

FRANKLIN COUNTY DAY Wednesday, July 28th, 1926

At Farmers Convention To Be Held At State College In July; Franklin County Folks Must Go In Big Numbers and Get Loving Cup

Representatives of different communities in the county met in Louisburg Saturday to make arrangements for the celebration of Franklin County Day at the farmers convention at Raleigh on July 28th. The state convention brings together for three days thousands of farmers and farm women from all parts of the state. A place has been secured on the program on the 28th for a Franklin county speech. The committee urges everybody in Franklin county to be there on that day and let the whole state know that Franklin county is on the map. We have the best county in the state, why not let everybody know it.

The convention offers a silver loving cup for the county having the largest attendance. The attendance being counted as the number of people from the county who attend multiplied by the number of miles from the county seat to Raleigh. Forsyth county won the cup last year. Franklin must bring it home this time.

E. L. Best was present at the meeting and stated that the school trucks could be used to carry people to the convention that day. Franklin county could easily have a thousand representatives to register that day. Let's do it.

Men, women and children will enjoy the convention program. There is plenty of room on the campus for parking cars and eating dinner. You can bring your dinner with you or you can eat in the college dining room where an excellent meal can be secured for 25 cents.

KIWANIANS OFF ON SPELLING

Possibly the most interesting portion of the Kiwanis program Friday night was the spelling bee pulled off by David Harris chairman of the program for the evening. Two sides were chosen by Malcolm McKinne and Maurice Clifton and Edwin Malone called out the words. Just where Dave found the blue back speller no one knows and most all agreed it was not like the ones their grandfathers studied as they knew the old ones never contained the words Edwin Malone found. It is still undecided who was winner.

The question of the return of the Chautauqua was discussed but no action was taken.

Fred Hicks, chairman of the publicity committee introduced a resolution expressing the dissatisfaction of the club in the action of the News and Observer not publishing articles from Louisburg. It was in a fair way of passing until an amendment was offered that the secretary take the matter up with Hon. Josephus Daniels, editor, first. The amendment carried.

Malcolm McKinne, chairman of the finance committee made a report relative to entertaining the Epworth League. A motion prevailed that the entertainment be made.

Frank Roth conveyed an invitation from the Kiwanians of Enfield to the Louisburg Club, which was accepted.

Arthur Mohr presided and while the time was taken up with business matters a most interesting and enjoyable meeting was had.

BANKS TO CLOSE

The banks in Louisburg will close on next Monday in observance of the Fourth of July. All persons having business with these institutions will bear this in mind.

MRS. ALLEN ENTERTAINS

Mrs. F. H. Allen was hostess at a bridge party and miscellaneous show at her home on North Main street in honor of Miss Elizabeth Morton, bride elect. Bridge was played at seven tables. At the conclusion of the games Miss Alice Perry Ford and E. K. Allen, Jr. brought in a wedding slipper which contained many lovely things for the bride. Miss Jocelyn Sikes, of Morehead, received the high score prize. A delicious salad course with food tea and nuts were served.

QUEER STYLES OF 1870 IN MOVIES

Marion Davies In Clothes of Other Days in "Lights of Old Broadway"

The American woman of today will find much to interest her in Marion Davies' "Lights of Old Broadway," a Cosmopolitan production for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, directed by Monta Bell at the Winner Theatre Tuesday.

In the early seventies, the period in which this stirring drama is laid, women's styles meant as much to that generation as our present day styles mean to us.

The fashionable shawl of that day was the pallsy—because they had never heard of the Spanish shawl now in vogue.

In this day of trying to hide our hips we look askance at the efforts of the girl of 1871 who wasn't in style if she didn't wear bustles.

Then there was the old fashioned chlorine who hesitates at showing permitted a peep—just a slight peep—at a trim ankle. Today its prudish chlorine who hesitates at showing a bare knee.

The picture divulges that grandmother was a flapper of her time—no matter what her attitude towards the immodest maiden of today. Grandma flapped in a different style but she made just as many male hearts do flip flops as the present generation does and she took the same feminine delight in exercising her wiles with mere males.

Marion Davies, who plays the dual starring roles of Anne and Fely, is at her best and in none of her former productions has she approached the artistry of her work in "Lights of Old Broadway."

She has an excellent cast playing in support of her. There are Conrad Nagel, Charles McHugh, Eleanor Lawson, Frank Currier, Julia Swayne Gordon, Mathew Betz, Wilbur Higby and George K. Arthur.

"Lights of Old Broadway" is a screen version by Carey Wilson of Laurence Eyre's stage success, "Merry Wives of Gotham."

GRAINGER-MORTON

On last Saturday evening, June 26th, at 9 o'clock, the First Baptist Church of Louisburg, was the scene of one of the most beautiful and interesting weddings ever solemnized in this city, when Miss Elizabeth Morton became the bride of Mr. James Marion Grainger, of Kinston.

The church had never been more beautiful, with its soft glow of myriads of Cathedral candles, green of palms and ferns intermingled with large clusters of Queen Anne's Lace.

