OUR RALEIGH LETTER

Raleigh, October 26-The contest between employes of the State and the Salary and Wage Commission was the center of interest in Raleigh during the past week. The horrible tragedy at Rex Hospital which took the toll of a baby's life by burning also was the object of sympathetic interest. The Governor made addresses during the week to the Negro State Fair at Raleigh and the Railroad Trainmen at Charlotte and then departed for Washington to appear before the Ways and Means Committee of Congress and oppose the in-The heritance taxes. Duke made public interested North Carolinians because of the large sums which were added to Duke's endowment fund. The will also made further provisions for charitable and religious objectives in North Carolina. The Salary and Wage Commission withdrew from its stand abolishing six of the holidays established by the legislature when the Attorney Gener-al advised the body it had no power to undo what the General Assembly had done. The Commission got back at the employes, however, by stating that it was considering cutting the annual holiday to six days unless the department heads co-operated with it in reducing the number of legal holidays. The matter is still at issue. The Commission had a hearing on salaries and classifications last week and decided to give consideration to a few appeals but denied the great majority. The State Highway Com-mission estimates it will lose 100 trained engineer who had been promised salary increases but which were cenied by the Wage body.

The tragedy in which the ten hours old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Smith was burned to death aroused Raleigh citizens, The child placed in a receiving basket at Rex Hospital immediately after birth and died a few hours later. It was then discovered that a heating pad had been left in the basket, and that death had resulted from burns. The Coroners jury held that the cause of death was negligence and carelessness at the hospital but did not file any criminal charges against any one. Two nurses who had charge of the child are under suspension at the hospital pending further investigation.

The Governor's address to the Negro State Fair applauded the great progress accomplished by the race since the days of slavery. The Governor, however, expressed the idea that the further progress of the negro was dependent on the continuance of a state governed by the white men. a state governed by the white men. The Fair was said to be a wonderful exhibit and the negro officials deserving of much credit.

Governor McLean travelled to Charlotte the middle of the week where he addressed the Railway Trainmen in session there. Governor lauded the progress made by labor and also commended the trainmen for their devotion to duty which he said had been the means of making the American railroads "one of the wonders of the world." Friday Mr. McLean appeared in Washington to urge abolition of the Federal tax on inheritances as unfair and an attempt on the Federal government's of taxation. He appeared with several other governors to support the stand in the matter taken by Secretary Mellon and they appear to have been successful for the committee will recommend a bill about in line with what the Governor's desired.

The Will of James B. Duke takes another opportunity of making this great business man and philanthro. time to come in the regard of his fellow men. Mr. Duke left another $17,000,000 to Duke University which already will benefit handsomely by the income from the $40,000,000 Duke foundation. The additonal money will be used in part, according to the will, for the creation of a great medical school and hospita. as a part of Duke University. He also left additional sums to the Duke Foundation the income from which goes for charitable, religious and educational purposes in North and South Carolina. Mr. Duke also remembered his personal employes at his various estates and in his official Lousehold, they all receiving legacies of from one years salary to $40,000 to his secretary. A number of others employed in his various enterprises will get handsome sums and the young 13 year old daughter Doris is the chief beneficiary, his wife having been already provided for in gifts be-fore his death. Should the daughter die without children the Duke Foundation will come into the major por-dation will come into the major por-tion of the income from the estate of about $150,000,000. George Ross Pou, superintendent of State Prison, has adopted a new honor system at the Prison whereby convicts will be let out to road work contractors and receive a daily sti-pend to be held at the prison for them. A feature is that the men will be on their honor and should any escape a certain portion of the funds of the others will be used to pay expenses of recapture. The convict thus will pay to have their fellows recaptured. The system is calculated to cut down

Grand Master David Gaster, of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, concluded a tour of the State in the interest of the Order at Henderson on last Thursday evening. The Grand Master has held private conferences and public meetings in seventeen of the nineteen districts which afforded an opportunity to touch elbows with the membership from the mountains to sea and secure first-hand information on the progress of Odd Fellow-ship in various sections of the State. Grand Secretary John D. Berry and the Grand Master to practically all

All The Heat You Ask FOR!

Complete Comfort All Winter Long

Here are six reasons why Cole's Hot Blast Heaters are the best to be had! Each is of great importance to you. The patented anti-puffing draft, guaranteed to prevent puffing with any fuel, helps give smokeless fuel economy. The sensitive Radiating Body, all steel and airtight, is the outer stove in Cole's 2 stoves in 1 construction. The heavy cast Fire-Pot holds fire at slow combustion over night. The Feed Door, smoke and dust proof, in the top of the dome, gives you cleanliness and safety. The famous Red Tube feeds heated air into the fuel gases and burns them, thus giving you far more heat at less expense. Ash Door and Draft connections with ground surfaces, are perfectly air tight. Come in and see these wonderful features in this splendid heater, that burns any fuel.

Come and See Why Hot Blast Heaters Are Best

This heater fills your rooms with real warmth at the least expense. Warm corners, warm floors, make more comfortable homes. This model is Cole's Hot Blast Draft through the Red Tube, with the smokeless top feed door, and the anti-puffing draft. Armco Iron body, nickel trimmed.
