ARENDELL TELLS
KIWANIS MERITSMembership Brings Daily Thrill of Soul Contentment, He Says
In Address

Each golden sunset brings members of a Kiwanis Club a thrill of soul-contentment because of a life made happier that day, declared Banks Arendell of Raleigh, in addressing the Louisville Kiwanis Club at its regular weekly meeting here Friday night. Mr. Arendell, who is president of the Raleigh Kiwanis Club, spoke on the subject of "Kiwanis Education," and his remarks were, in part, as follows:

"Education, Kiwanis or otherwise, may be defined simply and in ordinary, everyday parlance as 'knowing what it is all about.' Kiwanis contacts in the form of luncheon meetings, street-corner gabfests, social calls, barbecues, ladies' nights, conventions and the like, brings us all close to one another in common ties of brotherhood. Eating together, traveling together, talking together, playing together, and thinking together, all tend to make us broader and more tolerant of our fellowman. That glad hand in time of success and that brotherly arm around one's shoulder in time of sorrow impress upon us Kiwanians the wholesome value of such beautiful friendships and understandings. Then, too, the fact that we are representatives of different nationalities and sections and states and of all walks of life breeds unity in our rank. But are these things strong enough to teach us 'what it is all about?' Decidedly not, invaluable though they are.

"As Kiwanians and as men, our souls hunger for a food that the ordinary routine of the day in our offices and stores and farms and factories is powerless to supply. That food comes when members of this organization can count at the close of each day a real service to those around us who need our help and influence. I mean such types of service as the students' loan fund, for worthy college students, the assistance given by such organizations as the Louisville Kiwanis Club to the stricken farmers of that community, the summer camps for the underprivileged children, free medical clinics, playgrounds, whole-time nurses, orthopedic attention to crippled children, and on and on, world without end. Kiwanians who do these things, you may be sure, 'know what it is all about.' And each golden sunset brings them a thrill of soul-contentment because of a life made happier that day.

"Fine objectives are the stuff of which all worth while men are made, whether they be Kiwanians or what-not. The attainment of those objectives is what fastens us to the higher philosophy which knows no doubt or boredom, which teaches us in unmistakable terms the certainties of life and which reveals for us in a surer and a purer light the eternal meaning of those immortal words: 'Ah, but a man's reach exceeds his grasp; Or what's Heaven for?'

Dr. C. C. Alexander, president of Louisville College and chairman of the committee on Kiwanis education, had charge of the program. Harry Fagan, trustee of the Raleigh Kiwanis Club, was a visitor at the meeting.

Textiles At State College

The growth of the rayon and knitting industries, coupled with the diversification of the cotton manufacturing industry, has created a demand for intelligent young men who have been thoroughly trained in the manufacture and finishing of textiles. Years ago all the cotton manufactured in the South went into coarse yarns to be used for sheetings, hosiery, gingham, etc. Today Southern mills are manufacturing fancy cotton and rayon fabrics, fancy and full fashioned hosiery which are the equal of any produced in America.

Dr. Thomas Nelson of State College says that there is an increasing demand for that institution to go into these modern manufacturing plants and earn lucrative positions of responsibility. Since June, Dr. Nelson has received many requests for men, but as all the last graduating class had accepted positions before commencement, he has been unable to fill these requests.

D. T. Loyd Dead

Mr. D. T. Loyd died at his home on Spring Street Sunday night following a short illness. The deceased had been in bad health for some time. He was never married and is survived by his mother. The interment was made in the family burying ground at the home of W. H. Fuller near Bunn. The services were conducted by Rev. S. L. Blanton of the Louisville Baptist Church and Rev. Crawford of the Bunn Baptist Church. Quite a large number attended the funeral.

Trip Planned For Gold Sand Farmers

On August 7 the annual field day will be observed at the Oxford Tobacco Experiment Station. This occasion will offer a good opportunity for farmers of the community to observe and study the results of the experiments conducted at the station. Mr. E. G. Moss, Director, is recognized as one of the best authorities on tobacco; and the program for that day will be well worthwhile. One of the principal features of the program will be an address by Hon. Josiah W. Bailey.

A number of farmers attending this field day in a group will no doubt be benefitted to a greater extent than by attending separately. We are planning to meet at the Gold Sand School at 7 A. M. August 7, and leave from there. Many people who do not have cars can thus enjoy the trip by going with someone who has room to spare. Tell your neighbors about this trip; and if you can arrange your work, be on hand for a good day.

