

McIVER TALKS TO KIWANIS

Misses Helen Leigh Fleming, Louise Cooper and Olivia McKinne Sing, and Miss Louise Taylor Reads To the Delight of the Many Present

One of the most inspiring, helpful and delightful addresses that has been delivered before the Louisville Kiwanis Club was that on last Friday night by John Archie McIver, pastor of the Louisville Baptist church when he talked a few minutes on service. He began by saying that everybody knew that his business was that of pastor of the Louisville Baptist church, but that he had a higher mission in life than that. His first motive was to be a Christian gentleman, and his second was to be of service to his fellowman. With this foundation he impressed his hearers with the importance of being of service, real service in time of need, and pointed with much gratification and force to the pleasures that are derived from the acts of real service to mankind.

Gather Beam had charge of the program for the evening and presented a most delightful one.

Misses Helen Lee Fleming, Louise Cooper and Olivia McKinne beautifully sang two numbers. They were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Bruce Berkeley.

Miss Louise Taylor delighted those present with three readings, "with the photographer," "when the train comes in," and "umph! not me."

It was decided to accept an invitation to be the guests of the Nashville Kiwanis Club on Thursday night of next week and to play a game of baseball with that club that afternoon.

David Harris was called upon to pull off that "Jew trick" he had been working on. He explained it mental telepathy, but he was accused of stacking the cards. Anyway he called on J. P. Timberlake, Jr., A. H. Harris and G. M. Beam and explained he would go out and let them agree on any one number and he would return and tell the club what it was. They agreed. David returned, felt of their heads, looked into their eyes, ears and nose, repeated and then turned and announced the number as 39. He was right.

Wayland Watson read a resolution from the Aberdeen Kiwanis Club relative to automobile accidents.

A discussion of the Halifax road was entered into wherein it was learned that Enfield is interested in opening this road. It was decided to turn the question over to the road committee with a request that they take immediate action. It was decided that Frank Roth act with the committee and see if they could get a committee to meet them in Nashville Tuesday to go before the Highway Commission otherwise to build their plans on an enlarged scale for the next meeting of the Nash Commission.

President Mohr presided and a most interesting and pleasant meeting was enjoyed by a large number.

ENTERTAINS CLASSMATES

Miss Sophia Clifton delightfully entertained her classmates at two tables of rook on Thursday morning at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Clifton, in honor of her thirteenth birthday. Misses Hazel Allen and Lucy Plummer Jones, who tied on the highest score prize, received a beautiful handkerchief.

Delicious refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served. Those enjoying Miss Clifton's hospitality were Misses Hazel Allen, Lula Mae Timberlake, Catherine Woodbridge, Margaret Holden, Lucy Plummer Jones, Patricia Holden and Cora Beasley.

ENTERTAINS IN HONOR OF BIRTHDAY

At the beautiful home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Roth, on Baker Heights, little Miss Dorothy entertained quite a number of her little friends on last Monday afternoon. The occasion was in celebration of her tenth birthday and many games were enjoyed. The afternoon was ideal and added much to the life of the outdoor games and therefore to the delight and merriment of the little folks. When all the games had been tried out delightful refreshments were served including, ice cream, cake and candy, much to the enjoyment of all.

Before leaving each guest was presented with a nice little souvenir in memory of the pleasant time they had engaged in on this occasion.

The many little gifts presented the little hostess were numerous and bespoke that sincere childish admiration.

Those present were Christine Collier, Edith Harris, Mamie Davis Beam, Margaret Tonkel, Laura Wiggs, Mary Fuller Beasley, Sophia Clifton, Mary Anna Clifton, Doris Strange, Dorothy Dennis, Jennie Williams Newell, Euraloe Gray Spivey, James Johnson, Wilson Spivey, Herbert Scoggin, Billie Bass, Edward Stovall, Allan Cobb, Harold Tonkel, John Lindsey Harris, O. C. Hill, Jr., James Collier, Jr., Raymond Tonkel, Fisher Beasley, Jr., Jack Knight.

All departed wishing little Dorothy many more happy birthdays.

Of all the things that are overdone, work stands at the bottom of the list.

PLACED UNDER $2,000.00 BOND

Butler Wiggins Sent Up To October Court for Killing Miss Hazel Perry; Hearing Before Squire Palmer Friday Afternoon

Butler Wiggins, colored, was bound over to the October term of Franklin Superior Court under a $2,000 bond by Squire J. L. Palmer on Friday afternoon.

When the charge was read to Butler he admitted the killing but claimed it to be an accident.

