

DEDICATES NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

Most Interesting Ceremonies At Bunn Friday

State Superintendent A. T. Allen Among Speakers; Afternoon Filled With Sports and Evening Occupied With Splendid Play

The dedication exercises for the new Bunn High School Building were observed on Friday. Although the weather was very inclement a large crowd gathered to take a part in the celebration of the further advancement of this progressive community has taken along educational lines. This time the honors and bouquets were not directed at Bunn alone but to the newly formed school district which includes the following schools: Pine Ridge, Pilot, Pearce, Math Rock, Royal, Rock Springs, New Hope, Riley and Bunn.

In presenting the exercises Supt. L. H. Davis presided as master of ceremonies, and through his ingenuity kept things lively throughout a most interesting and well arranged program.

The services were opened with the audience standing and singing America, after which Rev. E. C. Crawford pronounced the invocation.

A. F. Johnson, Chairman of the Board of Education of Franklin county, after reviewing the educational achievements of these communities, presented the new building to the Board of Trustees with the earnest entreaty that it be used to the fullest opportunity and advantage of all the boys and girls within this district.

J. R. White, representing the Board of Trustees, received the building and in turn presented it to the student body in a most urgent and interesting talk, pointing out to them the advantages and opportunities that were being offered them and predicting they would make full use of them.

The building was received for the student body in a very pretty little speech by Miss Lena Bell Jones, of the Pilot school, in which she spoke of the hardships and trials of the children under former conditions and expressed the pleasure they would get in their work in the new building.

The High School Glee Club presented an excellent vocal number that was greatly enjoyed.

Supt. E. L. Best stating that "To give to every boy and girl in North Carolina an equal educational opportunity regardless of where they live," was the slogan of the gentleman who was to speak to them and in a very nice manner presented State Superintendent A. T. Allen, who made an unusually strong appeal in behalf of public education. He considered it an honor to be present at the dedication of the nice new building and complimented the people of the district warmly for their perseverance in bringing about such advantages and opportunities for their children. He was glad it was accepted by a member of the student body, showing a cooperation that will work to the interest of all. He reviewed the history of the public school system, going back to its beginning in Europe and tracing it down to the present time. The debate was begun in North Carolina in 1835 since which time the people of this grand old State has set up for themselves a public school system that is unexcelled anywhere. "We are doing that which no other country is doing, by giving our children a public high school," said the speaker. Suppose there had been no improvement in the past seventy-five years, what would have become of the children he asked. He said there were 40,000 children in North Carolina outside of the cities and towns in the high schools. He said it was impossible to place a money value on the education of a child. "North Carolina," he said, "is face to face with the great problem of progressive education." His was a most interesting address filled with many facts and figures that are worthy of serious thought and consideration and was enjoyed by a large number.

Supt. Davis made the usual announcement about lunch and the services were halted to repair the inner man before taking up the afternoon's program.

After the dedication exercises came the various contests between the public schools of the district, and in spite of the cold, cloudy weather and the mud the field contests came off with lots of snap and speed. The literary and musical contests were the best ever seen at Bunn. Many of the numbers were perfect, indeed that they were so, not only because of the originality and talent of the pupils but also because of the close efficient training which they had received from their teachers. The contestants as a whole was a close one, Pilot winning with 100 points, Bunn and Pine Ridge tying for second place with 85 each, and Riley coming last with 5 points.

The results of the contests were as follows: Potato Race—Bunn, first; Pine Ridge, second. Suit Case Race—Bunn, first; Pine Ridge, second. Setting up Exercises—Pilot, first; Pine Ridge, second. Wand Drill—Pilot, first; Pine Ridge, second.

The big day was brought to a climax that evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the new building by a play, "The Prince of Liars," given by the faculty of the Bunn High School. From the standpoint of entertainment it was by far the best thing of the day. It made a hit; and judging from the applause of the audience at times some of the players made more than a hit—they must have smashed a home-run right over the fence. In the first place, it was a good play; and in the second place, the faculty, either by training or by their natural ability, got it off well. The prince of Liars lied so well and could tell a lie so much like the truth that we wondered just how long he had been at that sort of thing. We wonder if he will ever be able to tell the truth again. Then there was an aggravatingly fascinating little flapper that kept darting in and out on the stage—we never did find out her real name—but we left wondering just how much of that was a "make up" and how much really part of her. Every member of the faculty played their part well, and we hope to hear of their giving the play again somewhere before the school closes.

