MARKET TAKES THANKSGIVING

WILL REOPEN MONDAY,
NOV. 27TH

Market Has Sold More Than Seven Million Pounds; Average Still Above Ceiling And Demand Strong; Will Remain Open Until Belt Closes; Full Set Buyers All Through

With a record of having sold more than seven million pounds of tobacco this season at an average of $43.01, stated Sales Supervisor James Speed, and full sales daily the Louisburg market will take a vacation by observing Thanksgiving Day, closing with the sales on Wednesday and re-opening on Monday morning, Nov. 27th.

The Louisburg market announces that it will remain open as long as any other market in the Middle belt and has the assurance of a full set of buyers all through the period, he said.

Sales continue heavy with no blocks, Speed said, but a full days sale each day. Prices are still good, he said, but have shown about one dollar per hundred decrease in average for past few days. This decrease seems to be general throughout the tobacco belt.

The Louisburg market — the Friendly Market, appears to be gaining more friends each day and invites you to come and join others in this friendly spirit.

"Wilson" To Be Shown Here

Limited Engagement

Heralded as the most important event in 50 years of motion picture history, Darryl F. Zanuck's Technicolor production of "Wilson" is scheduled at the Louisburg Theatre Friday, Dec. 5th, for two shows, 3 and 8 p. m.

More than 2½ years in the making, the film—the greatest project ever undertaken by 20th Century-Fox—has shattered all previous Hollywood production records.

Heading the largest cast ever assembled for a single motion picture (12,000 players) are Alexander Knox as Wilson; Charles Coburn as the President's intimate friend "Professor Holmes"; Geraldine Fitzgerald as Edith Bolling Galt; Thomas Mitchell as Joseph Tumulty, Wilson's secretary; Ruth Nelson as the first Mrs. Wilson; Sir Cedric Hardwicke as Senator Henry Cabot Lodge; Vincent Price as William Gibbs McAdoo; William Eythe as George Felton; and Mary Anderson as Eleanor Wilson.

The deeply moving story of an Americas family, set against the drama of our country's most exciting era, was directed by Henry King who was responsible for such memorable bits as "The White Sister," "Alexander's Ragtime Band" and "The Song of Bernadette." Ace scenarist Lamar Trotti devoted two years to the preparation of the "Wilson" screenplay, during which time he travelled 30,000 miles, crisscrossing the country time after time, to gather material dealing with Wilson and his era.

The story begins in 1909, with Wilson an inconspicuous university preside. It ends twelve years later, on the day he leaves office as President of the United States. In between, it moves through the dramatic kaleidoscope of events ranging in locale from a football field at Princeton, through the White House, and to the celebrated Hall of Mirrors at Versailles.

All in all, 200 sets were constructed including the largest interior set ever filmed—the Democratic National Convention of 1912. For the first time, the White House was photographed in Technicolor, thus lending ultimate authenticity to such settings as the President's Room, the East Room and the Blue Room.

No less than 300 specially designed costumes for the feminine principals of the film, representing the cream of fashion from 1909 to 1924, was in color review. Geraldine Fitzgerald, in the role of Edith Bolling Galt whose celebrated romance with Wilson is depicted in the film, has 47 changes of costume.

In its musical setting, composed by Academy Award-winner Alfred Newman, "Wilson" presents a cavalcade of musical Americans with 87 of this country's best-loved songs heard throughout.

Everyone is invited to come and bring someone, as this picture will be of interest to men and women alike. We are all interested in the part our women are playing in this war.

Keep the date in mind and bring your friends along too.