Epom Woman's Club Meeting

The Epom Woman's Club met Thursday afternoon with good attendance. The subject for discussion was "Dyeing." Mrs. Gill discussed "When Dyeing is Economical." She gave an excellent talk from her store of experience. She said that it was always economical to dye an article that could not otherwise be used. She told how she dyed a coat, succeeding only after the third attempt, as the brown color was hard to cover. She has also dyed the raw rayon crepe which can be obtained from the mill and dyed at a great saving. Other members gave their experience of taking the old color out and dyeing the material a beautiful new shade. Some told of their disappointment in dyeing garments which shrunk and were too small after being dyed.

Miss Caldwell gave a demonstration in plain dyeing.

Gold Sand Y. T. H. F's. At Work on Vocational Shack

The Vocational Shack, or the old school building, is beginning to change looks at the hands of the Young Tar Heel Farmers. The amateur painters are improving the building in order to better carry out the plans for its use. This building will be used to great advantage in connection with the agricultural work.

Delightful Barbecue Dinner

At County Home Occasion of Annual Joint Meeting County Commissioners and Board of Health.

The annual dinner given at the County Home at which time there is a joint meeting of the County Commissioners and the County Board of Health for the yearly inspection of the County Home was held at one o'clock on July 30th on the grove of the County Home beneath the spacious shade trees.

After the dinner was spread on the tables and the crowd of guests were gathered under the trees Col. C. L. McGhee, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, expressed a most hearty welcome to the officials and guests, in which welcome he revealed one of the main purposes of the dinner which was to have a get together meeting of all the County officials that they might know each other better so that cooperation among them would be greater. Special welcome was extended to the incoming Board of County Commissioners and a liberal offer of service and support was given them.

Immediately following Col. McGhee's welcome, Supt. W. R. Mills offered blessing. The dinner served, was especially appetizing and delicious, there being a great abundance of exceedingly delectable barbecue, fried chicken, ham, slaw, pickles, pies, cake, and iced lemonade. All the guests were served abundantly who expressed the sincere gratification to Commissioner J. Z. Terrell and Mr. and Mrs. John Hedgepeth, under whose direction the dinner was served for such a splendid and overwhelmingly delightful occasion. Mr. Hedgepeth is the superintendent of the County Home, and he has shown excellent ability in the supervision and care of the Home during his service in this capacity. Mrs. Hedgepeth as his co-worker has contributed much to the progress and splendid service of the Home and happiness of the inmates, and proves an exceptionally capable hostess for the County on such occasions as was carried out in this dinner.

Those who were guests of the occasion were the present and incoming public officials.

E. B. H. S. District Farmers
To Attend Annual Field
Day at Oxford

Arrangements are being made by a number of farmers of the Edward Best High School district to attend the annual field day at the tobacco experiment station at Oxford on August 7th. Two years ago 26 farmers of this community attended the field day in a group. This plan has proved more satisfactory than for each man to make his own plans. A larger number of men can go in a group and with less expense. Those going are asked to meet at Edward Best High School at 7 A. M. and any cars not needed may be left at the school building until the group returns. Lunch may be bought at the Experiment Station or picnic lunches may be carried from home.

The trip should prove very helpful to any tobacco grower. One of the features of the program will be the address by Hon. Josiah W. Bailey.

Farmers living in the Edward Best School district are requested to make this announcement at churches and other places of meeting in the community.

Typhoid-Diphtheria Clinic

The County physician Dr. R. F. Yarborough expresses much satisfaction with the hearty response to the Typhoid and Diphtheria clinics held the past three weeks throughout the county. Yesterday closed the clinics. A full report will be furnished the TIMES next week.

All things come to those who go out and bring them in.

Ellen Perry Fattally Injured in Auto Collision

Ellen Perry, colored, about 65 years old received injuries in an automobile collision in Louisville Sunday afternoon which resulted in her death at a hospital in Rocky Mount Wednesday.

The accident occurred, according to reports, at the crossing of Church and Noble streets Sunday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock when the Chevrolet coupe belonging to W. T. King and driven by "Dutch" Moseley, was struck near the rear wheel by a Ford roadster driven by Tom Day, colored, in which Ellen was riding. The impact was so great, it is said, it turned both cars around and upset them and the woman was thrown clear above and to one side of the wreck falling flat of face on the pavement, fracturing her skull and breaking and bruising her otherwise. Tom Day, the other occupant of the Ford was only slightly injured. Mr. King and Mr. Moseley, occupants of the other car, were only slightly injured.

No plans had been made yesterday morning to determine the responsibility of the wreck.

Gold Sand Plans
For Community Fair

On Friday, August 1 at 8 P. M. a meeting will be held at the Gold Sand High School. The purpose of this meeting is to organize and make plans for the community fair which is to be held in October. All of the patrons of the entire high school community are invited to be present. The community fair is gaining a very prominent place among the activities of progressive rural communities. Even though the events of the fair are over in a day, yet the progress and educational value that can be represented at a fair indicate a great deal of work during the entire year. An occasion of this kind always calls for systematic planning and cooperative effort. The people of Gold Sand have already demonstrated the fact that they can have a good community fair; but the purpose is to make each fair better than the one before.

