Democratic Precinct Meets Announced

Meetings will be held in each voting precinct in Franklin County on Saturday, April 25, at 11 a. m., according to James D. Speed, Chairman of the Franklin County Democratic Party.

The purpose of the meetings will be to elect precinct officers of the Democratic Party for a two-year term and to elect delegates to the county-wide Democratic Convention, which will be held in the Franklin County Courthouse on Saturday, May 9, at 10 a. m.

All registered Democratic voters are eligible to take part in these meetings and are urged to attend.

Each voting precinct shall be entitled to cast, in the County Convention, one vote for every fifty Democratic votes or major fraction thereof cast by the precinct for the Democratic gubernatorial candidate at the last preceding gubernatorial election.

Similar meetings will be held throughout all of North Carolina on these same dates.

League Of Women Voters To Meet Here

The April unit meetings of the Louisburg League of Women Voters have been cancelled in order to give the local research committee adequate time to outline the group's new study item - the Louisburg school system.

Members will be notified by the unit leaders about the May meetings.

Yarborough Rites Held Here

Funeral services for William Henry Yarborough, Jr., former Louisburg resident and Raleigh attorney, were held Wednesday at St. Timothy's Church in Raleigh. Burial followed in Louisburg's Oakwood Cemetery.

Yarborough died Tuesday morning in the Lawyer's Building in Raleigh of a heart attack while talking on the phone. He was taken to Rex Hospital, by ambulance, but was dead on arrival.

Mr. Yarborough, 55, had practiced law in Raleigh since 1932, first as an associate of the late Gov. J. Melville Broughton and later with William T. Joyner.

He entered the Army in 1944 and returned to Raleigh in 1946 to open his private-law firm.

He graduated in 1931 from the University of North Carolina, where he was editor of The Daily Tar Heel, and from the Wake Forest Law School the following year.

Mr. Yarborough was a past commander of the Raleigh Post No. 1 of the American Legion and a former chef de gare of the Raleigh unit of the 40 & 8.

He was a vestryman in St. Timothy's Episcopal Church. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Jeanie Boatwright Yarborough; two daughters, Miss Mary Wiat Yarborough of the home and Mrs. James W. Armfield of Jamestown; three brothers, Hill and Edward, both of Louisburg, and Kemp P. of St. Mary's City, Md.; three sisters, Mrs. Richard Chance of San Diego, Calif.; Mrs. Elenor Krawinkel of Bergneustadt, West Germany, and Mrs. Joseph L. Beauty Contestant

Sandra Wright Goswick, 17-year-old Franklinton High senior is the first announced contestant for the fourth annual Miss Louisburg Pageant sponsored by the Louisburg Jaycees. Sandra is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Goswick of Route 1, Louisburg.

Sandra was the winner of the "Miss Franco" title earlier this year.

At Franklinton High Sandra is a bus driver, glee club member, and F. H. A. member. She was homecoming attendant and was in the senior play.

Sandra lists cooking and horseback riding as her hobbies, bowling as her favorite sport, folk and rock n' roll as her favorite music, and shrimp as her favorite food. Sandra is a Baptist.

For her talent presentation in the pageant which will take place in the College Auditorium on May 15, Sandra will do a dance routine.

Second Polio Vaccine Due Here Sunday

The second big step to eliminate polio in Franklin County will be taken this Sunday. Type III Sabin oral polio vaccine will be distributed at the eleven Stop Polio Clinics throughout Franklin County between the hours of 12:00 noon and 5:00 p. m.

Campaign officials stated this week that sufficient vaccine has been ordered to vaccinate 21,000 people and in case of a shortage a helicopter will be standing by in Raleigh to fly in supplementary vaccine.

They also pointed out that steps will be taken to eliminate the few flaws that were present in the first Stop Polio Sunday a month ago.

Dr. Doyle Medders, Chairman of the campaign, emphasized the importance of all receiving the vaccine. "To really do the job of elimination polio," he stressed, "we must reach at least three fourths of the population of Franklin County which would take 21,000 immunizations."

