

Your Birthday

Is it this week?

September 6-12—VIRGO

If your birthday is this week, you are exceptionally well-balanced and are never likely to go to extremes in anything. You have an innate refinement, purity and sensitiveness. You are always modest, and are of a quiet and retiring nature. With these qualities, it is very seldom a Virgo person sinks into degradation and vice, regardless of their adverse circumstances or early unfavorable environment. Mercury, the ruling planet of this sign, gives to its subjects much wit and very ingenious minds. These people have a cool, confident bearing, are inclined to be exclusive, and are always very discriminating in the selection of their friends and companions.

Virgo people are adapted for either a mercantile or professional life. They display much tact and cleverness in their commercial undertakings as well as professional callings. They make exceptionally fine authors, because of their great insight into human nature.

The most profound faults of these people are selfishness, self-gratification and pride, which often makes them envious and disagreeable. They do not get along well as a rule with other members of the family, are excitable and need responsibility of some kind.
