Farmers in North Carolina will have an unusual opportunity to terrace their lands during the remainder of 1944 under the Agricultural Conservation program.

With less labor available on farms and in processing plants, we need to continue to exert every effort to produce food to capacity, say N. C. State College Extension specialists.

MEMBER HALF HUNDRED CLUB

15th Army Air Force, April 28, 1944.—Staff Sergeant Geor. T. May, 25, of Red Oak, North Carolina, waist gunner on an AAF B-17 Flying Fortress operating from an advanced Italian base, recently became a member of his squadron's "Half-Hundred" club, by flying his 50th combat mission, April 25, 1944, over Verona, Italy.

The club is composed of those squadron members, both officers and enlisted men, who have flown 50 or more combat missions over enemy territory.

Sergeant May attended the Gold Sand high school and Campbell College before he entered the Army on Aug. 22, 1941. He won his wings at Wendover Field, Utah, Feb. 19, 1943.

Arriving at his overseas station 10 months ago, Sgt. May flew his first combat mission on July 20, 1943, over the Grosseto airdrome, Italy. Since that date, he has participated in missions over Sicily, Germany, France, and the Balkans.

On April 3, 1944, while on a mission to the Budapest Aero Engine Works, Hungary, Sgt. May shot down a Messerschmitt 109, German fighter plane.

He has been awarded the Air Medal with 7 oak-leaf clusters for sustained operational flight against the enemy.

His prents, Reverend and Mrs. G. W. May, reside in Red Oak, but were former residents of Franklin County.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. J. C. Tucker entertained quite a number of little children on Monday afternoon, honoring her little granddaughters 3rd birthday, Grace Elizabeth Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Tucker, of Virginia Beach, whose third birthday came on Friday. In addition to the birthday cake, orange drinks and candy were served after the children had enjoyed an hour of games and other fun making past times. The party was held on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Joyner, the former home of the honoree, and proved to be a very happy occasion for all. The presents were many and very pretty.

Among those present and enjoying the occasion were Lucy Wilder Taylor, Bettie Gail Fuller, Kay Fuller, Barbara Catlett, Beth Hedden, Hazel Ford, Martha Ford, Peggy Pruitt, Sarah White and the honoree's little sister, Claude S. Tucker.

NEGRO EXTENSION SERVICE
By
H. H. Price
Negro County Agent

The Negro Extension Service was visited by Mr. Sherman Briscoe, Associate Information Specialist, Washington, D. C., who is studying extension farm activities of southern Negro farmers. Franklin County was chosen as one of the seven counties to be visited in North Carolina. While here, Mr. Briscoe visited G. C. Crudup's poultry plant. He obtained information, data, and pictures which he will incorporate into a feature story of Negro extension work in North Carolina. He expressed the opinion that this was one of the most representative poultry projects which he had visited.

A casing school for neighborhood leaders was held on Saturday, May 27, 1944 at Franklin County Training School. Demonstrations were given in the use of the water bath and pressure canners. Eight neighborhoods were represented as follows: White Pines, Mary L. Whitley, and Janie Jones; Hayes, Flora N. Thomas; Concord, Mabel Davis; Buffalo, Ella Eula Cheek and Josephine Person; New Liberty, Euralce C. Smith, and Bessie Young; Cross Road, Minnie Moore; Mapleville, Martha Ellis and Neva Edgerton; and Mitchell, Flora B. Branch.

The school was attended by Elda Smith, a Home Economics student from Shaw University, who has offered to serve in her own and surrounding communities as a volunteer leader during the summer months.

The school was also visited by Jeanette Sills, Negro County Welfare Officer.

A similar meeting will be held on June 3, 1944 and all leaders who were not present at the first meeting are expected to attend.

This is the list of names now in the possession of the Franklin County Memorial Association. In order to make the Memorial program complete it is necessary to have a complete list of Franklin County's World War I and II dead. Will you, as citizens of Franklin County, cooperate with the Association by obtaining all names, both those buried in Franklin County, and those who have died overseas, and turn them into the Association at once.

Selectee—They can't make me fight.
Draft Board Chairman—Maybe not, but they can take you where the fighting is, and you can use your own judgment.

TO THE VOCERS

I wish to express my appreciation to the voters of Franklin County for their confidence and support in the years I have served on the County Board of Commissioners.

Mr. J. Ira Weldon, who in the recent primary was nominated to succeed me on the Board from District No. 3, is well qualified for the position. I feel certain that through him the district and the county will be well served.

I respectfully ask that my many friends and supporters give Mr. Weldon the same splendid cooperation that they have given me in connection with the County's affairs.

LIBRARY NEWS

The County Library, its Board, and patrons have been quite concerned lately over increasing their budget for the next fiscal year, 1944-45. On the present allotment of $600.00 from the County there isn't a chance to really give library service. The towns and the state have contributed nobly in establishing library service; otherwise it would have been impossible to operate.

On June 5, the County Commissioners will meet, with one of their objects to set-up the budget for county expenditures. It is the earnest hope that the Commissioners will deem it wise to allocate a budget adequate for the library to function actively.

Miss Marjorie Beal, Director of N. C. Public Libraries, states "Franklin County has done very little toward library service." Our State Senator from this district supported the program for State-Aid for public libraries in the last legislature. Now it behooves this County to show or to prove that they are cognizant of the value of libraries. At least now is the time something can be done about it. Other counties of the same assessed valuation have long since passed this county. Can't Franklin really come to the front taking its right place with other counties? The budget allocated it on June 5th will be an indication of Franklin's attitude.—Contributed.
