SALE WILL ONLY LAST A SHORT WHILE

For Helping Us Unload Our STOCK

When A TONKEL started to unload his stock last Friday at 9 a. m., hundreds of people from far and near were there to help unload and they were paid well for their help. Every-one realized they were getting the biggest bargains ever offered at a sale in Louisburg. The buying was greater than we expected. So great were the bargains that many went home for more money and came back and bought more. Men, women and children gasped and looked awed when they saw the prices. They will be talking about this sale for months to come. Some of them are buying enough things to last them for months—take it from us the people of Louisburg know a good thing when they see it. They realize it is not after they get the chance to buy high grade merchandise at such low prices.

Happy throngs here give proof that our prices are right. To put over a great sale in this town you don't need a name for it, you don't need a picture, you don't need price lists, you don't have to know all those fancy terms like "Consumer Acceptance," and "Cumulative Effect." Just give them prices like this, that's all—

From A Mother's Viewpoint
Warranted pride shines these days in the eyes of Mrs. Byrd, who but yesterday was a young Virginia mother with hopes for her two stalwart boys, Harry and Dick. She has just returned home from the East where she witnessed the nation bestow great honors—on Dick—the younger son, who is Lieut.-Commander R. E. Byrd, the first to fly over the North Pole—carrying the Stars and Stripes ahead of all nations. Brother Harry helped in the welcome home, leaving his desk as Governor of Virginia long enough to join in. Can you imagine this mother's pride as she saw her two boys riding down Broadway while thousands cheered the hero of the North?

To Grow Bananas In South

After seven years of intensive search and experimentation, Dr. T. J. Harris has discovered banana seeds and is now introducing their cultivation in the South. He plans to make this great food fruit a profitable crop in Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Texas and later in South Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky. Picture shows Dr. Harris in his southern gardens.

Boy or Girl? A Great Golfer

Several aristocratic mammas of Wentworth-by-the-Sea, N. H., objected to the rough way the good looking swimming instructor handled their daughters during their lessons. The "male" instructor turned out to be the famous Alleen Riggan with a boyish bob.

It took Bobby Jones 12 years to break into national title holding ranks, but now at 24 he is recognized as one of the greatest golfers in the world. He was battling for his third title last week in the U. S. Open at Columbus, O.—already holding the U. S. Amateur and the British open. Photo—as he arrived from England with his new title.

THE NEAL FARM CHANGES HANDS

The farm belonging to the estate of the late W. P. Neal, which has been operated by Mr. D. F. McKinne for the past eleven years, is now in the hands of its owners.

This farm, situated on both sides of Far river, ten miles from Louisburg and two miles from Bunn, is known to be one of the best farms in Franklin county.

Mr. McKinne, a most capable and efficient business man of Louisburg has taken great pride and interest in the up-keep of the land, and has built several new dwellings, barns and outhouses.

The land is well terraced and in good condition for crops of all kinds, especially tobacco, cotton and corn. Several hundred acres of timber land that have been cut over are ready to be cleaned.

NEW "STANDARD" MOTOR OIL

An oiler oil which embodies an entirely new principle of lubrication has been developed by the Standard Oil Company after three years of long experimenting and exhaustive tests. It will be known as "Standard" Motor Oil, and is now available to motorists.

This important announcement was made today by W. C. Teagle, president of the Standard Oil Company. According to Mr. Teagle the new "Standard" Motor Oil solves the problem of spotty lubrication which has baffled engineers ever since the perfection of the internal combustion engine. It is an oil of greater oiliness, and possesses many advantages over the best of the old type oils.

"For years, engineers endeavored to find an oil," stated Mr. Teagle, "that would cling to metal surfaces so thoroughly as to abolish the areas of partial lubrication—the dry spots which permit that grinding of metal upon metal, and which result in scoring of cylinder walls, lead to dilution and other factors destructive to lubrication.

"Such an oil must not be of too heavy a grade. It must be, in fact, an oil of greater oiliness. And that is exactly what this new 'Standard' Motor Oil is.

"Because of its greater oiliness and its ability to 'stay put,' the new 'Standard' Motor Oil establishes a new principle of lubrication, thereby giving it many advantages over even the best of the old type oils. The new oil provides a constant lubrication film on the metal surfaces. It permits frictionless operation, in a practical sense, even upon starting a motor after idleness.

"There is less 'breaking down' under load or at high speed. The new oil makes hill climbing easier, gives smoother operation in high gear at low speeds, saves gasoline with or without carburetor adjustment.

"Besides, the new oil is low-carbon forming and tends to soften and clean out from the cylinder walls, piston-heads and spark plugs some of the carbon already formed.

Tested Year in Our Cars
"The Standard Oil Company worked several years to perfect this new oil. Even then, after conducting more than a hundred exhaustive tests the company decided not to offer it to the public until we had given the new oil a thorough trial of twelve months in our own fleet of cars and trucks.

"These were grueling tests under every day driving conditions, yet this new motor oil brought an increase in gas mileage as high as 12 per cent. It gave an increase in power of from 3 per cent to 18 per cent. Oil mileage was better by 3 to 35 per cent.

"In all these tests, the motor ran cooler with the new oil. There was less crank-case dilution. Carburetors could be adjusted for leaner mixtures, and many of the men reported they could actually feel the difference while driving."

New Available
Extensive preparations have been made by the Standard Oil Company to have the new motor oil available on and after July 15th. Special attention has been given to both city and rural distribution in order that every section may have the new oil at the same time.

During the past several weeks, the Standard Venettes located at Jersey City, N. J., Bayonne, N. J., Baltimore, Md., and Parkersburg, W. Va., have been running to capacity meeting the distribution demands. "Standard" service stations and dealers have been stocking the new oil as fast as they can obtain it.

Dear Miss Flo:—When a lady accompanies a gentleman to a dance, may she dance with other gentlemen? F. W.

It is quite permissible for her to dance with other gentlemen. However, she should first ask her escort's consent. A gentleman should not ask the lady to dance directly. Instead, he should ask her escort, "Do you mind if I ask Miss _____ to dance?"

Dear Miss Flo:—A number of people eat asparagus with the fingers. Is this good form? A. S.

The tips of asparagus should be cut off and eaten with the fork. The other end may be dipped in sauce and eaten with the fingers.

Dear Miss Flo:—When nuts are served at dinner, should they be served in their shells or already shelled? When vegetables are served in separate dishes, should they be eaten from the dishes in which they are served, or taken on the dinner plate? F. G.

Nuts should be shelled when served at dinner. Vegetables should be eaten from the dishes in which they are served.