J. F. Perry was the first witness whose evidence was in effect that he saw the girl and examined the scene. She was struck while on the highway almost in front of Clyde Moody's house. He did not see Wiggins. He stated that he took measurements and that the girl was dragged 38 feet before she fell from the car, that the car ran 25 feet more before the brakes were applied, and that the wheels were drug 124 1-2 feet. "The girl was struck back of the head, and that the car was a little to the right of the centre of the road when she was struck. Mr. Perry was not at the scene at the time of the accident, but was about a mile away. His evidence was taken from measurements and indications on the road.

W. R. Flowers was the next witness called whose evidence was in substance that it was his car in which Hazel was riding and he was traveling from Spring Hope, that Hazel got out of the car in front of Clyde Moody's where he had stopped for her to get out and that she passed behind his car. He saw Butler coming from Pilot traveling toward Spring Hope driving a five passenger Ford, driving rather fast but was not willing to state that Butler was traveling beyond the speed allowed by law. Butler had to pass between his car and Moody's house. He heard the car hit the little girl. He stated that when Butler stopped he came back and helped to carry the little girl in the house.

E. T. Griffin testified in substance that he inspected the scene and helped to make the measurements, that Butler had plenty of room on his right to pass.

Butler Wiggins wanted to testify and was allowed to do so with the usual instructions of the court. His evidence was in substance that he was coming down the road and saw a car stop, that he blew his horn, saw little girl go round to back of car and start across road stooped to pull up stocking and never straightened again. He turned the car off hard surface on to the dirt struck her and threw himself back on road, that he lost consciousness of self is why possibly it took him so long to apply brakes. He said he was slowing down when he hit her. He stated he struck the little girl on his right hand side of the road and that he was at the other car before he saw her.

W. R. Flowers was recalled and stated in effect that he didn't hear horn—his motor was running and couldn't hear any. He was positive that Butler struck little girl while his car was on the hard surface and that his car left the hard surface after striking the little girl.

"APPLESAUCE" COMING

The feature attraction of the Swarthmore Chautauqua program to be here for five days opening today in Louisville is the comedy drama "Applesauce" by Barry Connors, which played to long runs in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston. This is a play with more than a laugh a minute according to actual count. It is still running in the larger cities and is the first play to be made available for Chautauqua while still playing the big centers.

Another big number is S. S. Henry and Co., in Magic, Art and Melody. Mr. Henry is a top notch magician and gives a magical performance of the first rank, but he also adds to that his novels and pictures which have to be seen to be appreciated and his incidental musical features are well worth hearing.

Musical and lecture features complete a program which is said to be of unusual merit.

Jessie Rae Taylor, characterist opens the week's program by her full evening of character portrayals. She is a dozen people in one. Each succeeding character is more interesting than its predecessor.

What is said to be the most novel demonstration of its kind in existence is Julius Caesar Nayphe's "Oriental Pageant" on the second night. He is a native of Greece and has resided in many of the Oriental countries, was educated abroad and in the United States. His work is much commented on long after he leaves town.

Ada Ward, the dynamic little Englishwoman with a big message, is the lecturer the third night. She will give "You Americans" or "Faces in the Crowd," the latter if she has been here before. She literally lifts her audience from their seats by the spell of her eloquence.

Miss Lethe Coleman comes from Oregon to give a message of universal interest in her lecture "The Homing of the People," an original idea presented by a charming and convincing speaker.

Petrie's Novelty Quartet with over a dozen different instruments in the opening day musical attraction in two big programs. The group of peppy collegians is on a leave of absence from the Keith circuits where they are proving that popular music well played has a very definite appeal.

The Johns-Flynn-Ringgold Co., will present two programs on the third day. Miss Johns is an Australian coloratura soprano, Miss Ringgold a prize winning pianist from Oklahoma. These two artists are just back from a period of European study. Miss Dorothy Flynn is an accomplished violinist.

On the last afternoon the Junior Chautauquans will give their pageant, "The Bell," in celebration of the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

"IRON HORSE" VIVID STORY OF PIONEERS

Organization of Express Business One of Interesting Angles

How the express business followed the transcontinental railroad, expanding commerce and extending civilization into the west, is recorded with remarkable realism in the William Fox picture, "The Iron Horse." Monday and Tuesday at the Winner Theatre.

And it is shown too, how express was shipped before the railroad crossed the prairie, when Kit Carson rode one horse steadily, day after day, for 4,000 miles. The little animal became so shy of Indians that he would leave the ground at the sight of a feather. But Carson got through with government mail, small express packages and money.