Proceeding the ceremony a musical program was given with Mrs. A. H. Fleming at the organ, Miss Maude Ashley, soloist, Mr. Bruce Berkeley, violinist, and a chorus composed of Mesdames W. E. White, W. E. Uzzell, S. Bruce Berkeley, Luther Whitaker, and Messrs. T. W. Watson, Malcolm McKinne, Blair Tucker and Dr. H. H. Johnson.

After a beautiful rendition of Schubert's Serenade by Mrs. Fleming, Miss Ashley sweetly sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," and Mr. Berkeley gave "To a Wild Rose," as a violin solo. The chorus brilliantly rendered "Rose Maiden," and at its conclusion the organ softened into a few soft sweet notes, then pealed forth joyously into Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus as the bridal party entered.

Just preceding the bridal party, a group of the bride's girl friends, Misses Eleanor Yarborough, Louise Allen, Frances Barrow, Dorcas McKinne, Babbie Turner, and Katherine Easants, wearing rainbow colored dresses entered and were given a seat of honor at the front of the altar.

The first to enter were the ushers. They came down opposite aisles, crossed in front of the altar and took their places within the chancel. They were, Messrs. Gerald Allen, of Warrenton, Marion Oettinger, of Kinston, George Ford, of Louisburg and Grainger Pearce, of Weldon. These were followed by Misses Jocelyn Sykes, of Monroe, and Margaret Pearce, of Weldon, wearing bouffant dresses of rose taffeta and maline, carrying arm bouquets of blue delphiniums. They, also, crossed in front of the altar and stood within the chancel.

Then came Messrs. Wilson B. Morton, brother of the bride, and Emmett Raspberry, of Kinston. They stood just outside the chancel and were followed by Misses Annie Harris, of Louisburg, and Sarah McLean, of Wilson, also wearing bouffant dresses of blue taffeta and maline, with large bouquets of pink roses. Following them came Messrs. John Wood, of Kinston, and John Bonner, of Raleigh.

Then came Miss Fannie Neal, maid of honor, charming in a hand-painted gown of flesh colored chiffon, embroidered in iridescent beads, carrying a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses.

The bride entered with her uncle, Mr. J. L. Palmer, who gave her in marriage. She was entrancingly lovely in a gown of white French taffeta, with real lace and pearls. She wore white satin slippers with buckles of face and orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of brides roses and orchids, with shower of orchids and valley lilies. Her maline veil fell gracefully from a coronet of orange blossoms and was embroidered in clusters of orange blossoms and pearls.

She was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Emmett Wooten, of Kinston. Using the beautiful ring ceremony they were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. John Archie McIver, pastor of the bride. Amid the glad strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march the happy couple left the church. They, with the bridal party and a host of friends were tendered a reception at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. L. Palmer, at her lovely home on East Nash street.

Punch was served on the porch by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. White, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rose, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Egerton, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Malone, Jr. The guests were met at the door by Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Best and introduced to the receiving line by Mrs. J. M. Allen. The receiving line was composed of the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Palmer, bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Grainger, Mrs. Cora Phelps, of Henderson aunt of the bride, Mrs. H. H. Grainger, of Kinston, mother of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Freese,

HENDERSON DEFEATS LOUISBURG

Splendid Game of Ball Friday

Louisburg Loses First Game of Season; Henderson Has Splendid Team; Williamson Has Spectacular Experience

Although Louisburg lost the first game of the season to Henderson on last Friday afternoon when the two clubs played a fast and most interesting game of ball at the fair grounds, they put on a stubborn and determined fight, making the winners work for the lead they got.

The visitors brought a splendid team, well drilled and played a clean and pretty game. Each player showed evidence of being expert in his position.

The Louisburg team was made up entirely of home boys, who had not taken part in playing in so long they had to readjust themselves. But the readjustment was swift as they put up a game and stubborn fight. It was only by accident that the visitors were allowed to score. Allen pitched a nice game until he was relieved by Hayes in the eighth. Hayes pitched good ball but did not have time enough to get warmed up. Whitaker caught a nice game. Williamson made a spectacular play when he put out a whole side by catching three flies in center field in succession. The other players all did well and with a little more practice will develop a team work that will be hard to get a ball through. The line up was as follows:

Henderson—Riggan s; Winston, 2b; Powell 3b; Langley rf; Robertson 1b; Mayfield, J c; Brinkley cf; Mayfield L if, Alston p. Alston was relieved in the eighth by Finch.

Louisburg—Ford s; Allen, W. 1b; Williamson cf; Whitaker c; Burgess rf; Allen, J. p; Hale 2b, Lynch 3b; Hayes lf; Allen, J., was relieved in the eighth by Hayes whose left field position was filled by Murphy.

The score by innings was as follows:
Henderson 100 020 202—7
Louisburg 000 000 200—2

The batteries were Henderson: Alston, Finch and Mayfield. Louisburg: Allen, Hayes and Whitaker. Umpires: Malone and McKinne.

Quite a good crowd was present, but not as many as should have been to give the boys the proper encouragement.
