OUR RALEIGH LETTER

By M. L. Shipman

Raleigh, July 12.—The annual meeting of the State Board of Agriculture, the selection of a successor to Judge Bryson in the Twentieth Judicial District, the final rush for automobile license plates, commutation of the death sentence of Alvin Mansel, colored, charged with an attack on a white girl in Buncombe county, selection of officers for the North Carolina Railroad Company and minor movements of Governor McLean were among the items of interest in Raleigh during a week of sultry weather augmented by the ever presence of a burning summer sun.

The State Board of Agriculture held its annual meeting in the office of Commissioner Graham, heard a helpful address from Governor McLean, listened to a highly constructive report presented by the Commissioner and transacted the business brought to its attention. In his address Governor McLean stressed the importance of dairying and poultry raising, pointing out that too much attention had hitherto been given to cotton upon which the farmers had been relying to the neglect of other necessities.

Commissioner Graham stated in his report that the State Department of Agriculture is supported by its own receipts on the pay-as-you-go plan and now has a nice little surplus to its credit. Receipts from July, 1925, to June 30, 1926, amounting to $436,133.38 exceeded the expenditures $4,995.56. Balance on hand, according to the Commissioner, on July 1, 1926, was $90,274.57, and on July 1, 1926, $95,787.69. Income for the department comes from the sale of fertilizer tags cotton seed meal tags, feed tags, and receipts from test farms, the latter alone yielding the sum of $45,854.55, while from the sale of serum there had been collected $15,328.10. Fertilizer tonnage on which tax was paid during the year totaled $1,213,173. Commissioner Graham recommended the establishment of two test farms, one near the Albemarle Sound for experimental work on soy beans and potatoes and another in the sand hills on which experiments in fruit could be made.

On receiving the news of the nomination of Walter E. Moore, of Sylva, to succeed Judge Bryson in the Twentieth District, Governor McLean immediately tendered appointment to the vacancy as of July 1st to Mr. Moore, who declined for business reasons. The honor finally fell upon John H. Harwood, of Bryson City, who, since adjournment of the General Assembly, has been one of the assistants attorney general stationed in the Department of Revenue. O. H. Allen Raleigh attorney and son of the late Supreme Court Justice W. R. Allen, succeeds Mr. Harwood here.

There was a steady flow of coin into the coffers of the License Bureau the last three or four days of the week, the scene around the central office here taking on the appearance of bread lines during the late war. Hundreds stood for hours each day waiting their opportunity to procure the coveted block of tin which would enable them to scale the highways at moderate speed unmolested.

After becoming fully convinced that a reasonable doubt existed in the case of Alvin Mansel, a negro youth sentenced to die for attack on a white girl in Buncombe county, Governor McLean commuted the sentence to life imprisonment. The case was thoroughly investigated and the action of the Governor is generally approved.

Stockholders of the North Carolina Railroad Company meeting in annual session at Greensboro during the week re-elected all old officers, heard the report of the secretary-treasurer, Wiley G. Barnes and attended to the usual routine. The officers are: President, Ward H. Wood, Charlotte; vice-presidents, Alexander Webb, Raleigh, J. Bayard Clark, Fayetteville; secretary-treasurer, Wiley G. Barnes, Raleigh; expert, Chas. F. Dalton, Charlotte.

Governor McLean, Adjutant General Metts joined a number of National Guard officials on a visit to Camp Glenn on Friday where His Excellency did the reviewing stunt and had a fine time; the Governor attended a meeting of the board of trustees of the North Carolina College for Negroes in Durham during the week and put his "O. K." on the management; at a meeting of interested officials in the Governor's office early in the week an agreement to dispose of the Experiment Station poultry farm was reached without difficulty.

The State Department of Public Instruction gave out figures recently showing that in 1918-19 $694,537.31 were expended on the public school system of the State, while during a similar period, 1924-25, the sum of $12,470,059.28 was "invested" in like manner. According to the Department the year 1919-20 marked the real beginning of the "school building era" in this State, apparently, state development of this character has barely started. The State is talking millions instead of thousands and hundreds of thousands.

1926 license plates are now obsolete and the maximum fine for using one is $50. Last Saturday was the last day on which they could be legally used. Motorists have had fair warning and Commissioner Doughton cannot reasonably be held blameable for other peoples neglect. Not only the central office in Raleigh, but more than two score subsidiary branches over the State have been at the service of those desiring new license tags, the prices of which range from $12.50 to $40.00.

Andrew Joyner, statistician of the State Insurance Department, tells the world that North Carolina celebrated the Fourth of July this year without a casualty, which could be directly traceable to the celebration. Fireworks were "taboo" and automobiles "held high carnival." Mr. Joyner likes the change and has plenty of company.

"The North Carolina Chess Society" was formed here during the week with Dr. Evan Battle, Rocky Mount, president; Dr. A. B. McCreary, Rockingham, vice-president; W. A. Radslinger, Raleigh secretary-treasurer. The meeting was held at the Sir Walter Hotel, with around fifty enthusiastic performers present and participating, both in the organization and in the tournament which followed, with Mr. Radslinger the victor.

State officialdom was favored during the week by a visit from Gutzom Borglum, noted sculptor who stopped over on his way north from San Antonio, Texas. During his brief sojourn in Raleigh Mr. Borglum talked to the Governor and State Treasurer about a re-arrangement of the Aycock and McIver monuments on Capitol Square. Touching the George Washington statue the sculptor stated that few monuments in America are so well arranged. He had little to say of Stone Mountain, Georgia.

The Division of Markets, State Department of Agriculture finds that North Carolina produces sixteen million pounds of butter less than it consumes and twenty seven million gallons of milk less than it drinks. The per capita consumption of milk per year is 43 gallons; butter seventeen pounds each; ice cream, 4 1-4 quarts each, which indicates that a lot of folks do not even get a taste of frozen cream, except in the winter time. The State produces 25,000,000 pounds of country butter and two million pounds of creamery butter. It needs 16,000,000 pounds more to meet the demands of local customers. The Department is endeavoring to assist the farmers in an increased production of milk, butter and sweet cream and thus enable them to keep their money at home.

By train, bus and automobile young men and young women by the hundred arrived at State College early in the week to attend the Short Course in home economics and farm demonstration work. As fine a company of youngsters as ever got together anywhere and they were not idle a moment of the time. They knew what they had been doing at home and were not ashamed to tell about it here. They had an enjoyable time of it, but never at any time appeared to lose sight of the fact that they came to Raleigh for business as well as pleasure.

Owners of Dodge cars are protesting the raise in license tags from $12.50 to $20.00 because the .03 horse power above 24 is such a trifling matter. Officials of the Carolina Motor Club have been taking a hand in the discussion and the State Highway Commission has had to decline a recommendation requested by those interested. The Department of Revenue will be guided in its decision by the Attorney General. The North Carolina Automotive Association contends that it is going too far to ask extra payment of $7.50 for the extra fraction of horse power.

Twelve hundred North Carolina concerns were granted charters last year by the Secretary of State; the Osteopathic State Board of Examiners were in session from Thursday until Saturday examining applicants for license to practice; peach shipments to date are 250 cars less than 1925.
