

FROM INGLESIDE

Fisher J. Beasley, who has been connected with the American Agricultural Chemical Co., in Henderson, for the past two years, has been transferred to its Baltimore, Md., office which gives Mr. Beasley a distinct promotion. Mr. Beasley and family went to Henderson from Greensboro, where he was connected with the same company. They have many friends who will regret to learn of their departure from the State.

Mr. Beasley is secretary-treasurer of the local Shrine organization in Henderson, is also vice-president of the Men's Baraca class of the First Methodist Church.

A reunion of the Edwards family, consisting of the children and grandchildren of the late O. Z. and Mrs. Edwards, was held Sunday at the home of a son, Paul H. Edwards. All members attended with the exception of one who was prevented on account of sickness. The happy occasion was very much enjoyed.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. George F. Hall at their home in Louisburg on Thursday, Sept. 1.

Mrs. Walter G. Kearney, court stenographer in the third judicial district, and her daughter, Miss Helen Gray Kearney, of the Farm Security Administration in Raleigh, made a long motor trip of three weeks this summer into the north and in Canada. Mrs. Kearney, widely known here was in the city today from her home in Franklin County, on-court business and was telling friends of her summer vacation.—Henderson Gold Leaf.

Mrs. Thurston K. Allen and daughter, Miss Ann Allen, visited friends here Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Allen's friends were pleased to note her improved condition from a prolonged siege of complicated troubles which kept her confined to her home.

News by wire of the death of Mr. R. C. Freeman, at his home near Charlotte on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, has been received here. Mr. Freeman is the father of Frank, who has visited here many times since his marriage to Elizabeth Manning some years ago, and they will have the sympathy of their friends in their bereavement.

This timely safety message from Governor James H. Price to the 115,000 Virginia subscribers, of a total of 285,000, of the oldest Agricultural Journal in America, may well apply to North Carolina, or to any other State as to that matter, and it is hoped that the editor will give it space in the TIMES:

"The front cover on this issue of The Southern Planter sounds a warning which I sincerely hope will impress upon every motor vehicle operator in the State of Virginia the importance of careful driving.

"Some 650,000 Virginia girls and boys start back to school this month. Streets and roadways, buses and automobiles will be crowded with school children till spring. Thousands of anxious parents will daily await their safe return home. Their safety on the highways rests in your hands; and I urge you to drive carefully.

"Re-emphasis will be placed on safety education in the Virginia public schools this session. We are studying the State road system looking to further improvements—better surfacing, curve elimination, and safe railroad crossings. On my recommendation, the last session of the General Assembly strengthened our speed laws. These are for the protection of all of our people and will be rigidly enforced.

"If we can outlaw the drinking driver, curb the speedster and keep automobiles in good mechanical condition, we can protect our school children, avoid the horrors of highway accidents, and the appalling monetary loss they entail each year. To that end, I solicit the cooperation and active support of everyone who reads this message."

Mrs. V. V. Hester died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Lonie Dickerson, at Ingleside on Saturday, Sept. 3rd at 7 p. m., of heart ailment and complications, in the 80th year of her age. Mrs. Hester, who formerly resided at Kittrell, had lived with her sister since the death of her husband more than two years ago. She had been a member of the Methodist Church most of her life.

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Hester from Union Chapel near Kittrell at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and were conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Pegg, assisted by the Rev. J. A. Martin. Interment was in the church cemetery. The floral offering was appropriate and pretty.

Surviving Mrs. Hester are: One sister, Mrs. Lonie Dickerson, and three brothers, J. O. Newton, of Epsom; M. S. Newton and H. E. Newton of the Epsom community. Another brother, H. A. Newton, preceded her in death one month to a day. The pallbearers were composed of friends from Kittrell.

Bunn School Opens

Record Enrollment in High School—Elementary School Attendance Good.

The Bunn Schools opened Thursday, Sept. 1st, with Supervising Principal M. T. Lamm again in charge. There are five new teachers at Bunn this year—four in the high school, one Miss Eunice Wilson in the elementary school. Miss Elizabeth York of Cary, has charge of the Home Economics Department. Miss Lois Jolly, of Boiling Springs, Commercial Department, and Mr. W. P. Hollman of Lincolnton, has charge of the Science Department. Miss Wilma Woolard, the other new teacher is teaching English. The remaining five high school teachers have been with the school for sometime and are heading and teaching in their same fields as last year.

Formal Opening
 The Bunn School was formally opened Monday morning, Sept. 5th. The principal speaker on this occasion was the Rev. Fruit Hartsell, pastor of the Bunn Baptist Church. Mr. Hartsell made a very helpful and interesting address. Other speakers were Mr. C. T. Moody and Principal Lamm. The school is now thoroughly organized and running smoothly. There are 260 in High School. The elementary school enrollment is about normal.

Bunn District Teacher's Meeting
 On Wednesday morning, August 31st, teachers of the Bunn District assembled at Bunn for their annual pre-school opening meeting. Principal C. C. Brown, of the Harris School gave the devotional. Supt. W. R. Mills was the guest speaker on this occasion. Supt. Mills made a most inspiring address which was really thought-provoking and stimulating. Teachers of the Bunn District have high certificates and excellent training for their positions and it is expected that the efficiency of the schools this year will exceed last year's high mark.

More than 100 miles of road have been measured in the Ashe County rural electrification survey, and approximately 500 families have signed applications for power.

Don't put up with useless PAIN

Get rid of it
 When functional pains of menstruation are severe, take CARDUI. (If it doesn't benefit you, consult a physician. Don't neglect such pains. They depress the tone of the nerves, cause sleeplessness, loss of appetite, wear out your resistance.
 Get a bottle of Cardui and see whether it will help you, as thousands of women have said it helped them.
 Besides easing certain pains, Cardui aids in building up the whole system by helping women to get more strength from the food they eat.

High, whose defiant attitude throughout the trial amazed hardened criminal lawyers, continued his composed attitude except for a few minutes, when he put his head on his arms. Mrs. Tanner, who was in the courtroom throughout the trial, broke down at the verdict and had to be taken from the courtroom.
 The jurors received the case by Judge Hamilton shortly before lunch and went to their meal immediately. They started deliberations at 2 o'clock and returned a verdict at 2:24.

 Rainy weather and heavy boll weevil infestations will cut the Bladen County cotton crop in half this year, reports Assistant Farm Agent R. M. Williams.