A contribution of 25¢ per dose will be requested of those who can afford it to help meet the expenses of the drive. But no one will be denied the vaccine. The sole purpose of the drive is to eliminate polio.

The eleven Stop Polio Clinics will be located at the following school gymnasiums: (1) Louisburg, (2) Blyerside, (3) Franklinton, (4) B. F. Person, (5) Bunn, (6) Getsemane, (7) Edward Best, (8) Perry, (9) Gold Sand, (10) Youngsville High School and Elementary.

Beasley Files For Register Of Deeds

Ralph Beasley, 35 year old Sheriff's Deputy, has filed for the office of Register of Deeds in the May 30th Democratic Primary. Beasley will oppose veteran Alex Wood, who filed earlier.

Beasley is a former Justice of the Peace in Louisburg, having held that position for six years. He also formerly operated a business on Market Street here. For the past year he has been a member of the Franklin County Sheriff's Department.

Beasley is a graduate of Mills High School and is married to the former Nancy Holden, daughter of Mrs. Otis Holden and the late Mr. Holden of Youngsville. Both are Baptists and life long residents of Franklin County. He is the son of Mrs. Gladys Beasley and the late Mr. Elias Beasley.

Beasley resigned his position with the Sheriff's Department effective the last of April in order to seek a public office. He had been the subject of much speculation, since his resignation announcement did not disclose which office he would seek. He paid his filing fee of $55.53 Wednesday.

OES To Meet

Wm. B. Barrow Chapter No. 39, OES, will hold a regular meeting on Tuesday, April 21, at 8 p. m.

All members are urged to attend.

30 File For May Primary

Thirty candidates have filed for office in the May 30th Democratic Primary as the deadline for filing nears. Filing deadline is twelve noon Friday, April 17.

The largest number to file in any race have filed for the seat now held by Norris Collins on the Franklin County Board of Commissioners, for District 2, Franklinton and Youngsville. Six have filed for this office and in the order of filing are as follows: John W. House, John P. Mangrum, Charles H. Ferguson, Carl M. Bell, Richard H. Cash and Winfield Garrett.

Horace W. Baker

Mrs. T. H. Weldon

Lloyd A. West

In the race for the House of Representatives, the name of the incumbent James D. Speed is missing, but two have filed. Norris W. Collins, present County Commissioner and James T. Moss, Youngsville farm leader have filed.

W. F. Shelton is the only candidate for the post of Judge of Recorder's Court this far. Only other major candidate unopposed is Horace W. Baker for the County Board of Education.

Hubert H. Senter filed to oppose W. H. Taylor, present Solicitor of Recorder's Court. Taylor filed last week. Alex T. Wood, present Register of Deeds, has opposition as Ralph Beasley filed Wednesday for that office. Wood had filed earlier.

Mrs. T. H. Weldon of Epsom is being opposed by Lloyd A. West for the seat on the County Board of Education for the Hayesville-Sandy Creek Townships. In the only other Commissioner race, Chairman W. P. Childers, incumbent, has opposition from E. M. Sykes, who ran unsuccessfully last time.

Twelve have filed for the various Constable jobs, with three at Harris leading the list. Harry Martin, Dennis Eakes and Warnton Pearce are seeking the job there. Grey Moon, Louisburg; Johnny Horton, Dunn; Lloyd Gupton, Gold Mine; Van

Incumbents, One Newcomer File For Education Seats

Two incumbents and one challenger filed this week for seats on the County Board of Education in the May 30th Democratic Primary. Mrs. T. H. Weldon of Hayesville-Sandy Creek Districts and Horace W. Baker, District 1, Harris-Bunn, both presently serving on the Board, filed as did newcomer Lloyd A. West, seeking the post held by Mrs. Weldon.

Mrs. Weldon has served on the Board for the past eleven years and has been a member of Governor Sanford's Committee of 100 for Better Education. She is the mother of six and has been active in her church, New Bethel Baptist. She has been an officer in the State Grand Chapter of Eastern Star and has been active in this work for the past 40 years.

