OVERSIZE Cotton Guano

The Spot Cash Company,
Louisburg, N. C.

Gentlemen:

In reply to your letter, the car of Oversize 8-3-3 Cotton Guano I used last year was entirely satisfactory.

My yield was heavy and my cotton matured early.

Please ship me a 30 ton car at once.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) R. L. PEOPLES.

The Kind of Woman I Would Like To Be When I Am Grown

When I am grown up, I want to be the kind of person that is welcome anywhere. I want to be true, faithful and loved by everyone on earth. I want to be a missionary and help the foreign people that never heard of our Saviour, for there are thousands of people that never heard of him.

I want to be kind and respectful to the old, and always be willing to help them.

Now, that I am young I want to be a church worker and go to Sunday school each Sunday and when I am old I will keep this up.

I also want to take advantage of every opportunity and secure a good education so when I am older I can work and help my mother, and give a tenth of my work to the Lord.

I want to be a christian all of my life, and always called a truthful person. When I die I want to go to heaven, and leave a good name, when I have gone to a better land.

ATHELEE GUPTON, Centerville School, Sixth Grade.

Life of George Washington

George Washington was born in a colony of Virginia, his father was a planter and died when George was eleven leaving his mother with a large family, and to take care of the plantation.

George said after life, "All I am and hope to be I owe it to my mother." We think she is a great and good woman.

He was like his mother in character. He had a high temper but could control it. Even as a boy he thought he was to do right. He was sober minded but he could beat anybody running, wrestling, pitching or riding. At an early age George was sent to school at a country school. When he grew older he went to better schools. The children had to sit on hard benches for hours, only reading, writing and arithmetic was taught. By the time he was fourteen years old he had become a very serious boy, studying even at recess for he had to help his mother with her business affairs.

When Washington was sixteen he became a surveyor.

Once he delivered a message for the Governor of Virginia, and at this time risked his own life but delivered it successfully.

He was a general in the Revolutionary War and always fought bravely always asking God to lead him right before entering a battle.

One of the greatest things to be said about Washington today is he always told the truth. When he cut his father's cherry tree and killed his mother's colt he was honest about it.

He was our country's first President and served it eight years, after which he went to live at Mt. Vernon, a beautiful place on the Potomac. There he died and was buried.

Tho he is not here in person his memory still lingers and he is honored today as one of America's greatest men.

Experienced tobacco growers are of the opinion that only good yields of high quality weed will pay this year in view of the proposed expansion in planting.

The Farmers Club of Craven county recently held a Ladies Night meeting at which their wives were invited to a turkey supper.

Tom Tarheel says he never would have sold his sweet potatoes this spring if the county agent had not found a market for them.

Frequent Bilious Attacks

"I suffered with severe bilious attacks which came on me two or three times every month," says Mr. Ollie Miller, of Murray, Ky.

"I would become dizzy. My head would ache terribly, feeling as if it would almost burst. It felt exactly like a tight band was being drawn closer and closer around my temples.

"My stomach would be so upset I could not retain any kind of nourishment for hours. I would have to quit work and go to bed.

"My color was awful. I was yellow and my skin was drawn and dry. I did not have any energy—no ambition to work. I was just about half sick most of the time because of these spells.

"One day one of my neighbors, who has used Theford's Black-Draught for years, said he had noticed how bad my color was and thought it would help me.

"I got some Black-Draught immediately and began to take it regularly until I got my system clear of the poison I had been absorbing. I soon began to feel better and developed a fine appetite. I had no more bad headaches or bilious spells."
