MISS SUSIE MCGHEE KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Franklin Woman Loses Life When Car Overtaken Near South Hill

Miss Susie McGhee, of Franklin, was killed outright, and Miss Dorothy McGhee badly injured, but other occupants of the car escaped uninjured, when the Dodge sedan in which they were riding overturned on the Henderson-Richmond highway some 10 miles north of South Hill about nine o'clock Monday morning, according to information received here. It was reported that the car overturned when the brakes were suddenly applied in passing another machine.

Miss McGhee was a member of a party of six en route to Annapolis, Md., where they were accompanying young Jack Joyner, who was to enter the United States Naval Academy. The other occupants of the car were Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Joyner, parents of Jack Joyner; Miss Dorothy McGhee and B. C. Cooke. All were from Franklin.

Miss McGhee was the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth McGhee, of Franklin, member of a prominent family of that town, and sister of Col. C. L. McGhee and Mrs. A. S. Joyner.

A hearse was sent from Franklin for the body, reaching Franklin with it at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock from the home of Mr. Joyner, conducted by Rev. Mr. Randolph, and was largely attended. The interment was made at Fairview cemetery. The floral offering was one of the largest and most beautiful ever seen in Franklin bearing a beautiful message of love and sympathy for the deceased.

The bereaved family have the deepest sympathy of a large number of friends in Franklin and adjoining counties.

Chicken Supper

One of the most enjoyable occasions that has been experienced in Louisburg in some time was the delightful chicken supper given by the Louisburg Fire Department on Tuesday night to its members and a number of invited guests. Promptly at eight o'clock, as John Howell said the department did not wait five minutes after the alarm to answer a fire, the guests were seated at a large table placed in the main hall of the fire house and prayer was offered by Rev. J. D. Miller. The table had been previously laden with the choicest lot of fried chicken one could imagine, hot rolls, tea, lemonade and salad, and presented a most delightful scene to the eye and appetite alike. All partook of the invitations to eat all he could hold and then some and it was real amusing to see so many reach for their belts to let out another hole in order to increase their capacity. The familiar cry of Henry Clay calling for chicken livers and the musical voice of John Howell, acting as toastmaster brought pleasant memories of former occasions to many. After all had feasted until it was impossible to feast further on the splendid fried chicken cream and cake, the following gentlemen responded to requests and made splendid talks, complimenting the Louisburg Fire Department as second to none in the State and the necessity for further and better equipment: Rev. J. D. Miller, W. R. Willis, Ben T. Holden, L. L. Joyner, W. E. White, A. W. Person, A. F. Johnson, J. A. Hodges, J. S. Howell and former Chief F. J. Beasley and present Chief W. N. Fuller.

These chicken suppers are an annual affair with the Louisburg Fire Department and are greatly enjoyed both by the firemen and their guests each year.

Messrs. J. S. Howell and J. E. Thomas, the committee on arrangements for the supper, received the congratulations from all for the excellent manner in which the occasion was handled.

The Katherine Tow Society Meets

The Katherine Tow Society met with Mrs. F. S. Leonard Saturday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock. There were ten members and six visitors present.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. M. M. Person, who read for the scripture reading the 12th chapter of Romans.

Mrs. S. E. Wright led in prayer after which the society repeated the Lord's prayer.

After singing "More About Jesus," Miss Ruth Parrish read an interesting paper, "To Work for Thee."

We decided to get Cokesbury song books before the meeting begun in August. Also to buy curtains for the Sunday school rooms. We will organize a Junior Missionary Society next Sunday morning.

Mrs. W. S. Person read, "Let Me Tell You a Good Story," a selection from the missionary voice, "Wanted Good Women," (Missionary News) was read by Mrs. S. E. Wright.

The program was closed with a prayer by Mrs. M. M. Person. The meeting was then turned over to the hostess who served delicious refreshments.

We adjourned to meet with Mrs. T. R. Gupton July 14.

A Delightful Barbecue

Mrs. Foster is the wife of the late Dr. E. S. Foster and she and her daughter have long been the much loved friends and neighbors of all in Louisburg and the county at large.

At about five o'clock on last Tuesday afternoon Miss Virginia Foster gave a most delightful barbecue on the lawn of her home in honor of her mother's seventy-seventh birthday.

The guests were met at the front entrance by Mrs. L. P. Hicks, presented to Mrs. Foster and then shown seats on the beautiful, spacious lawn, made still more attractive by many potted plants and cut flowers.

