HOME INTERESTS FIRST

Another Christmas is near at hand and gift list are being prepared for the shopping tour that every one will make.

And when you buy, will you remember the claims of the home merchant and give him a chance to share in your trade?

We cannot expect to prosper as a community by dividing our patronage with business men who contribute nothing to the upbuilding of our local institutions.

It is to the best interest of those who buy, to trade at home, just as it is to the best interest of those who sell.

Unless we "pat each other on the back" nothing constructive can ever be accomplished and Franklin county will go backward instead of forward.

The logic of trading at home is unassailable. There is no other way of reasoning—if you spend your money away from home, you have no hope of ever jingling it in your pocket again, but if you keep your money in circulation at home, you may get a chance to use it again.

Franklin county merchants prepare for Christmas with a large and extensive stocks and endeavor to serve the people of this trading area as best as they can. They should be patronized, not alone from the standpoint of home patriotism, but because they have Christmas merchandise of quality that no one will be ashamed to give.

INSURANCE A NECESSITY

INSURANCE ACTUALLY DEALS WITH EVERY HONEST BUSINESS UNDER THE SUN

Fire insurance has come to be not only a householder's security, but a national necessity. The home owner must protect his family and provide shelter; the renter must guard his household goods. Business concerns, factories, churches, schools, colleges and corporations must protect their property investments. The man who can thus provide the security of a community against financial loss from fire is its insurance agent, through his companies

KIND AND SIZE OF SPRAY PUMP TO USE

"How many acres of orchard should one spray pump take care of?" This depends entirely on the age and size of the trees. A good barrel outfit will take care of an orchard up to 2 1/2 or 3 acres in size. Where one has three acres or more, then a power spray outfit should be obtained. If only 3 to 15 or 20 acres, one of the smaller power outfits will serve the purpose, but for 20 acres or more, one of the larger and more powerful outfits should be used.

Even one of the larger spraying outfits should not be depended upon to take care of more than 25 to 35 acres, because if one machine is to cover a bigger acreage than this, the result will be that some of the spring and summer spraying will be delayed. This of course means imperfect fruit, and a smaller price when marketed.

In spraying with a barrel pump, a pressure of at least 100 pounds should be maintained. This means that the person doing the pumping has a real job on his hands and that he should keep quite busy. One hundred and fifty pounds would be better, but it is hard to maintain this with a hand operated pump.

In spraying with power machines, a pressure of not less than 200 pounds should be maintained; 250 to 275 pounds is better. A very high pressure, 350 pounds, often causes spray injury.—The Progressive Farmer.

TWO ACRES IN FRUIT MOST PROFITABLE PART OF FARM

I have an orchard of about two acres. In it I have about 50 peach trees which ripen from May to September 15 apple trees, Grimes' Golden and Delicious, 10 plum trees of different varieties and 3 Scuppernon vines, some Pineapple and Kieffer pears, 6 May cherries, 15 figs, and some pecans. I filled in between pecans with peaches, apples, pears, plum and figs. We have an arbor for the James and Scuppernon vines. Strawberries are in the whole orchard. We keep the trees properly pruned and sprayed.

Our orchard is near the house, and as we live in town, we have no trouble in selling most of our fruits, and we usually get above the market value because we grade properly and have better, sounder, and nicer fruit. Folks call for it and pay a premium price gladly. When we have a surplus, we either can it or make preserves, jams, and jellies, which we have no trouble selling in winter. We have fruits fresh or in preserves and jellies, on our table three times daily. Two fruit stands handle our fruits retail and get it fresh daily, in season. We lose no time in going about peddling because we have such nice fruit folks come after it. Our orchard is seven years old. We have other business and farming interests, but we consider the orchard our very best paying investment, counting time, acreage and the small amount invested in its upkeep. I find different varieties ripening at different times, and proper attention to every tree, the main things that pay in the home orchard.—R. L. Darnell, in the Progressive Farmer.

Nine cotton club members in Lee County have turned in their reports and show an average production of 1,329 pounds of seed cotton per acre. Archie Garner of the Swann Station Community produced 2,158 pounds of seed cotton per acre which was the largest yield so far secured, reports farm agent E. O. McMahan.

Uncle Sam has guaranteed a Christmas dinner for postal employes by ruling that no mail shall be delivered after 11 a. m. Christmas day. Now let's see if all the rest of us can't get a similar guarantee.
