

Cottens Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard F. Cotten were honored Sunday afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock by their two daughters, Mrs. Alfred M. Goodwin and Mrs. Hollis W. Huston, at the Goodwin residence in Stem. The occasion was in observance of the 50th Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Cotten who were married October 4, 1914.

Mrs. F. E. White, Jr., greeted the guests and introduced them to the receiving line consisting of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Cotten, honor guests; Mrs. Hollis W. Huston, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cotten, nephew, Charlotte, N. C.; Mrs. John B. Parker, cousin, Spencer; Mrs. N. M. Seymore, Jr., Elizabeth City, great niece; Mr. R. L. Cotten, Jr., Wilson, great nephew.

The entire house was decorated with gold and yellow arrangements.

Mantels in the living and dining room were flanked with fall flowers carrying out the idea of the golden anniversary. The dining table was spread with a white taffeta cloth overlaid with white net. The center arrangement of yellow roses in a crystal bowl was flanked by tapers burning in two seven-branched brass candelabra. Punch was served from a crystal bowl.

On the dining table there was a four-tiered cake topped with golden bells and a gold 50. Refreshments carried out the golden wedding theme. Individual cakes with gold rings and bells, cheese straws, nuts and mints were served from crystal trays and dishes.

Mrs. T. Morgan Daniel invited the guests from the receiving line into the dining room where Mrs. W. B. Jones and Mrs. C. O. Peed presided.

Mrs. Joe Gooch invited guests to register in the hall where Mrs. G. Reid Whitfield presided at the guest register. Mrs. W. M. Nobles directed the guests to the family room where goodbyes were said to Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Vickers. The Goodwin grandchildren, Leonard and Carol, helped extend welcomes throughout the house.

Americanism Discussed At A.L.A.

"Americanism" was the subject for the program at the meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Friday evening as it met with Mrs. James Johnson on the Raleigh Road.

Following the opening formalities led by Mrs. Hugh Perry, president, and devotion by Mrs. John Stovall, chaplain, the group sang "America" accompanied by Miss Beth Johnson at the organ.

Mrs. James Johnson read "A Salute to the Flag," after which a brief history of "The Star Spangled Banner" was read by Miss Elizabeth Johnson. Mrs. Hugh Perry reviewed methods of displaying and using the flag.

Mrs. Vernon Stone read the minutes of the prior meeting and received dues for the coming year.

Mrs. Johnson served brownies topped with ice cream and chocolate sauce, and coffee to ten members.

Dog Saves Child

Portland, Ore.--A 10-month old German shepherd saved the life of a three-year-old when she toddled onto the street. The dog dashed out in the street, grabbed Christine Murphy by the seat of her pants and pulled her back to the curb.

Women Make Headway In Man's World

Greenville -- School superintendents and the more recent assistant superintendents in North Carolina? Traditionally they are positions for men. But it's not always like that. At least not any more.

Ask folks who know school administrative personnel in Greenville and in Franklin County. They'll report the first two female intruders into the realm of North Carolina assistant superintendents.

Holding their own alone are Mrs. Ellen Lewis Carroll, a Farmville native, who is assistant to Supt. J. H. Rose of the Greenville City Schools, and Mrs. Margaret Williams Holmes, assistant to Supt. Warren W. Smith of the Franklin County Schools.

Both alumnae of East Carolina College here, the two women are charged with the responsibility of implementing activities which will improve the entire public educational program for elementary and high school children in the schools of their respective administrative units.

In addition, each supervises teacher certification and renewal and teacher placement in the correct field of preparation; plans and writes courses of study with teacher assistance; helps principals and teachers with schedules; and directs school evaluation programs.

Mrs. Carroll helps enroll new children in the Greenville system, receives applications from and interviews new teachers, coordinates services of various agencies and sets up tutoring services for students and summer kindergartens for Negro children.

Other duties for Mrs. Holmes include direction of programs for the supervisory staff, speech therapists and three special education teachers. She plans and directs a county-wide testing program, a vocational education program and two introduction - to - vocation programs.