For some time the guests enjoyed mingling with old friends, some new acquaintances and out of town guests. The cue was delicious and bountiful, and most pleasantly served by the hostess, Miss Virginia Foster and Mesdames R. C. Beck, Carey Howard, Al Hodges, James Markham and W. E. White, Jr.

Just as the guests thought the festivities complete a large birthday cake bearing seventy-seven candles was brought in and placed on a table amidst the assembled guests. Mrs. J. E. Malone, life time friend and neighbor of Mrs. Foster, then made a beautiful address of appreciation and presented the cake to Mrs. Foster. Mrs. J. L. Palmer followed telling what Mrs. Foster had meant to her and to the town. Mrs. L. P. Hicks spoke of the joy of having Mrs. Foster as a next door neighbor for fifty years. The guests then gathered about Mrs. Foster to light a candle and express their love and good wishes.

Among the out of town guests and relatives present were Mrs. Foster's daughter, Mrs. W. C. Matthews, of Columbia, Tenn., Mrs. John Cross, Miss Kittie Foster, Miss Kate Stronack and Miss Nell Murray, of Raleigh, Mrs. W. W. Tolleson, of Durham, Miss Edna Ballard, of Charlotte and Miss Rosa Waddell, of Selma.

A more enjoyable occasion has seldom been experienced by those present and each and all wish for Mrs. Foster and her highly esteemed daughters, Virginia and Matilda, many long and happy years together.

FARMERS CREAMERY PROVING A SUCCESS

Less than four weeks ago the Farmers Creamery of Louisburg, opened its doors for business and ever since it has been proving a success. On the opening day only eighteen farmers delivered cream, today there are forty-two farmers who are delivering their cream regularly and all patrons are well pleased. Mr. L. L. Godfrey, who is the butter-maker reports that he has been churning twice a week since the creamery opened and that he churned 631 pounds of butter the last churning. He also reports that they are paying 43 cents per pound for butterfat.

There is much interest shown by the farmers since the creamery has been opened and many farmers are visiting us daily. They all seem to be well pleased and have expressed themselves willing to sell cream in the near future.

As evidence of interest since the creamery has opened there has been four silos bought by farmers in this county and many acres of feed crops have been planted this year.

A movement is now on foot to import ten pure bred bull calves in the near future to insure a better stock of cows.

EPSOM IS ACCREDITED HIGH SCHOOL

The following letter has been received from Dr. J. Henry Highsmith, Director Division School Inspection, Raleigh, N. C.

June 15, 1928.
Principal J. A. Woodward,
Epsom High School,
Henderson, N. C., R. 1.
My dear sir:

The annual report of the Epsom High School for the session of 1927-28 has been received. We have checked the report very carefully and find that the requirements for accredited rating have been met. I take pleasure in informing you, therefore, that the Epsom High School is being placed upon the accredited list in Group II, Class B. I congratulate you upon this achievement.

With all good wishes, I am,
Cordially yours,
J. HENRY HIGHSMITH

Franklin county should feel congratulated upon having a standard high school in riding or walking distance of every boy and girl in the county. There are few counties in the State that can boast of having all of its high schools on the accredited list. The school authorities hope in a few years to have all of its elementary schools meeting the requirements for standard rating.

At the Baptist Church

Rev. John Archie McIver, pastor, announces that there will be services as usual, at the Baptist church next Sunday. Sunday school meets promptly at 9:45. Let every member be there. Don't forget your Bibles.

"I was glad when they said unto me let us go into the house of the Lord."

HERBERT HOOVER

HOOVER AND CURTIS REPUBLICAN NOMINEES

Each Received Nomination On First Ballot; Republican Nominees for President and Vice-President

Kansas City, Mo., June 15.—Making good on the talk of its campaign orators about this great land of opportunity for all, the Republican party has presented to the nation as its national ticket for 1928 two men who started life as orphans at the bottom of the ladder:

For President—Herbert Hoover, of California.
For Vice-President—Charles Curtis, of Kansas.

Two Candidates
The party offers for President—the son of an Iowa blacksmith, who worked his way through Stanford University by waiting on the tables of wealthy students, became one of the world's greatest mining engineers, director of Belgian relief and of America's war-time food administration, secretary Commerce in the Harding and Coolidge cabinets, and now the Republican nominee by an overwhelming majority vote.

