONEY FOR YOU

Search Your Attic for Confederate Envelopes.

This is a new and easy way to get Xmas money without trouble or work or expense.

Among the old letters of many Southern families are hundreds of very rare stamps and envelopes. Many have been found and sold for small fortunes. Single envelopes have been sold for as high as $700.00. Many have brought upwards of $50.00 each. It sounds "fishy," but it's true. They are valuable because they are rare. They are rare, not because there are only a few, for there are many of them, but simply because most of them are forgotten, being stored away in old trunks and closets.

Make a thorough search through your attic for these old war letters. Fortunes in rare stamps have been found in old safes which no one ever dreamed contained anything of value. Many an old trunk or chest contains letters that may bring the finder a profitable reward. Send these to Mr. Harold C. Brooks, Box 223 Marshall, Michigan, and he will immediately write you, stating whether they are of value and, if so, will offer you full value for them. He is a private collector of rare stamps and envelopes and will pay more for those he is seeking than a dealer. Besides the Confederate issues, certain United States and foreign stamps are wanted provided they are on the original envelopes and mailed between 1845 and 1870. Although the rare issues are especially desired he also buys many of the commoner kinds, and many people are in this way getting Christmas money with but very little trouble and no expense.

The Advertising Manager of this paper has known of Mr. Brooks for many years and you may place fullest confidence in his integrity. He will advise you frankly, offering what he regards the envelopes are worth to him and in case the envelopes are not satisfactory they will be returned to the sender.

As so many stamps are similar in appearance, Mr. Brooks cannot quote values from written descriptions, but must see the envelopes. Furthermore, the condition of a stamp or envelope has an important bearing on its value. Confederate money, old documents or coins he does not collect.

If envelopes are sent in a bunch they should be very carefully wrapped—if possible between cardboard to protect them from becoming wrinkled or creased. Do not cut the stamps from the envelopes, but send the complete envelopes. Also take care not to tear the stamps or put pins through them. Such damage greatly reduces the value of any stamp. If you have reason to believe your envelopes contain any of great value send them by Registered Mail.

This notice will not be printed again, so make a thorough search now before the address is lost or forgotten. Tell your friends or ask permission to look over their old war letters. Many elderly people have kept hundreds of such letters. Mr. Brooks' address is as follows:

HAROLD C. BROOKS,
Box 223 Marshall, Michigan.

Your Conversation

"COQUETTE"

Even the most man-hating spinster is at heart something of a "coquette." Coquette is derived from the French word "coq," which means a cock. The tendency of that bird to strut up and down the parade grounds of the barnyard, attracting attention to himself, is widely known. The word was coined to denote the girl, who, conscious of her charms, is something of a flirt. The pronunciation is "ko-keet," with the accent on the second syllable.

Times have changed since a man wearing knickerbockers attracted the attention of the throngs.

Change of Life

"When change of life began on me," says Mrs. Lewis Fisher, of Lamar, Mo., "I suffered so with womanly weakness. I suffered a great deal of pain in my back and sides. My limbs would cramp. I didn't feel like doing my work, and there are so many steps for a woman to take on a farm. I was very anxious to get better. A friend recommended to me and I began using it. I certainly improved. I went through change of life without any trouble. I can highly recommend Cardui." At the age of about 40 to 50 every woman has to pass through a critical time, which is called the Change of Life. At this time, great changes come place in her system, causing various painful and disagreeable symptoms. If you are approaching this period, or are already suffering from any of its troubles or symptoms, take Cardui. It should help you, as it has helped others.

CARDUI

CORN AFTER LEGUME NEARLY DOUBLES YIELD

Raleigh, Nov. 17.—A demonstration on the farm of G. E. Callahan of Bladen county shows that corn after velvet beans, plowed under, was nearly doubled in yield as compared to corn following cotton.

This demonstration is one of many being conducted by the agronomy workers of the State College of Agriculture. In some of the demonstrations there is made a rearrangement of the fields after which regular crop rotations are followed so as to give the farmer a system that includes a higher percentage of legumes. This enables him to improve his soil gradually and with smaller expense than by any other method.

"Our demonstrations also permit the farmer to grow more feedstuffs and to tend larger fields instead of many small ones," says E. C. Blair, extension agronomist who has this work in charge. "Mr. Callahan was one of the first men to undertake such a demonstration. He began his in the spring of 1923, and is now well pleased with the results being obtained."

"In the particular case of this corn field, Mr. Callahan made a rearrangement of his fields so that a part of the corn crop this year was on land that had been in cotton. The remainder of the field was occupied by corn and velvet beans the previous year. There has been a noticeable difference in the two parts of this corn field throughout the entire year. When the corn was harvested recently, the land was measured and the corn weighed. It was found that where the corn followed cotton, the yield was exactly twenty bushels per acre; where the corn followed the corn and velvet beans, the yield was thirty nine bushels per acre.

"The corn was all fertilized the same, planted the same day and cultivated alike. It all grew in the same field on uniform land and the increase of 19 bushels per acre can be due to no other cause than that of plowing under the velvet beans.

Love at first sight may be alright, but it's a good idea to wipe off your glasses and look again.
