The President's Summer Camp

The South Dakota Game Lodge, high up in the Black Hills, where President Coolidge will spend his summer vacation. The lodge is a 30-room structure and so arranged that the large official and news staff which will accompany the Chief executive can be well housed. The lodges expect to be in camp by the third week in June.

BLACK HILLS A BEAUTY SPOT

Only the arrival of Captain Charles Lindbergh from Europe delays a possible earlier start of President Coolidge for his summer camp, the South Dakota Game Lodge, situated high in the Black Hills. In a special cable to America's flying ace, the President asked Lindbergh to come direct to Washington on the cruiser Memphis, arrive at the capital by June 11. President Coolidge does not want to start for the West until he has officially welcomed home our "Ambassador of the Air" who made history in his Atlantic hop, New York to Paris. Also the government wants to confer all suitable honors and show appreciation in a fitting manner. Summer White House in Black Hills. Within the week after Lindbergh's arrival, the President and his office staff, with a great group of special press correspondents will be off for the West and for the next ten to twelve weeks the nation at large will learn many interesting facts not generally known about the beauties and natural resources of the Dakota Black Hills.

The decision by the President to make the South Dakota Game Lodge the official summer White House during 1927 will advertise a very much neglected resource. Residence by the head of a nation is usually the making of a resort. Before George IV. went to Brighton it was known only as a fishing hamlet under the name of Brighthelmston. For a hundred years since it has been England's Atlantic City.

No doubt many sincere but not fully informed American students of geography will lose some wagers this summer if history repeats itself. Natives of North Carolina once paid handsomely for misdirected faith in their knowledge of facts.

The Highest Peak East of Rockies. Mt. Washington in the White Mountains of New Hampshire stands 6,711 feet above sea level. In North Carolina stands Mt. Mitchell—which towers some 423 feet above Mt. Washington. It was the honest belief of native sons that Mt. Mitchell was the highest peak East of the Rockies.

Therefore, when strangers appeared in North Carolina some years ago, disputing that Mt. Mitchell was the highest peak East of the Rockies—and willing to back up their claim with cold cash,—Carolians dug deep and many thousands of dollars were wagered.

Then the strangers produced U. S. Geological Survey records, showing Harney Peak, Black Hills, as 7,242 feet high—just 108 feet higher than Mt. Mitchell.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

We Are Biscuit Cutters. The charge is brought against America that it represents a biscuit cutter civilization. That is, that goods which are manufactured, as well as the minds of the people generally, are in a set form. There is too much unanimity and sameness about life and not enough individualism.

Well, the biscuit cutter idea has something to be said in its favor. It means standardization of products. It means that parts shall be made by machinery and shall be of an interchangeable nature. Almost all the reduction in price and the enormous product of our concerns have been due to the elimination of waste and expense by standardization.

In newspaper columns it is said that in five years the industrial output has increased 40 per cent. One manufacturer says: "One man working steadily for 8 hours used to turn out 60 pieces an hour, or 480 a day. He got $65 a week. Then we put in machines. We have 30 men on the job and we put out 14,000 pieces a day." This story has been multiplied by many.

Cotton seed, once a waste product, has been used in many ways. In Wisconsin they are making paper from peat. Because of this standardization and our immensely increased products we have become the wealthiest nation in the world. We are producing not only surplus cotton and wheat, but surplus industrial products and we have a surplus of money.

We are richer than ever was a nation before.

We own 20,000,000 motor cars, millions of homes and we travel and live luxuriously. Savings deposits in banks are twice as much as they were twenty years ago.

We are supplying the world with capital. New York has effectively challenged the financial leadership of London. Our people now hold bonds to the extent of six billion dollars and the foreign indebtedness to the United States is now in excess of sixteen billion dollars.

Mr. Welton says: "The fact is that America is not only the richest country in the world, but richer than any country ever was before and it is destined to become still richer."

The biscuit cutter civilization, reduced to its lowest terms, simply means that our people have learned to cooperate and save waste as well as utilize the forces of nature.

Lindbergh is the boy who put the rep in IntREPID.