The party offers for Vice-President—the descendant of Chief White Plume, of the Kaw tribe, raised on an Indian reservation in Kansas, who was by turns race track jockey, long-groomer, senator and majority Senate leader, and today was chosen Hoover's running mate by a vote that was almost unanimous on the first roll call.

These are the men the Republican party offers to the nation as the result of a convention, which, in some respects, may be the milestone marking the beginning of a new trend in the nation's political life.

Begins New Era

In his message to the convention today, thanking the party for the nomination, Hoover said:

"A new era and new forces have come into our economic life and our setting among the nations of the world. The problems of the next four years are more than economic. In a profound sense they are moral and spiritual. This convention has sounded a note of moral leadership."

It sounded, to many in the hall like the forecast of a more aggressive and constructive meeting of national problems. It is known that if Governor Alfred E. Smith is nominated at Houston, he will seek to lead the way toward such a program. Hoover apparently is prepared to apply his administrative talent and leadership in a similar way.

E. TELFAIR HALL, SR., DIES HERE SATURDAY

Funeral Held in Raleigh Sunday Morning at 10 O'clock

E. Telfair Hall, Sr., one of Louisburg's oldest business men, died at the home of Mrs. A. M. Hall, a sister-in-law, at 4:40 Saturday morning. He was 81 years of age.

He had been in feeble health for several months but had seemingly improved until the last few days when his son, E. T. Hall, Jr., of Raleigh, was summoned to be with him.

Mr. Hall was a veteran of the War Between the States, having served in Manly's Battery. He was a member of the Methodist church. He lived in Raleigh most of his life but moved to Louisburg about 15 years ago and engaged in mercantile business in partnership with his brother, A. M. Hall, who died about five years ago. He is survived by one son, E. T. Hall, Jr., of Raleigh; one sister and one brother, Mrs. George S. Baker, Sr., and T. Hunter Hall, both of Goldsboro.

His remains were carried to Raleigh Saturday and funeral services were conducted by Dr. W. A. Stansbury from the home of his nephew, E. H. Baker, 113 W. Edenton Street, Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, interment following at Oakwood cemetery. The following served as pallbearers: James McKee, Grange Ashe, A. V. D. Smith, Dr. Louis N. West, Dr. C. O. Abernethy and H. C. Jackson.

Young People's Rally

REV. E. C. CRAWFORD ADDRESSES KIWANIS

The Kiwanis Club met Friday evening in its regular meeting at the Franklin Hotel. Major S. P. Boddie, president, presiding. The minutes were read and approved. W. E. White made a motion that the Kiwanis Club endorse the proposition that the stores of Louisburg be closed one evening each week during the summer months. This motion was discussed by David Harris, Malcolm McKinne, H. G. Perry and E. L. Best, and was carried.

Major Boddie presented a question involving the under privileged child in a case near Louisburg reported to him by the Welfare Department and the Health Officer with a suggestion that Kiwanis join other civic organizations in providing a cow for the Department to be used in such cases. It was referred to a committee of which Malcolm McKinne was chairman and could choose his assistants.

The matter of attendance was then discussed. It was urged that every individual do his part and try to be present.

The meeting was turned over to S. P. Burt, chairman of the program committee, who had arranged a very interesting program. Malcolm McKinne, chairman of the music committee, presented Miss Josephine Liles, of Greensboro who delightfully sang two songs. M. S. Davis, who was in charge of the stunts, placed a board on the dining room floor edge-wise. M. S. Clifton, E. L. Best, Malcolm McKinne, and H. H. Johnson were called and required to walk up this board and back carrying a lighted candle in one hand. The purpose of this stunt was to see who in Kiwanis had the steadiest nerve. No one succeeded in walking up the board and back except H. H. Johnson who walked up it and won the prize.

Harry H. Johnson took occasion to tell those present "I told you so" about Hoover being nominated for president by the Republicans. A few weeks before he had been called upon to discuss the Republican possibility for president.

Rev. E. C. Crawford entertained the club with a most excellent talk on the "Preservation of Liberty," showing the present economic conditions varying so much from what they were many years ago that it called for the work of real men who are right at heart, or the majority will suffer thereby.

The club adjourned after a very interesting meeting.

Mr. Allen was born November 18, 1878. On July 12th, 1910, he was married to Miss Maude Opal Dicken. To this union were born three children, Elizabeth, Robert, and Margaret; all of whom are living.

Those who have known him for years say he was a man of sunny disposition, a hard worker, and kind and affectionate husband, and a loving father.