RECEIVE BIDS FRANKLIN COUNTY BUILDING

On Monday April 19th, Decision Executive Committee of the Trustees of Louisburg College at Meeting Tuesday

That the construction of the Franklin County Building at Louisburg College will begin soon is embodied in the decision of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees of the college at a meeting held on Tuesday morning at 11 a. m., at the college. Those present at the meeting were Revs. M. T. Plyler, of Raleigh, A. J. Parker, of Smithfield, Messrs. D. W. Newsom, of Durham and W. E. White, of Louisburg. President Mohn and Rev. O. W. Dowd also attended the meeting.

The question of the Franklin County Building was taken up and after going into the matter thoroughly the committee decided to call for bids to be opened on April 19th, at which time they will meet to let the contract.

President Mohn was much pleased at the action of the Board and stated that their action practically insured them of the entire first floor containing the class rooms for the session beginning in September, as this floor can be completed by that time and all efforts would be directed to that end.

The beginning of work on this building will naturally arouse much pride and enthusiasm among the people of Franklin County as it will be the realization of their dreams and ambitions and will be the call to the State Methodists to come to the rescue of Greater Louisburg College.

JUNIOR-SENIOR RECEPTION

Beautiful indeed was the reception given to the Senior Class of Louisburg College by the Juniors, on March 26, 1926. As the many guests entered the front door, they were met by two juniors who accompanied them to the drawing room where they were received by the officers and teachers of both classes in the receiving line. As they passed out they were given yellow and white autograph books and shown from the punch bowl to the social hall where the Louisburg Band furnished excellent music during the entire evening.

The parlors and the halls were lovely with their decorations of yellow and white narcissus, thus carrying out the class colors. The Easter idea was symbolized also by the little chicks, as favors, given with the yellow and white ice cream and cake served by the freshmen dressed in the junior colors.

"MAN ON THE BOX" PUTS SYD CHAPLIN AGAIN AT THE TOP

New Warner Picture Duplicates Hit Of "Charley's Aunt."

Warner Brothers outbid all other picture producers for the services of Syd Chaplin, because they believed they had the very story he needed to duplicate his phenomenal success in "Charley's Aunt."

"The Man on the Box," the celebrated novel and play by Harold MacGrath was the vehicle selected for Chaplin, and it will begin a 2 day run April 5-6 at the Winner Theatre with Chaplin heading a cast that includes David Butler, Alice and Kathleen Calhoun, Theodore Lorch, Helene Costello, E. J. Ratcliffe, Charles F. Reisner, Charles Gerrard and Henry Barrowea.

SOCIETIES GIVE PROGRAM TESTS

Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the society halls of the College, the Neithean and Sea Gilt literary societies presented a serious and enthusiastic program contest, the winners of which were to be awarded a prize by the losers.

The challenged society, the Sea Gilt, led off with a dainty picture play "The Evolution of a Flapper," in which the process was symbolized by the Pilgrim maid to the Flapper Flirt. This was followed by a "Blue Beard Stunt," during which the audience enjoyed again the awful agony and suspense of the old, old story. The climax of the well balanced program was reached in an original skit, "A Moot Court," in which a wicked man was tried for stealing a moonlight ride with a lovely Louisburg College girl, in spite of a faithful policeman, a watchful janitor, and a matchless dean. The cast had worked out a perfect court order, and the whole process moved forward in an orderly and dignified manner in spite of the many laughter provoking incidents.

The challenging society, the Neithean presented first a series of "Shakespearean Flashes," the "Sleep walking scene" from "Macbeth," the first appearance of the "Ghost" in "Hamlet," and the climax of the "Balcony scene" from Romeo and Juliet. The tension of the serious work was broken by another series of "Flashes," this time a Broadway chorus and Will Rogers gave thrilling exhibits of song and story, preparing the audience for the startling array of celebrities. Padewreski, Heifetz, Sousa and Marian Talley, each of whom entertained in a characteristic manner. The program closed with a succession of "Louisburg scenes," in which various members of the faculty, and friends in town who are "of us," were skillfully impersonated.