Formerly a director of instruction in the Greenville Schools for seven years, Mrs. Carroll served as an instructor in education at her alma mater from 1947 to 1956. She holds both the BS and MA degrees from East Carolina.

The daughter of the late James Thomas and Nancy Yelverton Lewis, she has two children--J. Vann Carroll, a chemical engineer with Union Carbide in Charleston, W. Va., and Nancy Jane Carroll, high school English teacher in Burlington.

Mrs. Holmes, a supervisor for 10 years in the Franklin County Schools, was appointed interim superintendent in 1963 to fill the unexpired term of the late Wiley F. Mitchell. She before accepting the assistant post when the Franklin Board of Education appointed Warren W. Smith superintendent.

She has also had experience as a sixth grade teacher at the Harris School in Louisburg.

She was awarded both the BA and MA degrees from East Carolina and has studied at Duke University and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. She is currently president of Xi Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma Society International.

The daughter of Mrs. Harriett J. Williams of Rt. 2, Zebulon, and the late W. H. Williams, she is married to Carter B. Holmes. Her sister is Mrs. Aileen W. Walters of Pine Level and her brother is J. E. Williams of Rt. 4, Louisburg.

At St. Paul's Discipleship Is Studied

Mrs. Douglas House presented the first of a series of programs on "Discipleship" at the October meeting of St. Paul's Episcopal Churchwomen held Monday evening at 7:30 in the Parish House.

Based on a study of the four Gospels and conducted as study sessions, these programs give everyone an opportunity to participate. This first program laid the foundation for the several sessions to follow.

An introductory devotional period was conducted by Mrs. M. S. Clifton.

Reports of the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. C. Willie Strother, were heard. Reports were also given by chairmen of different departments: Mrs. R. W. Smithwick, Supply; Mrs.

W. J. Smith, Sr., United Thank Offering; Mrs. Harold J. Lewis, Church Periodical Club.

A business session, including announcements, preceded the program.

College Art Center Has Display

Six water color paintings in the series, "Along the Natchez Trail" and ten Kolorstats of the 175th Anniversary of Methodism will be on display in the gallery of the Louisburg College Fine Arts Center October 1-30.

These paintings were used as illustrations for articles in "Together" magazine, a Methodist publication.

Gallery hours are 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m., 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. daily except Saturday, Sunday, 3:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Entertains Bridge Club

Mrs. J. Leon Nelms was hostess to her bridge club on Tuesday night with the following members playing: Mesdames G. M. Beam, Jr., M. M. Person, Jr., Warren Smith, E. F. Yarborough, Umphrey Lee, Collin McKinne, Douglas T. House and Betsy S. Lavender.

During the play the hostess served Cokes and snacks.

Following three progressions, high score prize was presented to Mrs. Lee while the consolation prize went to Mrs. House.

A delicious dessert course of chocolate pie, salted nuts and coffee was served by the hostess.

Have you been to the fair yet? Seems that several of the county schools have good exhibits that are well worth your time to visit. Reports from those who have been say it's really different this year.

Larry Tippett is planning a trip to Kinston this weekend. Have a good time, Larry. Don't forget the way back.

Ann Brown was seen in Louisburg this week. Ann has been in school in New York. Nice seeing you again, Ann.

Kathi Kannon left Wednesday for New York to attend her brother's wedding. Have a nice trip, Kathi.

Anna Rose Cash and Tracey Winn have been sick recently. Hope that they will soon be able to return to school.

Louisburg High School has begun organizing a dance band. This should really prove to be interesting. They are planning to play for the Harvest Festival. Good luck to them!

The Louisburg majorettes have their new uniforms and are planning to wear them for the first time at the homecoming game on October 16. Everyone be sure to come and see them.

Everyone is getting excited about being out of school on Tuesday. This means that we will have a free-day to go to the State Fair. I am sure that all the teens in the county are making their plans to attend. Special thanks to the officials who planned this teachers' meeting for the same time as the fair. It is a real break for us.