The express commenced transcontinental business with the completion of the railroad in 1867. William F. Harnden had commenced the first express business between Boston and New York on March 4, 1839. In 1840 Alvin Adams established his express business between Boston and the pony express with Buffalo Bill Cody as their chief rider.

With the opening of the railroad, the express business became one of the most important and the most picturesque in existence. Express guards worked across the plains with their guns always in reach. Many a good man died defending his little wooden car from attack from Indians and bandits. They asked no quarter and gave none.

"The Iron Horse" reveals the thrilling life of this period of American history with telling effect. George O'Brien, J. Farrell MacDon, and Madge Bellamy have the leading roles. John Ford is the director.

U. D. C. MEETING

The monthly meeting of the Joseph J. Davis Chapter U. D. C., was held at the home of Mrs. MacM. Furgeson June 1, 1926, with quite a number present. The meeting was called to order by the president, and the Lord's Prayer repeated in unison, "America" then being sung. June 3rd being the birthday of Jefferson Davis, the occasion was taken to observe his memory, the only President of the Confederacy.

Interesting papers were read by Mrs. W. E. White, Mrs. E. L. Best, and Mrs. C. K. Cooke, the latter reading the prayer offered at Jefferson Davis' inauguration. They had with them Mrs. Lou Davis, who is the oldest member of the chapter, and enjoyed exceedingly her talk on the war of the sixties, giving an incident of the battle of Manassas Gap, one of the first battles of the war.

Miss Sue Alston was appointed chairman of a committee to secure honor roll blanks for the veterans of the War between the States, these blanks to be filled by them and the records sent to the Confederate Museum in Richmond, Virginia. (This museum was the old home of Jefferson Davis.)

Little Jean Fleming sang beautifully two little songs, "I Know of Sweethearts a Plenty" and "My Little Gray Kitten."

Mrs. L. L. Whitaker, with Mrs. Fleming at the piano, sang "Lorena." As a duet, Mrs. Whitaker and Mrs. Melvar sang "Annie Laurie."

Delicious sandwiches and ginger ale were served by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. C. K. Cooke. Plates were decorated with sweet peas.

ORGANIZE BASEBALL CLUB FOR LOUISBURG

Louisburg To Enter Southern League

Expects To Play Two League Games Each Week With Other Games Thrown In To Create Amusement for Fans This Summer

A meeting was held at the Franklin Hotel on Monday night June 14th for the purpose of organizing a baseball team for Louisville.

Louisburg has not had a team now for several years, and it is believed it has some excellent material and there is no reason why Louisville should not put out as good an amateur team as can be found anywhere in this section of the State.

At this meeting Mr. F. J. Beasley was elected president and Mr. David Harris, secretary and treasurer.

Work has already been started to put the diamond at the fair grounds in shape and practice started Thursday. The boys will be in fine shape in a few days for the first practice game, and no doubt we will be able to put out a winning team to begin the second half of the Southern League series which opening game is scheduled for July fifth. This league will be composed of the following towns: Spring Hope, Bailey, Eureka and Louisville. Two games will be played each week and the schedule will be announced later. In addition to the regular league games the Louisville team will be open for games with any other towns in this section.

A large number of people in town as well as a few in the country have expressed a desire for baseball this summer. We have at least twenty-five good men from which to pick a winning team, and the team will be composed entirely of local talent. The boys who expect to try out for the team are all enthusiastic, and every man will have to fight for his job. You all know Earl Murphy, he is a dandy catcher, Bill Allen will hold down first base. It will be hard to decide on the other positions until several days practice can be had.

In order to put a winning team on the field we must have the support of the fans. It costs a little money to prepare for a baseball team and we feel sure the people of Louisville will respond when called upon.

BOYS CAMP

The Louisville boys are going to the Y. M. C. A. camp being conducted in Hayesville township this county, next Monday. Reservations have been made for as many boys as desire to come.

In speaking for the camp for next week W. A. Welch, district secretary of the Y. M. C. A., stated that any boy might come to camp regardless of whether he is a scout or not but that a desperate effort would be made to make every boy who comes to camp wish he was a scout before he leaves. Special scout work will be done and the boys will have an opportunity to pass as many tests as they desire.

Mr. Harris, scout master, will be in camp and Cole Savage, the old scout master, will also come. The boys are looking forward to a big time. Each scout should bring his own blankets, scout equipment, base ball bats and gloves and such toilet articles as he needs.

where they will attend summer school.

Dr. Samuel Perry, son of Mr. Junius Perry, of Bunn, was in town one day this week. He has just graduated in medicine from Emory University, Atlanta, Ga.

Miss Crichton Pearce, who has been spending her holidays visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Pearce near town, has returned to her work at Rocky Mount.
