Things You Should Know

(by John Joseph Gaines, M. D.)

SLEEP

It has been said that sleep cures more nerve-disorders than all the drugs prescribed by science, to which statement most educated physicians willingly subscribe. Normal sleep is both preventive and curative for distressing states of the nervous system. Drug sleep is never natural—nor is the stupor caused by over-feeding. For best effects, sleep should be indulged at night.

Observe the new-born babe who sleeps most of his time, except when aroused to take nourishment; he is building a nervous system for many years of active service. His food contains the necessary ingredients, ready-prepared for his appropriation; being too feeble to take exercise, his sole business and occupation are the building of the rudimentary nerves along with the "temple" in which they are comfortably housed. Sleep is the ideal condition wherein Nature may accomplish her wonderful ends. Your wakeful, peevish, restless babe is going wrong—and will develop into a nervous, irritable, unhappy and defective youth, unless his course is corrected by the capable nurse or physician in charge. The adult is, in great measure, subject to the same physiologic law.

Sleep is the faithful chaperon of the nervous system, exerting her vigilance as long during life as her requirements are respected. Her approach is gentle—her touch sublime. And, what more delightful than her panorama of bewitching dreams? She is the guardian angel of the voyager on the sea of strenuous effort. To ignore her wilfully and repeatedly is to be forsaken by her—in which event, the penalty is sure, for only the banded knee and the tear of penitence can induce her faltering return.