Rental Library

A rapid growth in the book reading habit in the United States and a wider variety in the reading interest, has prepared the way for the present increase in the book shops and rental libraries which have spread throughout the country. Such wide-spread interest indicates how fertile the field is, especially when it is realized that there are hundreds of towns and communities still without good book service.

The relation of libraries to the educational equipment of the community is being more and more recognized. The schools are placing more emphasis on general reading, college faculties encourage the book-browsing habit, and in the great field of adult education the rental library takes a foremost place and fills a long felt need.

Louisburg's Rental Library will open today, August the first, in the Burt building next door to Rose's 5 and 10 cent store. A number of this summer's new books of fiction are already here, besides many "best sellers" of the past year.

The library will be open from ten in the morning until five in the afternoon. Other interesting features will be a part of its business plan, and announced later. One of these is a comfortable rest room which will also open today, and where those who have to wait in the down town section will receive a cordial welcome. This library will serve the people of Louisville and Franklin County with the best of the new and near-new fiction at a minimum cost.

To be honest simply because it pays isn't honesty at all.

Day dreams never come true without some wide-awake work.

Trees Need Watering

Kent, O., July 30.—Trees need watering rather than sprinkling during the warm weather season, according to Martin L. Davey, conservationist and head of the Davey Institute of Tree Surgery.

Trees, like human beings, will die far more quickly of thirst than hunger. When they display signs of impending death that are evident to the layman it may be too late to save them. The only safe rule, according to Davey, is to keep trees adequately watered throughout the entire summer.

Sprinkling for a brief period in the evening in real hot weather does not help trees at all, Davey explains. It may even do harm to them by attracting the new roots too close to the surface of the ground.

Proper watering is made possible by perforating the soil with a spading fork to the full depth of the times. A series of these perforations should be made in the circumference described by the spread of the branches. At least once every two weeks in the summer water should be run into the perforations for several hours. During a drought this should be done at least once a week.

"At most homes or estates the lawn is always well sprinkled because the results of neglect are soon apparent," Davey said. "Less attention is paid to trees because the consequences are not quickly seen. Yet, a parched lawn may be renewed within one growing season, but a stately tree not within a generation."

One use to which trees put water is to manufacture food for their immediate needs and to store a surplus which is used especially at the start of the growing season the following spring.

The drought of last year weakened the vitality of most trees so that their battle against this season's arid weather is of special importance. In addition to an ample supply of water most trees should be fed this year with a high grade of tree food.

Trees that are permitted to go into the autumn season in a weakened condition will shed their leaves prematurely and thus be further weakened, as they stop feeding when the leaves are gone.

People who stop to let the train pass by live to stop another day.

The early bird may get the worm, but the hunter invariably gets him.

Adopts Whole Time
Health Officer Plan

As a result of recent meetings of the Board of Health of Franklin County and a visit to the State Board of Health at Raleigh by a committee composed of Chairman C. L. McGhee, Dr. H. H. Johnson and Dr. S. P. Burt, Franklin County has adopted a health program, providing for a full time Health officer and a County nurse. The County will be assisted in maintenance of this department by the State, which, it is understood, will pay one-half. Dr. R. F. Yarborough was elected as whole time Health officer, and the selection of the nurse was left mainly with the State Board. Arrangements were made to use Dr. Yarborough's office for the present.

WILDS ENJOY CAMPING

It was a week of recreation, pleasure and sport enjoyed by a group of ten girls, chaperoned by Mesdames E. N. Williamson and J. A. Hodges, when on Monday the 21st they pitched tent under the spreading trees beside the placid lake on the beautiful estate of Mr. C. S. Williams, near Franklinton, N. C.

The time was well filled by swimming, boating, fishing, hiking, campfire sports and the like. Saturday was the only day with a tinge of shadow to effect the days that had past. This was the result of breaking camp and preparation to leave the enchanting environment, with its mirrored waters which had reflected the happy figures and the wooded slopes which echoed the joyous voices during this annual outing. But the memory will linger long with those of the party, which consisted of Misses Marie Parker, Doris Strange, Josephine Perry, Mamie Davis Beam, Lucille Hudson, Peg Ford, Mary Fuller Beasley, Temple Yarborough, Helen Cutting, and Marguerite Rouse who voted a tribute of gratitude to Mr. and Mrs. Williams for their hospitality while there.

The modern girl is not very fond of walking, but she will walk a long way for a ride.

Following the Golden Rule is one thing and catching up with it is another.