Both programs were characterized by such commendable merit both in subject matter and presentation, that no one envied the three judges their nice task of decision. The chairman in rendering the decision by which the "Sea Gilt" was declared the winner, said the line was closely drawn, and hard to find.

BURNED TO DEATH

The body of Isaac Perry, colored, was almost cremated Monday evening about 6 o'clock when the house he was living in burned down. Isaac was old and infirm and was unable to get out. He claimed that he was 102 years old, but in reality we suppose he was about 80. At the time of the fire he was alone, his wife being at work over town. His sons wife hadn't been very long left him after fixing up the fire and seeing that he occupied a place of safety. The building was the property of his son and was uninsured. All of the remains that could be gathered together were taken from the fire about 8:30 that night.

DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MET SATURDAY

The Democratic Executive Committee of Franklin County met in the Court House on Saturday, according to call of Chairman E. H. Malone. Five of the ten townships were represented and a discussion of the coming campaign had.

The Chairman and Secretary were instructed to figure out the number of delegates each township is entitled to and have same published.

TALKS CREAMERY

Prof. A. C. Kimrey, of the State College, at Raleigh, was in Louisburg on Thursday night of last week to meet a few citizens of the county to discuss the question of interesting the farmers in a creamery or the shipping of cream to another point. The matter was thoroughly gone into and it was ascertained that Franklin county was not situated at present so that it could support a creamery, but that it was easily possible and advisable that they develop this feature on their farms by maintaining from three to five cows each and shipping cream. It was figured that the ordinary average cow averaging two and one-half gallons of milk per day would turn in a revenue to the owner of about $115.00 annually. And that this number of cows could be taken care of on the average farm at practically no additional expense.

Dr. W. R. Bass and county agent Harris were requested to find six or a dozen farmers in the county who would be interested in such an enterprise and get in touch with Prof. Kimrey, who would come down and go into the matter fully with them.

M. S. Clifton speaking for the banks stated that they would be glad to finance several cars of pure bred cattle for this purpose.

The information received was very encouraging and will possibly result in the enterprise being established.

THE DEATH OF MRS. H. BLOUNT BRYAN

The Passing Of This Young Woman Brings Sorrow To Many Hearts.

Mrs. H. Blount Bryan died at 10:25 o'clock Wednesday morning at her home on Bell street after a brief illness, aged 23 years and 8 months. These two selections were favorites of Mrs. Bryan, and they were played by Mr. Berkeley at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan in Louisburg four and a half years ago.

Mrs. Bryan was a gifted violinist, a graduate of Converse College, and many a heart was made glad by her playing. She was ever ready and willing to help in any way she could to bring joy and cheer to others. She will be sorely missed by a host of admiring friends who loved and admired her for her sweet and unselfish disposition.

KIWANIS PRESENTS SPLENDID PROGRAM

Louisburg Kiwanis Club presented a splendid program at its usual Friday night luncheon last week. With Fisher Beasley as chairman of the program committee for the night an unusual and entirely local program was presented that met with much enthusiastic interest.

The music furnished by Miss Leonard, Miss Van Ende and Mrs. A. W. Mohn, of Louisburg College was especially fine and greatly enjoyed. It added quite a bit to the program and brought forth prolonged applause.

Louis Joyner made a most interesting speech on the subject of beautifying the town stating that "we don't appreciate our town as much as we should." He spoke of the necessity of having clean streets—going away with using them for storage and for undivided cooperation towards Louisburg College. He concluded by saying "we have a town we should feel proud of and we should let others know it."

The glass of water stunt was presented by Sid Holden and C. Hatton, the latter winning the prize.

Maj. Boddie in a most enthusiastic and patriotic talk instructed the club in the proper position to stand when singing the Star Spangled Banner.

President Mohn presided and a most interesting meeting was held.
