WOODS WILL

(This column is written by and for the folks in the WOOD community for the sole purpose of reporting those things which they do, the human experiences that they have and something of their hopes and plans for a better WOOD and a better WORLD. Get your news in by Sunday P. M. folks!)

Top billing this week goes to the Harvest Day Sale and Barbecue supper held Saturday, Nov. 11th. It is difficult in reporting something that was so tremendously successful to say that this reason or that was the cause of the success. The day was perfect. The crowd was there to help and to have some fun and they got it. Percy Joyner not only excelled himself with some of his best tobacco warehouse opera, he also was a genial master of ceremonies. High bidder was Dolphus Gupton who paid $25.00 a box for shells. It was a lot to pay and his total purchases ran close to a hundred dollars BUT his willingness to help the Church is the thing that everybody appreciated. All of the folks who brought in contributions showed the same willingness. It is impossible for a Community with such spirit to fail to achieve their goal. The receipts from all sources is crowding $900 and all looks like the folks will crack a thousand before it is all over.

I think it is fitting here to say a word of commendation to the Centerville folks. It was erroneously reported in this column that they took in some over $700 at their Harvest Sale. Actually the amount was some over $1,260. That is an achievement of no small proportions but the best part is that from this and from sales held in previous years they have accumulated some over $4,000.00 towards their new Church building and for that accomplishment my friends of neighboring Centerville I willingly take off my hat and congratulate you and I am sure that everyone in WOOD will do the same.

At the WOOD Harvest Sale the Auction brought in a considerable sum. The supper brought in another considerable sum, the tobacco sale did the same, but money was raised in other ways too. A crowd from the church took time off from their work last Wednesday week and went down to T. B. Reynolds farm and helped Bert Denton pick his cotton crop. By night they had picked a bale and the money earned was turned in for the church. Bert and his folks turned in what they would have earned had they been picking for someone else which was pretty generous. Yours truly claims to be the best one-handed cotton picker in the state. Boy, when I get to be a two-handed picker I'm going to be a jay bird right.

Everyone requests that appreciation for gifts and donations be extended to Dr. H. G. Perry, Edgar Fuller of the Rocky Mount Re-capping Co. Austin Fuller of the Fullers Esso Station, Hortons Esso Station, Murphy's Store, Fox Dept. Store, Glen Davis of the Theater, Robert Smithwick, Rose's 5 & 10, Griffin-Tharrington Motor Co., Raynor's Radio and Jewelry Shop, Robert Allsbrook of Rocky Mount and others who made anonymous donations. Even old Uncle Sid Williams donated a stick of tobacco. Thanks folks, thanks.

Well folks we were scooped this week and we have to report a week late that Lillian Sturges and Cpl. Tommy W. Murray of Mobile Alabama pulled a sneaker and got married before we knew it. It is a coincidence that Lillian's sister Dorothy, who is in the European theatre doing a good job also married a boy from Mobile. They come a long way to get the gals from WOOD. Who said we weren't on the map?

Glen Lewis of the USMC, Pacific theatre is home on furlough wearing the Purple heart and several combat citations. They say a perfect host is one who gives his guests what they came for. The story I hear is that some of those yellow-bellied Sons of Heaven dropped into Glen's foxhole for an unfriendly visit. They believe if they can die for their emperor they go directly to some kind of heaven, we have a different name for the same place. Glen, as the perfect host helped them on their way also I guess he snagged his arm some when he opened the door for them on their way out.

WOOD'S Womens Club held their meeting last Wednesday week at Mrs. Frank Read's home. Their subject was "No space to waste" (around the house). After the hostess served them some Sweet 'tata pie and ice cream there was no space wasted and no space around the waste either.

Mrs. Weldon Jones is spending the week with her people on Louisburg Route 2.

Hey Louise! have the BYPU cuties get in their news. We missed the bus this week.

The WOOD COMMUNITY BOY SCOUT TROOP held their second meeting at the school house at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Franklin Read was appointed Troop scribe. Doug Gupton and H. B. Shearin were appointed Patrol Leaders. After further drill by Linwood Gupton and instruction in the Scout laws by Ennis Gupton they had another knot-tying contest. Several more boys expressed their desire to join and there is room for more. The meeting starts promptly at 3 p. m. Come on time boys.

There were $6 at Sunday School last Sunday. That's 10 more than the week before. Let's crack a hundred next Sunday folks. If you weren't there last Sunday come next and help us top a hundred.

Rev. W. W. Turner preached another fine sermon Sunday P. M. His topic was "The Foundation Stones of Faith". The theme of the sermon was that the founding of our faith in christianity and belief in Jesus Christ comes first from our parents, when we are older by our own reason and understanding, by the preachments

Mileage Hints

By J. F. Winchester
Supervisor of Motor Vehicle Equipment, Esso Marketers

EVEN if new cars roll off the assembly lines within six months after the European victory, there will still not be enough new cars to go 'round. New cars will probably be sold on some kind of priority basis, so that most of us will have to plan on continuing to make the old car last.

One of the most important means of prolonging car life is the effective use of automotive lubricants. Convincing evidence of this came six years ago when automotive engineers made a comparative study of car longevity in Britain and the U. S. They found out that the Britons kept their cars twice as long as Americans and that they made far greater use of automobile lubricants than we did.

Now, before cold weather sets in, is the time to check your car's lubrication: Before winter, heavier type oil should be put in and all parts checked. Manufacturers before the war directed car owners to have the rear axle and transmission drained, flushed and refilled at regular mileage intervals (10,000-15,000 miles). Today, under gasoline rationing, you should not wait for these mileage intervals, for old oil becomes contaminated and may cause deterioration of car parts. Have this flushing and refilling done regularly.

Many motorists now use their coupon expiration dates as convenient reminders for the changing and renewal of lubricants.

THE LOW DOWN from HICKORY GROVE

The Scouts were just along, collecting waste paper. There is one outfit—the Scouts—that everybody can be for. Not much money is needed—the need is for leaders—a boy can join. Race, or religion or politics don't count. There are Scout troops in about 60 civilized countries, which represent over 90 per cent of the world's population.

Jo Serra

Anybody wondering about the Scouts and what they are getting at, can read the Scout Oath. Here it is: "On my honor—I will do my best, to do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the Scout laws. To help other people at all times. To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

Our family runs to boys. That is how I got up my keen interest for the Boy Scouts versus the Girl Scouts. Let Eddie Cantor, or somebody, tell you about the Girls.

The Scout outfit is about 35 years old, but today over half of all boys entering the universities have been Scouts. As high as 500,000 copies of the Handbook For Boys are sold per year. Get yourself a copy. Lay down the book you been reading on Gertie's

Fourth Husband or Murder in the Corn Crib, and you will see where the mote lies on the delinquent problem. Our U.S.A. problem is greater with its 46-year old spavins than with its 15-year old goslings.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA.

POSTPONED

Due to inclemency of the weather on the formerly appointed Harvest Day at Cypress Chapel they have set another date for this. It will be held on Friday, Nov. 24. An auction sale of all kinds of farm products in the afternoon at 2:30 followed by a barbecue supper served in the annex. Everybody is cordially invited. All proceeds go to the church.
