Make Candy!

F. HOAGLAND

Cook sugar, syrup and water to extreme hard-crack or hard ball stage, stirring only until sugar is dissolved. Wash off any crystals that form on sides of pan. Cook slowly toward end of process, so that sugar will not scorch. Remove from fire, add flavoring and coloring, stirring only enough to mix. Drop from end of a tablespoon onto a smooth, oiled surface, taking care to make drops round. Press a toothpick or skewer into edge of each before it hardens. Any decorations are pressed on at this time. The candies should be loosened from slab before they are quite cold.

Candied cherries, shredded, blanched almonds, and any small, fancy candies are suitable to use for decoration. This recipe makes 30 lolly-pops, two inches in diameter.