Baker has been a member of the Board for the past six years. He is 38 years old, married to the former Rebecca Mangum of Wake Forest. They have two children, Vicky 15, and Donald, 11, both students at Bunn School. Baker is a past deacon and Sunday School teacher at Harris Chapel Church, a Mason and a member of the Bunn Boosters Club.

West, a newcomer to politics, is a member of the Franklin County Industrial Development Commission. He is 40 years old, married to the former Daphne Cash of Sandy Creek. They have two boys, Donnie 17 and Kenneth 12, both students at Gold Sand School. West is a member of the Citizens Committee for the Study of Consolidation in Franklin County, Chairman of the Board of Deacons of Sandy Creek Church, a past Sunday School Superintendent and the Music Director of the Tar River Association.

Mrs. Weldon is a past Sunday School teacher and leader in the Women's Missionary Society. She has also been active for a number of years in Home Demonstration work in the county. Her interest, she

Elections Board Rules On Race

The Franklin County Board of Elections met Wednesday afternoon to act on the scramble in the Sandy Creek Constable race. The Board ruled that Harold House lives in Sandy Creek Township and is eligible to run for Constable in that district.

The Board is composed of Taylor Boone, Chairman and Harry Rogers, both Democrats. The Republican member of the Board was not present. The member appointed, reportedly declined to serve and a new member is to be selected at the Republican Convention set for April 25.

The misunderstanding on House's eligibility had come about when it was reported that he lived in Louisburg Township. He is registered in Cedar Rock Township, but his registration will be changed since his residence has changed. House reported that he purchased his property from Fred C. Hight and presented a statement from Hight that it was part of a tract known as the R. R. Radford place. The Tax Department informed the Board that this land was recorded as being in Sandy Creek Township.

W. H. Yarborough, Jr., son of Winston-Salem; and three grandchildren.

Schools TV On Sunday

Mrs. Evelyn J. Williamson, president of the Franklin County Unit of the NCEA today called attention to a television program "Our Schools Have Kept Us Free", which will be premiered over State television stations on Sunday, April 19, and again on April 25.

The film, which should be of interest to all persons interested in our schools, may be seen on April 19 over WTVB, Channel 11, at 1 p. m. and over WNCT, Channel 9, at 1:30 p. m. WRAL, Channel 5, will carry the film on April 25, at 2:30 p. m.

Rescue Show Success

The Louisburg Rescue Service's "Guess the Price Show" was a whopping success Wednesday as they played to over 750 people packed into the Louisburg Armory. In what was described by Chief V. A. Peoples as the largest crowd ever, hundreds of dollars in prizes were drawn for or bid on.

Mrs. Barbara Alston won the big prize, a real live pony. It was not learned how Mrs. Alston got the pony off the stage and home. Donald Davis of Louisburg won the recliner chair, which was the other door prize.

Clyde Gupton won the used automobile as a bonus when he bid nearest the retail price of an assortment of automobile accessories. Mrs. Allen Thar-lington won an expensive living room suite and Phyllis Jeffreys won a radio and a bonus of a ladies pipe.

The vacations to Carolina Beach were won by Thurston Allen, including free bus tickets there and back and Walton Hayes, who won a dozen sport shirts as his bonus. Mrs. C. J. Pruitt won a modern dinette suite and Mrs. Robert Goswick won a diamond ring.

On the lighter side, Mrs. Paul Stewart won a coop of bantam roosters and Daly Phillips won a real live pig. Harvey Strother, whose hair is thinning won an assortment of hair oils and Joe Shearin, the rescuer handing them out, was lucky enough to have his young son win a dog.

Hospital Gets New Blood Bank

Franklin Memorial Hospital has recently installed the latest in a new Blood Bank unit. "We are fortunate to have this modern equipment in our hospital," said A. G. Mashburn, Chief Technician.

The unit is a controlled temperature refrigerator type, insulated structure. It has an automatic recording device which records the temperature on a paper disc for 24 hours, seven days on a single disc. These discs can be stored for a permanent record.

A two light alarm system is also included, which will sound an alarm at any time the temperature is affected or the current goes off. The unit is one recommended by the Medical Care Commission and is the latest on the market. It will keep blood stored for 21 days, the maximum allowed by State health authorities.
