

How Long Can You Keep
Money in Your Pocket?

MONEY

The money that you don't carry with you you can't spend and can't lose. If you carry your surplus money in your pocket you seldom have a surplus long. Besides, while it's in your pocket it's losing interest.

It doesn't matter how small the surplus is. A dollar will open an account here and, once opened, it grows.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

Rhus Poisoning

In the rural districts of our middle latitudes, the "poison ivy" grows luxuriantly, to the sorrow and pain of those who are susceptible to its influence. Only last week a victim came to my office, with face so swollen, that both eyes were almost shut out from light; with difficulty could he see to go about, because of the greatly distended eyelids. Having no relatives near, or intimate friends, I sent him to the hospital for two days, until the inflammation could be subdued.

I wish to warn my readers against the mistake this man made, using ointments on a case of rhus poisoning; he had, to use his expression, "piled on the salve" for two days and nights, only to intensify his suffering. The ointment actually keeps the active poison beneath the layers of the skin—the very thing that should not be done, no matter how "soothing" the salves are reputed to be. I have seen small sloughs result in rhus dermatitis, when ointments were used erroneously.

Being an acid poison, our success lies in neutralizing the acid with an alkali, as soon as possible. The best remedy I have ever used is, alcohol and lime water—equal parts, applied on cloths or gauze wet with the solution. The lime counteracts the acid, and the alcohol consumes the water from the swollen tissues; the treatment does not exclude air, nor does it keep the poison in. If any of the solution should accidentally get into the eye, it does no particular damage.

Solutions of lead salts are used with good effect—but lead is harmful, unless used under the careful direction of the physician. The alcohol and lime water are equally efficient, and can be applied continuously without danger. The patient above mentioned was cleared of his affliction in seventy-two hours.
