GRASSROOTS OPINION

TOWANDA, PA., REVIEW: "There's plenty of tax money available for 'building bridges of understanding' with Communist dictatorships in Russia and Eastern Europe; but existing bridges of trade and commerce are closed to honest, hard working private citizens in our own hemisphere. Our respectful and respectable Mexican neighbors are not free to come across the border to help themselves by helping us. It's almost as though Uncle Sam is saying to the world: 'Free-loaders, SI! Workers, no!'"

Each year, state and local governments use nearly half-a-million tons of a chemical called calcium chloride. It is used for stopping dust on unpaved roads, and for making slick streets safe in winter. By preventing dust, this "thirsty" chemical makes rural driving safer.

Chicago Fire

NEW YORK--The great Chicago fire, which occurred Oct. 8-10, 1871, destroyed 17,450 buildings and did an estimated $175 million in damage, according to the Insurance Information Institute.

Summer dust is a problem on long gravel driveways as well as on unpaved roads. The road problem belongs to your local highway department. But you can do something about a dusty driveway. Treat the surface with calcium chloride--the same material used on local roads--to end the dust nuisance in your own front yard.

In Fashion Now

White linen in suits spells springtime. Many of the printed linen dresses have full-length coats of solid color.

Pique, which was used for dresses, heretofore, fashions some of the smartest spring suits. They come in color, as well as black and white.

Some of the cottons are really lovely. Colors are clear and the garments are washable.

My dear Friends:

I trust you will consider this a personal letter to you and that you will understand that the cost of individual letters to all my fellow citizens is prohibitive. Please allow me to take this means of saying a few words to you which I might not otherwise have the opportunity of doing.

While serving the people of Warren County during the 1965 Regular Session and the two subsequent Sessions of the North Carolina General Assembly, I gained valuable experience and feel that my people have an investment in that experience. I shall use it to the very best advantage in representing all the citizens of our district in the future.

I believe your neighbors in Warren feel that I have served them with dignity and distinction and I offer you good people of Franklin and Vance the same type representation. My interest in you is personal and I have a strong conviction that the office which I hold belongs to you. This is always uppermost in my thinking as I go about the task of speaking your convictions in the Legislative Halls, of presenting your problems in the proper manner, and in service to individuals who seek help.

You will find the doors of my office, both in Raleigh and in Warrenton, always open to you and that I am easily available and ready to listen. I know that the mark of a good Representative is made only by keeping open the lines of communication among the people he represents, thereby knowing their thinking and speaking for them.

The principles we believe in, the good government we want for ourselves and for our children, the wholesome life and great opportunities which we so strongly desire are constantly under attack by those who would destroy our way of life. We must maintain these jewels of American Democracy and we can do this only through proper representation. You have my solemn pledge to always stand for what is right, good, and beneficial.

On this basis alone I ask for your support. If this is what you believe in, then I am ready to serve. May I count on you?

Cordially yours,

Wilton R. Drake
