

Bessie McGhee Circle Meets

(Frk. B.W.) The Bessie Moore McGhee of the Franklinton Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. Raymond Harris on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Kenneth Wooten was in charge of the program. "The Home Relating to World's Mission," Mrs. Julia Carr, Mrs. H. A. McGhee, Mrs. C. Ray Pruette and Mrs. Harris assisted with the presentation of the program.

Mrs. Vance Estes presided over the business session at which time plans were made to assist a needy family. A Study Course for Tuesday, June 22, was announced.

During the social hour, the hostess served a salad plate and coffee.

Not Particular

"Would you come to my aid in distress, soldier?" "Honey, I'd come to you in any old dress."

Eventually!

I saw you coming out of a saloon last night late. Well, I had to come out sometime.

Richard Chamberlain, baby in arms, joins wife Yvette Mimieux as they prepare to drive away to a new life in a scene from "Joy in the Morning." The heart-warming story of the struggles of a young couple to make their marriage a success is based on Betty Smith's best-selling novel. Arthur Kennedy and Oscar Homolka co-star in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer attraction.

Baptist Circles Meet

The Margaret Tomlinson Circle met Monday evening at 7:45 with Mrs. James Strickland at her home on Noble Street. The program was entitled "The Home Relating to World Missions" with topics on the family learning, vacationing, giving and praying together. Those participating on the program were Mrs. Owen Debnam, Mrs. Darrell Leonard and Mrs. Ralph Knott. Mrs. Debnam closed the program with a prayer.

The chairman, Mrs. Debnam, presided over a short business session. Mrs. Leonard, the Stewardship Chairman, asked the members of the circle to have their Heck Jones offering in by the last of the month. This is to help in promoting W.M.U. work.

During the social hour the hostess served delightful refreshments to ten members.

The Kenmore Circle met Monday evening at 7:30 with Mrs. Lee Bunn. Mrs. N. C. Mullen opened the meeting with a scripture reading followed by prayer. Following a short business meeting, Mrs. Kenneth Collier presented the program on the subject "The Home--Relating To World Missions."

The hostess served punch, nuts and cookies to the following members: Mrs. G. O. Kennedy, Mrs. N. C. Mullen, Mrs. James Allen, Mrs. Kenneth Collier, Mrs. Jones Wheeler and Mrs. George Dennis.

The meeting was closed with a prayer by Mrs. Kennedy.
