APPEAL FOR NEAR EAST RELIEF.

Friends of the Near East Relief in this city have recently received from Corinth, Greece, one of the most effective appeals which this organization has ever issued. It consists of the reproduction of a photograph of hundreds of little children, on a wide plain, grouped together to form the letters and figures making this legend: "Second Corinthians 1: 8-11."

The children represented in this "living epistle from the Corinthians" are but a part of the two thousand orphans under the care of the Near East Relief in modern Corinth alone, near the site of the ministry of St. Paul of old. The message is particularly seasonable at this time, as it serves to draw attention to the American observance on Dec. 6th of Golden Rule Sunday, on behalf of this humanitarian and educational work over-

TOBACCO CO-OPS IMPROVE RECORD

Members Deliver More Tobacco And Get More Money Than One Year Ago.

The Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association has received more than 32 million pounds of tobacco from the present crop and according to the report made at the meeting of its board of directors last week, the association was 4,500,000 pounds ahead of the 1924 season's receipts up October 19.

The organized tobacco farmers have also benefitted this year from the increased cash advance for their tobacco which has been maintained in every belt at 65 percent of bankers' valuation. This is shown by the fact that $3,375,402.25 had been received by the members up to October 19, as compared to $2,444,354.42 for last season's deliveries up to the same date. This shows a substantial gain in deliveries to the association and in payment to its members.

Another cash payment on deliveries of the 1924 crop will be made to the organized tobacco farmers at the earliest possible date, according to their directors who point to the fact that of the 447 million pounds of tobacco received by the association during its first three years of operation only 34 million pounds of the bright tobacco which has been redried remain unsold and of the dark-fired tobacco delivered to the association 20 million pounds of the redried product are now in hand.

The tobacco association this year adopted a very liberal policy towards its members who failed to make deliveries of tobacco the past season. No penalty was taken from the deliveries of the present crop to pay for contract breaking in other years. On the other hand, the association will take legal means to protect its loyal members from contract breakers who fail to deliver this year's crop to the cooperative floors.

Permanent injunctions restraining eight members of the tobacco association in Vance County from selling their tobacco outside the pool were granted the association in Vance County Superior Court. In instances where sales on the auction market had actually been made, judgments were given representing five cents a pound on tobacco sold, and in the costs granted were included in each case a twenty-five dollar fee for attorneys.

Similar cases in every county of the old belt where action appears necessary will be vigorously carried on, according to Col. William T. Joyner, resident attorney of the association at its Raleigh headquarters. Fully 85 per cent of all the cases brought by the tobacco association in the courts have so far been decided in favor of the association.

GET SUITABLE MATERIALS FOR THE FALL FROCK.

Raleigh, Nov. 1.—Selection of suitable materials is one-half the battle in securing becoming clothes. Texture affects the line as much as cut affects it and plays an equal part with line in causing a person to appear larger or smaller.

"There is danger that changing line and wealth of color in fall styles will cause us to forget the importance of materials in planning our fall wardrobe," says Miss Helen Eastbrook, clothing specialist for the home demonstration division at State College.

"If you are large and wish to appear smaller, select dull finished, thin material of soft texture and inconspicuous pattern. From the silks, get Crepe de Chine, Georgette, Crepe Komain, flat crepe or any similar material having the request dull finish. Avoid satin, rayons and mohair fabrics since they reflect light on the conspicuous parts of the figure thus causing it to appear larger."

Miss Eastbrook states that wools becoming to the large woman are those of dull surface and soft supple texture, as polart twill, jersey-balbriggan, covert cloth, kasha, cashmere and challis. Large women should avoid stiff, unpliant textures.

For the average sized woman, there are foulard, mirror crepe, chiffon velvets, faille and soft satins in the silk fabrics. In the wools, there are reps, bengalines, and poplins. Those materials mentioned for the larger woman will make the average woman appear a trifle smaller and those for the slight woman will make the average woman appear a trifle larger.

For the small, slender woman, Miss Eastbrook suggests that she wear what she chooses keeping in mind to secure such textures as best express the personality of the wearer.

It is interesting to read the passage from the Epistle of St. Paul to the Corinthians so dramatically referred to in the picture.

"For we would not, brethren, have you ignorant of our trouble, which came to us in Asia, that we were pressed out of measure, above strength, inasmuch that we despaired even of life.

"But we had the sentence of death in ourselves, that we should not trust in ourselves, but in God, which raiseth the dead,

"Who delivered us from so great a death, and doth deliver; in whom we trust that he will yet deliver us,—

"Ye also helping together by prayer for us, that for the gift bestowed upon us by the means of many persons, thanks may be given by many on our behalf."

The passage has a singular appropriateness, in view of its obvious application to the Armenian children now in the American orphanage at Corinth. Evidently the tables have been turned. The student of Biblical history will recall that once an apostle of Christ in distress and danger sent to the Corinthians his gratitude for what was evidently a collection subscribed by many in small amounts.

Now the Armenian children of Corinth, representing the seven churches of Asia, are in distress, indebted for food for comfort and for life itself, to the many Americans who have given in small amounts, and they repeat the plea of Paul; "We would not have you ignorant of our troubles."

Under oppression and persecution for generations, the people of the Near East have clung to their Christian faith. The picture which comes from the juvenile survivors of the early churches must bring a real thrill to thousands of Americans whose contribution alone explain why these children have lives within them.

No Worms in a Healthy Child
All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.
