Teenage Chat

By Faye Rudd

The Gold Sand Annuals came last week. Most of the students were really proud of the seniors for the way they turned out. How about letting the rest of us in the county see them? Heard that two certain Gold Sand girls have a special interest in Wendell. How about this D. R. and C. S.? Seems D. R. still likes one of those Louisburg Juniors better though.

Dianne Hight spent her Easter vacation in Washington, D. C. She said she enjoyed it but was almost "snow-bound" Monday morning.

What's this about P. L. liking to go to a special church here lately? Could that Edward Best boy have anything to do with it? There seems to be someone beating a little path from Main across the tennis court to the apartments at Louisburg College. Would you have any idea who this someone is, Donna C.? The Y. W. A.'s of the Louisburg Baptist Church will have their regular meeting next Monday at 7:15 at Kate Huggin's home. All of you members and others who would like to join be sure to come.

This is another reminder about the Brandywine Singers who will be at Louisburg College next Tuesday night at 8:00. Tickets can be bought from the college or Faye Rudd.

The State Beta Club Convention is being held this weekend in Raleigh at the Sir Walter Hotel. Beta members from all over the county are attending. The Beta Club from Louisburg High School has started sponsoring a special project at Louisburg. Instead of having the devotion in each individual room in high school, one class is in charge of it for a week to have it put on the intercom system to all rooms. They believe it is going to be a success. They have also started a Junior Beta Club for Junior High School students.

Double Duty
The other evening I overheard one lady ask another: "Do you do your own work or keep a maid?" "Yes, I do?" the other replied. "Do which?" asked the first. "Keep a maid and do my own work," came the weary rejoinder.

Will Provides Gifts
Denver -- Next Christmas, Truman and Elizabeth Jones, of Denver, and others can expect a $50 gift.

Mrs. Simmons, who died February 3, named two executors of her $3,500 estate to mail out gifts costing this amount to ten friends and then to mail them a Christmas card each year as long as they live.

The best way out of a difficulty is through it.

Mrs. House Speaks To Churchwomen

"These Cities Glorious," a book written by Lawrence H. Janssen, was reviewed Monday evening at the meeting of the Episcopal Churchwomen by Mrs. Douglas House, program chairman.

The book depicted the past growth of the cities caused by influx of rural people, old people who have retired, young people eager to seek work in the city, the widows and widowers, the foreigners etc. who present many problems in living conditions, in governmental departments and in church relations. And the problems must be faced. The Church must do its part in helping with these problems.

Miss Adelaide Johnson, president, presided over the business of the meeting during which Mrs. C. Willie Strother read the minutes and gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. M. S. Clifton, Sr., led in the devotions and prayers. The ladies looked over the plans for the proposed parish house that were on display and expressed opinions about them.

Cheese Crust Velvet Pie

That friendly American invitation for pie and coffee calls for "Cheese Crust Velvet Pie," a luscious new treat. The chiffon type filling is a flavor blend of zingy lemon and subtle apple, and the secret of success is the rich cheese crust. It's made of crushed inch-square cheese crackers mixed with sugar and spicy cinnamon--so simple, yet so elegant. For a perky finish, border the pie with additional crackers standing on end. Here's how to make the pie of the season:

Cheese Crust Velvet Pie

- |   |   |
|---|---|
| 1 1/4 cups fine Sunshine Cheeze-It Cracker crumbs | Whole Sunshine Cheeze-It Crackers               |
| 3 tablespoons sugar                               | 2/3 cup apple juice                             |
| 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon                             | 1 pkg. lemon flavored gelatin dessert, 3 ounces |
| 6 tablespoons melted butter or margarine          | 1 can apple sauce, 8 1/2 ounces                 |
|   | 1 cup heavy cream                               |

Crush crackers, between waxed paper, with rolling pin into fine crumbs (or, crush in electric blender); mix with sugar and cinnamon. Add melted butter or margarine and blend well. Press mixture firmly over bottom and sides of 9-inch pie plate, bringing crumbs evenly up to rim. Press whole crackers around top side to make pointed edge. Refrigerate about 1 hour. Bring apple juice to boiling point, remove from heat, add gelatin dessert and stir until dissolved. Stir in apple sauce. Chill, stirring occasionally, until quite thick but not "set." Whip cream until quite thick and fold gently into apple mixture. Pour into chilled shell; refrigerate until firm. Decorate center with whole crackers. Yield: 6 to 8 wedges. (If you are in a hurry, chill the mixture in a bowl of ice cubes.)
