

Taylor-Blaylock

tered with an arrangement of mixed white flowers. After the tiered wedding cake was cut by the bride and groom, guests were served delicious refreshments of punch, ham biscuits, canapes, wedding cake, mints and nuts from buffet tables.

After Rehearsal Party

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Taylor, parents of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Parrish, aunt and uncle of the groom, entertained the bridal couple, members of their wedding party and out-of-town guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Parrish, Hampton, Va.

Magnolias and white candles were placed at vantage points in the living room. Guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. George Davis of Newport News and directed to the dining room where the bride's table was covered with a pink cloth overlaid with net and centered with an arrangement of white daisies, pink carnations and candles. The buffet featured a miniature arrangement of a bride and groom and wedding ring flanked by evergreen and burning pink candles. Punch was poured by Mrs. W. A. Parrish and she was assisted by Mrs. Bettie Lovin, Mrs. Rachel Taylor, Mrs. C. R. Parrish and Mrs. Edwin Parrish, all aunts of the groom, who served decorated bridal cakes, cheese straws, chicken salad and pimento canapes, nuts and mints.

Goodbyes were said by Mr. and Mrs. Max Parrish of Durham, aunt and uncle of the groom.

"Until a few years ago, I had done all my curing with wood and oil-burning curers. Then I tried Gastobac, and I learned that clean-burning Gastobac Curers, using L.P. Gas, put more dollars into my pockets. I get better quality and more weight from tobacco cured in Gastobac equipped barns."

"As a tobacco grower and a tobacco warehouse operator where I see tobacco that has been cured by all kinds of curers auctioned off day by day, I have been impressed by one fact: tobacco cured with clean-burning, automatic Gastobac curers always brings the high dollar."

"Let me pass on this hint to all farmers who are looking for the surest method of curing tobacco for high-dollar results: Equip your barns with Gastobac Tobacco Curers and be assured that your tobacco is being cured the best way."
