Poppies To Honor Half-Million Dead

By wearing memorial poppies on Poppy Day, May 29, people will be paying tribute to 500,000 men who gave their lives for America in the three wars of this century, said Mrs. Hugh W. Perry, President of Louisville Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, as the Unit prepared for the annual observance of Poppy Day here. Nearly one million were wounded in the three wars, said Mrs. Perry, quoting from statistics of record.

"Wearing a poppy on Poppy Day shows that we remember and are grateful for the sacrifices made to keep America alive and free."

"We are hoping for generous contributions on Poppy Day," continued Mrs. Perry, "because we have constant need for funds in the Auxiliary's work for veterans and children. Many of our Veterans are getting old and require special help. Children found in need must have emergency aid until permanent support can be provided for them. The poppy funds, administered by experienced volunteers, go far to solve the problems we are constantly encountering. I do know how we could carry on our work of mercy without these funds. This is the only public assistance requested by the Auxiliary each year, and we urge your generous support."
