LARD OFF RATIONING

Raleigh, May 29.—Because the present supply is deemed adequate to meet all civilian needs, the Office of Price Administration has removed all rationing restrictions from lard. Theodore S. Johnson, district director of the Raleigh OPA announced.
 As a result of the action, all restrictions on the amount of lard that may be obtained by industrial or institutional users were removed, and all record keeping and reporting requirements under OPA regulations were eliminated, Johnson said.
